UNION COUNTY STAR AND LEWISBURG CHRONICLE.

BY O. N. WORDEN AND J. R. CORNELIUS.

At $1.50 per Year, always in Advance.

LEWISBURG, UNION CO., PA., FRIDAY, FEB. 6, 1863.

"THE UNION," established in 1811---Whole No., 2,603.

"CHRONICLE," established in 1843---Whole No., 982.

PUBLISHED SEMI-WEEKLY---

Tuesday Morning & Friday Afternoon.

☞ To-morrow at 10 o'clock, the Buffalo House will be offered at Sheriff's sale.

☞ Capt. J. Merrill Linn is on a flying visit home. He leaves to-night to join his company near Fredericksburg.

☞ Jacob Bingaman of Hartley township, drum major of the 52d P. V., has reached this place on his way home, discharged on account of physical disability.

☞ We notice Dr. George Lotz of New Berlin, is here on a visit from the Army, and is in good condition.....Capt. Roush, we learn, is honorably discharged, his wound still rendering him unfit for service.

☞ The remains of Com. Buchanan, who was recently killed in an action near New Orleans, were brought to Bellefonte on Sunday last, and buried on Monday.

☞ The citizens of several districts in Mifflin county have called a meeting at M'Veytown, on the 11th inst., to discuss the merits of local home manufacture, and to consider the propriety of forming a linen company, and erecting a factory to manufacture flax. An example worthy of imitation.

☞ The Legislatures of several States, including Pennsylvania, have passed resolutions instructing the Representatives in Congress to repeal the duty on paper, or reduce it to such a standard that paper makers can not extort unreasonable prices for it. This matter interests not only the people generally, but, should prices continue to rise, a large falling off in postal revenue would be the result.

☞ Since inserting the notice of the wanton murder in Berwick, (in our last issue) we are gratified to learn that the authorities of Columbia county have offered a reward for the apprehension of the desperate malefactor. This is as it should be. The life, liberty, and property of the humblest member of society ought to be held as sacred as that of the most powerful or popular.

☞ The bill allowing the President to employ Blacks at the South in the preservation of the Union—thereby saving the labor and the lives of the Whites—passed the lower House of Congress by 29 majority. All the Democrats, part of the Border State Unionists, and 5 Republicans voted against the measure. It will pass the Senate, and hundreds of the youth of Pennsylvania, and other Free States, will be preserved by a faithful and fair execution of the law.

☞ Walter M'Indoe, U. S. Marshal, who made the "arbitrary arrests" which make traitors howl in such doleful concert, is elected to Congress, from Wisconsin, by 2,700 majority. He supplies a vacancy made by death. The people have no serious objection to the "arbitrary arrests" of traitors, when they send to Congress the men who make the arrests! (Mahoney, one of the men "arrested," ran for Congress in Iowa, and was defeated to the tune of 1,000. The masses can discriminate, and if an innocent man should suffer they would not therefore suppose the arrest was an intentional wrong; but in times of war and excitement the innocent too often suffer with the guilty.

☞ Charles Stuart, who has been lying in jail at this place since the beginning of December, for stealing oxen, at Cogan station, Lycoming county, got tired of his situation, and last Monday attempted to make a change. He succeeded, unobserved, in sawing out a window bar, leaving space enough to pass through, and with a few vigorous kicks, sent the wire screen "kiting" when he crawled out, and began to "double quick it for the rural regions. Occurring just before dinner time, his operations were soon discovered, and scouts sent out to capture him. He was overtaken in the neighborhood of Martin D. Reed, in East Buffalo, brought back, and lodged in his old quarters, the whole performance not occupying more than four or five hours. The Sheriff on his return, ornamented him with a sett of bracelets which are more massive than elegant.

☞ The Teachers' Institute, which met at this place last week, was conducted in a manner creditable to the gentlemen and ladies in attendance. Out of 81 teachers in the county, 35 were present. Resolutions were unanimously adopted expressing thanks to their Creator for life and health, and permission to hold another meeting. Sanctioning the meeting of the Institute before the examination of teachers. Approving of the course of their Superintendent, (Mr. Heckendorn) and hoping to see him re-elected. Sympathising with Capt. Owens in consequence of his physical disability. Regretting the absence of so many fellow teachers. Thanks for the use of the rooms in which they held their meetings. Appreciating the warm sympathies of the speakers. Thanks to the Band for their music, to the citizens of Lewisburg for their kind hospitality, &c. The Institute adjourned to meet again in Mifflinburg at the call of the Executive Committee.

☞ It appears by his card, that Mr. Boileau did not write the foul and treasonable articles for which he was apprehended. Some sneaking traitors palmed them upon him. It is therefore evident that there is in Philadelphia a secret cabal of writers, in the interest of Jeff Davis, using the press to poison the public mind. But, since Mr. B. refuses to suffer for the sins of others, the ingrates turn against him, and accuse him—they being unknown to the public—of "cowardice!" We think it is the highest moral courage for a man to stop wrong-doing, and to cast off men who seek his ruin and the country's overthrow! The Harrisburg Patriot says Boileau may now edit his paper to suit himself! They abandon him, because he exposes their crimes, issued through his columns without his knowledge, and because he avows himself fully for the Union, and against the Rebellion—a character which does not suit the leaders of the sham Democracy who are trying to mislead the honest masses in our State.

CONTINENTAL MONEY—the "greenbacks" of '79—were issued, to the amount of Two Hundred Millions of Dollars, in four years. In 1780, forty dollars were worth but one of silver; in 1781, they ceased to be valued. But they had helped gain our Liberty.....Gaines (Tory) New York Mercury advertised counterfeits of them "for the price of the paper per ream," and said they passed as well as the genuine.....Unless our Government is honestly sustained, the people will lose untold Millions of money, and the North will be degraded nearly as low as the South.....Interest and patriotism are combined to aid the Administration.

