Improvements in Lewisburg.

In making our annual tour to put on record the visible changes in our beautiful town for the year past, we are greatly surprised to see that—amid the peril, excitement and waste of War—with two hundred of our most able-bodied, enterprising men, absent, fighting for the country—our citizens left at home have not been idle. Quite an amount of new pavement has been laid—the Boat Yard, and both Foundries, have made additions to their facilities, indicating an enlargement of business—and in very many yards and dwellings were pleasing proofs of an increased cultivation of fruits and flowers, to make "home" not only more profitable, but attractive also, and to verify the exclamation of the Poet—

"Domestic Happiness! show only bliss
That had survived the Fall!"

Our institutions of learning—which are almost entirely broken up in the States where Sedition riots—suffer little from the national troubles. Our churches are still well sustained, and while the existing strife hardens the hearts of some, others are led by it to help divine for aid and consolation. Rev. Mr. Brown, of the Protestant Episcopal church, having settled with us, affords another opportunity for a choice in forms of worship.

The prominent new or remodelled buildings we believe are comprised in the following list:

On N. 1st St., ex-Sheriff Crossgrove has covered, finished, and enlarged the log frame late of Wm. Wallis. The burnt building, Market Square, is rebuilt, and well occupied by E. L. Mowry (the best Daguerrian artist in Central Pennsylvania) and by John Squires' Boot and Shoe emporium.

On N. 5th St. is the new frame dwelling of Mrs. Dreishbach.

In Linville, Mrs. Kaler has put up a frame dwelling.

Mr. Volkmar, on S. 6th St. has fitted up a printing-office, whence he issues the Springtown Zeitung, (the best German paper, in print and editorial industry and ability, in Central Pennsylvania.)

Fronting the Female Institute, Samuel H. Orwig, Esq., has erected a superior two-story brick dwelling.

On S. 5th St., the industrious shoemaker, James M. Mowrey, has erected a two-story brick dwelling.

On S. 4th St., looms up the large brick Public School building, intended to be some improvement upon that in the North Ward.

On S. 2d St., Stephen D. Chappell is renovating the old Dr. Byers' corner—and Carpenter John Miller is making a two-story addition to the south side of his dwelling.

From year to year, we witness the growing industry, neatness and good taste displayed in and around many humble dwellings, where daily labor, well disposed, makes happy homes as time and earth can afford. In some, however, there are proofs of carelessness, indolence, or waste—while others, we know, are saddened and suffering on account of the absence of those natural protectors, gone for the protection of their and our dearest rights and best interests. Remember the Soldiers' Families! And may Heaven bring all the absent back, safe and victorious, long before another Autumn shall roll around!

Mr. Stahl, Lewisburg Bookbinder, has returned from his annual itinerancy elsewhere, and ready for work in his line.

The VARIETY of useful producers in a place, each one increasing business and not merely dividing the trade of a place, is what builds up and benefits. Hence the expediency of sustaining such enterprises as those of Mr. Volkmar and Mr. Stahl, whose receipts are not at the expense of other citizens'.

The Merchants of Lewisburg seem to be laying in and selling off Goods just as if they never heard of "Hard Times." And the stream of Farmers hauling in their Grain shows them on the look-out for present good prices.

Excepting an Oriental rapidity of delivery which prevented many words from being understood, Mong Shaw Loo's lecture last Saturday evening was extremely interesting. Should he deliver it again before the close of the season, we think most who heard it once would take along a friend or two.

Our Congressional Delegation now seems to be divided—1 maj. on joint ballot in Legislature for Democrats of various shades—and a bare majority for Barr and Sleaker. Two of their Assembly, each 7 maj. only. We shall probably have the Official in our next.

Conrad Shekier, Esq., near Farmerville, Union county, has shown how easily the finer fruits can be raised in this region. He had about 150 bushels of the Catawba grape, which will make ten bbls. of the "pure juice" wine.

Tracks of the stolen horse advertised in another column, were seen (as was thought) towards the mountain north of New Berlin. Horse thieves are about!

Gov. Wise is reported marching on Yorktown with 20,000 conscripts.

A FRIENDLY WORD

To our Political Brethren in Juniata County.

We have found no more kind or intelligent people than those we have met—socially or politically—in Juniata county. Their short Trial Lists evidence a peaceful and moral community. Only in partisan matters, do we find ought to detract from their general reputation as most exemplary citizens. Were they a separate district in all respects, their domestic dissensions and fierce vituperations would be of less consequence, and should be left—"family quarrels"—to be settled among themselves. But connected, as they are, with other counties, those variances are necessarily felt beyond their own bounds. They seriously affected the recent election. One unhappy result is thus expressed by the last Sentinel, the Republican Union organ of Juniata:

"The Republicans of this county, through a family quarrel, may congratulate themselves on sending a Breckinridge to Congress."

That is a frank confession. While the District elects 4 Rep. to 1 Dem. Assemblyman, and gives 200 to 300 maj for the Union State Ticket, our candidate for Congress is defeated by reason of the alienations among political friends of his own county, of Juniata. We do not undertake to decide between these contestants. We neither know nor care what their personal grievances are. Our only object is to suggest, with the best of motives, a remedy that may hereafter be effectual.

For twenty years past, united with Union as Juniata has been, it seems to have been regarded that a nomination in the latter, confirmed by the former, was equivalent to an election. Hence the great, absorbing strife has been, in Juniata, to obtain a nomination for the State or National Legislature, by a majority of the delegates. It is alleged—we know not how truly—that, often, undue and unreasonable if not fraudulent and corrupt means are resorted to, to obtain the majority of a convention, trusting to the delegates. WELL SAID.—The Annual Letter from the Shamokin Baptist Church to the Northumberland Association, expresses views in a manner consistent with all the history of a denomination ever foremost in the cause of civil and religious liberty:

"Some from the church and Sunday School, and many from the neighborhood, have gone to rescue the country's flag from those who would trample upon it. As Christians, we deprecate war, with its untold calamities, as a choice between two evils. If successful, the traitors would bring woe and shame upon us and every succeeding generation. He is neither a patriot nor a Christian, who, in this dark hour, is not willing to contribute his last dollar, and his blood, if need be, to rescue our country, and transmit it to posterity, pure, and animated with the immortal principles of Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence."

It is well understood that the President's recent visit to McClellan's camp was to urge faster movements. Gen. Burnside, it is now said, will be entrusted with a larger command.

McClellan is crossing the Potomac.

As far as heard from the Rebels express gratification over the recent apparent Democratic gains in the Border States.

Removal of Buell.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.

Gen. Buell has been relieved of the command which he has proved himself incapable of wielding, a fact which will rejoice the loyal North, not only because of its effect upon our military prospect in one department, but because it will be regarded as indicative of a purpose on the part of the Administration to do justice henceforward without fear or favor in respect of individual Generals, and to conduct the war solely to the end of victory, using those means to that end which are indispensable to military success, without regard to the wishes of partisans. We are assured, both by natives of the State, hitherto favorable to him, who have just arrived here, and by army correspondents fresh from Louisville, that Kentucky, whose influence for a moment overbore Ohio and Indiana, is converted from the error of her ways, and joins his soldiers, whom he has led everywhere but to battle, in begging that Buell be superseded by somebody who knows how to bring the enemy to a fight and to beat him.

That Gen. ROSSMANS, who succeeds Gen. Buell, is such a man no one need be told. His victory at Corinth proved to the popular apprehension, what was known in the army before, that he possesses those qualities which conduct to success in the field.

READ!—The Rebel tour into Pennsylvania was conducted by traitors who led them to the houses of Unionists, whose property only or at least principally, was taken. The Democrats escaped with very little damage. This could not have all been accidental. (Frank Hughes said in one of his diatribes that he would meet his Southern brethren with 200,000 Pennsylvania!) An alarm was kept up of another invasion along the line, causing many Unionists to leave home, and to be on the watch, and to alarm others—the Democrats all the while, working and voting—so that by these well-timed, concerted actions between the Rebels and the Hughesites along the line, some say, the Unionists lose a Congressman, Senator, and two Assemblymen: for the blow was struck at the heart of the Union strength.

The Rebels burned the Depot at Chambersburg, with thousands of dollars worth of public and private property, and took thousands upon thousands more, in horses, money and things most needed—then hastened away, snapping their fingers at the 150,000 men, under "Young Napoleon," whose army they surrounded, keeping "just ahead" of all the Union forces sent after them!

The Manchester American is responsible for the following: "A friend who witnessed the battle of Antietam, and remained in that region for some days attending to the wounded, states that he found a Georgian conscript on the field, mortally wounded. His only clothing was a shirt torn in shreds, and a pair of trousers out at the knees and seat. The kind attention he received at our hands, caused him to give his name and some interesting particulars. 'I am,' said the wounded man, 'a Georgian by birth. I sold my cotton in 1860 for $5,200. I have a wife and four children at home. I am a Union man. They pressed me into the army. I am dying. I have never fired a gun at the stars and stripes.'"

There was some lusty swearing to be heard here at Middleburg, on Tuesday last. Men from Chapman and Perry townships, who had been induced to vote the Copperhead ticket with the assurance that they would positively not be drafted, when they found themselves sold, swore, with uplifted hands, that under no circumstances, as long as grass grew or water ran down hill, could they be induced to vote another loaf-cake ticket, no matter how it was white-washed with pretences of loyalty.—Tribune.

The emancipation Proclamation is producing great alarm throughout Rebeldom. Gen. Prentiss, and other returned captives, say that it has rejoiced all true Union men, both of Republican and Democratic antecedents, and the Rebels confess, in candor, that it is the hardest blow they have yet received.

Memphis, Oct. 21.—The Grenada Appeal of the 16th inst., has a report of the capture and occupation by the United States forces of an island in Galveston Bay. Also Sabine City.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN PENNSYLVANIA.

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—A. G. Curtin, Governor—A PROCLAMATION: Whereas, it is a good thing to render thanks unto God for all his mercy and loving kindness, therefore

I, Andrew G. Curtin, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do recommend that Thursday, the 27th day of November next, be set apart by the people of this Commonwealth as a day of solemn prayer and thanksgiving to the Almighty; giving Him humble thanks that He has been graciously pleased to protect our free institutions and Government, and to keep us from sickness and pestilence; and to cause the earth to bring forth her increase, so that our garner are choked with the harvest, and to look so favorably on the toil of His children that industry has thriven among us and labor has its reward; and also, that He has delivered us from the hands of our enemies, and filled our officers and men in the field with a loyal and intrepid spirit, and given them victory; and that He has poured out upon us (albeit unworthy) other great and manifold blessings. Respecting Him to help and govern us in His steadfast fear and love, and put into our minds good desires, so that by His continual help we may have a right judgment in all things; and especially praying Him to give to Christian Churches grace to hate the thing which is evil, and to utter the teachings of truth and righteousness, declaring openly the whole counsel of God; and most heartily entreating Him to bestow upon our civil rulers wisdom and earnestness in council, and upon our military leaders zeal and vigor in action, that the fires of rebellion may be quenched—that we, being armed with His defense, may be preserved from all perils, and that hereafter our people, living in peace and quietness, may, from generation to generation, reap the abundant fruits of His mercy, and with joy and thankfulness praise and magnify His holy name.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this 20th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1862, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-seventh.

ANDREW G. CURTIN.
By the Governor: E. L. STAUFFER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Strike Fast and Hard.

It behoves the Administration to make blows fall rapidly on the head of the Rebellion, from this time until it is crushed. Energy, vigor, determination, can, with the magnificent army we are now sending to the field, finish it in six months. The soldiers dread inactivity; they want the war finished, in order that they may return to their homes and families. Letters from them already complain, and indicate that they do not desire another winter in quarters. The time has now come for a display of the greatest energy on the part of the Government. Conciliation with its enemies is time wasted, blood shed and treasure expended uselessly. Let it put its foot on all lukewarmness among Officers in the army. If they fail to come up to the mark, remove them, and put better men in their places. The Administration must come up, in the energetic prosecution of the war, with all the means in its power, and thus end it after a brief, decisive struggle, or we much fear it will see many who now adhere to it, dropping away, and becoming lukewarm and indifferent. Father Abraham! in the name of God, your country, and human liberty, STRIKE in this great cause, fast and hard, and unborn millions will revere your name next to that of Washington!

THE RESULT.—Taking into consideration the tens of thousands of Republican and loyal Democrats in the army, the President has been triumphantly sustained. Our candidate for Congress, Col. Patterson, is defeated. This is owing to a large number of Union voters absent in the army, and the flagrant and rascally falsehoods circulated by Bill Miller and his friends. Promises were made, and assurances given, that, if the people elected Miller, they would not be drafted—have no taxes to pay—he could stop the war with one drop of ink—and all that kind of stuff, which misled many of the ignorant. Well, they have elected their man: how soon the war will stop, remains to be seen.—Middleburg Tribune.

There was some lusty swearing to be heard here at Middleburg, on Tuesday last. Men from Chapman and Perry townships, who had been induced to vote the Copperhead ticket with the assurance that they would positively not be drafted, when they found themselves sold, swore, with uplifted hands, that under no circumstances, as long as grass grew or water ran down hill, could they be induced to vote another loaf-cake ticket, no matter how it was white-washed with pretences of loyalty.—Tribune.

An Awful Evil.

In sending boxes or packages to soldiers, their friends should remember that Government has felt compelled to place Inspectors in Express Offices at Washington, Alexandria, Georgetown, Baltimore, and all offices near the army, who open and inspect each box or package, and when found to contain Liquor of any kind—even one bottle—they seize and confiscate the entire contents. Attention to this matter will prevent the loss to soldiers of articles which would be useful to them. Liquor is the bane of the army. It kills thousands of soldiers—and drunkenness of officers has cost us many battles. The Government should contrive some way to keep "the devil's broth" away from the officers as well as the men—cut away the roots as well as the branches of the deadly tree of evil.

The Rebels allow little drinking. That may be the result of poverty—and, if so, poverty certainly has no good effect, for very few (especially in camps) can use liquor moderately.

Gen. Hacketman's Last Words.

This brave and accomplished Officer—over twenty years a Whig and Republican editor in Indiana—fell leading his Union troops to victory in one of the late bloody battles in Kentucky. Writing to a friend just before his death, Gen. Hacketman uttered the following impressive, truthful, we hope prophetic words:

"Many good men must go under in this contest. The great question is, Who will be left? It is indeed a dark hour, but you know me, and know that I always looked on the bright side of all pictures. I have faith in God, wicked as I am—faith that He is working out His own good will and pleasure, with fire and sword. All will come right. The right man will be found in the right place—traitors in our army, and sympathizers with treason in it, will be weeded out by and by, when the Government finds it has to make a terrible struggle to preserve its existence. The days of holiday war are over—it has become a deadly strife."

New York Politics.

James Brooks lately made a speech before the "Young Men's Democratic Association" of New York, which has been hailed with enthusiasm in Charleston, S. C. (the cradle of the Slaveholders' Rebellion) and reprinted there as a sign of hope and promise to the Rebels. This shows discernment and appreciation of good office on the part of the traitors. We do not wonder that Jim's speeches are enjoyed in Charleston; we are only surprised that they should be delivered in New York.

"I don't want to hear any speeches," said a New York merchant recently to a friend who urged him to attend a political meeting: "I know already that every man of my acquaintance who sympathizes with the Rebels is for Seymour, and that is enough. I shall vote for Wadsworth."

Gerrit Smith, who has never supported a Republican for office, has come out in a long and characteristic letter, announcing his intention to support Mr. Wadsworth for Governor.

George W. Clinton, son of Gov. De Witt Clinton, opposes Seymour, and stands by the Administration and the candidates who represent it. That is the position of true Democrats.

The only hope of the Seymourites is the absence of the Volunteers. That did not save the Democracy in educated New England, nor in the wide-awake countries west of the Mississippi. The Unionists who vote in November do not intend to be "caught napping" as were their friends in the Central Border States.

Wm. Metcalf, who for forty-five years was a prominent and well-known resident of Philadelphia, died last Thursday evening in the 75th year of his age. The deceased was both a clergyman and homoeopathic physician. He was one of the "Vegetarians." By his exertions he built the best church edifice known as the "First Christian Church," and was its pastor up to the day of his death. The deceased celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination on Sunday, August 11, 1861, and officiated up to the 12th.

Gen. McClellan has expressed the wish that the provost marshals will return to their respective regiments all the straggling officers they can pick up. Over two thousand of these worthies are absent without leave.

Judge Grier is one of the hundreds of Democrats who this year for the first time voted against the mis-named "Democratic ticket."

It is an old proverb that "boys will be boys." What a pity 'tis equally true that men will be men!

Major General Sumner entered the army as a private, and rose through all ranks to the highest.

The Rebels were recently badly defeated at Maysville, in N. W. Arkansas, and pursued by Gen. Blunt.

Mr. Burgess, School Superintendent of Columbia county, was drafted, but is declared exempt.

Mr. Boyer, Prothonotary, and Mr. Gift, Coroner, of Snyder county, have been drafted, and gone into service.

An exchange says that if you want a kind of money that will stick to you in trouble, use postage stamps.