KENTUCKY.—A Pennsylvanian in the Union service in Kentucky says they need an unconditional loyal newspaper—one which regards the Union as paramount to Slavery: the masses, there, are nearer right than the leaders. He thinks the President errs in not entrusting more power to those in favor of his measures. "I am satisfied that the blacks can be so trained as to become our very best soldiery. With white officers to discipline and drill them—with their aptness for military movements—with their love of pomp, show, and the emblem of freedom, in their own hands, I think, well officered, they would vie with veterans in a year. From a year and half of observation in camp, I think blacks can be easier disciplined, and made more perfect automatons, than the whites. I had a servant, unable to read, who, by observing troops in drill when no one supposed he was interested, learned the drill perfectly, and spent half his nights for a month, in teaching others, in an old log kitchen, with canes and broomsticks. He followed me upon the field at Shiloh, and did not seem to fear anything. I should have more confidence in him than in many of our white captains."

HARRISBURG CORRESPONDENCE.

MONDAY, Feb. 2.

Nothing of general interest transpired in either House. Both held evening sessions only.

"Artemus Ward"—which is to say, Charles F. Brown—lectured, this evening, in Brant's Hall. His reading is more interesting, and his spellin' more original, than his oratory.

The Express Company having lost $3,315 from a packet in charge of its agents, and having been sued for said amount, has been adjudged to pay it, on the finding of a Jury. That careless employee eats up the profit on a great many "little bills."

The triennial Board of Revenue Commissioners are notified to meet here, Tuesday the 17th inst. From the Susquehanna District, Myron M. Mott of Montrose, and Micheal Meylert of Laporte from the Sullivan district, are all those I have noticed as appointed. Their duty is to equalize the tax upon the real estate, according to value between the counties.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR.—We are informed that the Law to aid the families of Drafted men the same as those of Volunteers, originated in each branch of the Legislature, nearly at the same time, and without concert. Maj. White proposed it in Senate, and Capt. Ritter in the House. Both these gentlemen are warm Republicans—both came from actual service, on the field of danger to the Legislature—and both recognized in the drafted men as noble qualities as actuate those so circumstanced as to be better able to volunteer. Divide, therefore, the honor between them: and remember that no man in either branch could put himself on the record against the measure. The families of all these in service, therefore, have a right to call upon the County Commissioners and Associate Judges, for such relief, by county taxes, as said board of Relief may deem advisable.

EDWIN D. MORGAN, late Governor of New York, is elected U. S. Senator for six years from 4th March next, in place of Preston King—both, Republicans, and Mr. Morgan an efficient War man also.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 4.

Yesterday, on motion of the vigilant Senator-Editor from Lancaster, Mr. Hiestand, the Senate unanimously passed a a joint resolution in favor of reducing the burdens upon paper by Congressional action. Ignorance is one corner stone of the Rebellion, and to counteract it the diffusion of knowledge should be free and general. Tax the vices and follies and luxuries of life, but not the necessaries of public information and mental food.

Last night seemed rather the coldest of the season—this morning, the wind is sharp, and the sun bright.

It is laughable to see the turn the Boileau case has taken. The disloyal Democrats wanted an "excitement" about something, and seized upon him for that purpose. It now appears that he was a mere "organ-grinder" for others, the real editors of his paper being the worst most reckless of Rebel sympathizers in Philadelphia—but men of too much wealth, and too cowardly, to father their own plots. Arrested for their crimes, he disowns the paternity of the offensive articles, and, promising to be more careful and loyal in the future, he is released—(for the Government does not desire to injure any one, but only to restrain the evil disposed.) And now, the managers who had hoped to make party capital out of him as "a martyr," are deeply chagrined, and curse him as much for his honesty as they do Boyer for his folly. Mr. Boileau, to reinstate himself in the good opinion of the loyal, should tell the world who did insert those articles, in spirit so hostile to the Union cause, and so friendly to Jeff. Davis.

THURSDAY, FEB 5.

The House has concurred in the Senate bill for the remission of duties upon paper. (The present high price of paper is believed to be a combination of the enemies of the country, not so much to make money, as to prevent the circulation of newspapers.)

A resolution of inquiry as to the delay of the payment of our volunteers, was also passed in both houses.

Correspondence of the Star & Chronicle.

DUMFRIES, Va., Jan. 30, 1863.

The Chronicle now reaches me regularly and it seems like an old friend. Nothing is so welcome to the soldier as a newspaper he has been in the habit of reading, and especially one published in a section of country where everything is familiar to him.

The 147th Regiment, (to which I am attached) was formed out of five companies detached from the old 28th, one from Luzerne county, Capt. Kreider, one from Selinsgrove, Capt. Davis, and one (Company H) partially from Snyder Co. The Selinsgrove Company is one of the finest in the service, and is rapidly becoming well drilled. This Regiment is commanded by Lt. Col. Ovid Pardee, Jr., and the regimental officers are Maj John Craig; Adjutant, Samuel F. M'Ree; Surgeon, —— Calver; Quarter Master, Samuel D. Conner.

I should like to write you something in regard to this section of Virginia, but must let that remain for some future time. It is full of historical interest. Dumfries the second oldest town in Virginia, and at one time numbered about 8,000 inhabitants. It does not now contain 300 souls. Slavery and War have wrought the work of destruction. Had Virginia not fallen under the withering, blighting curse of human bondage, Dumfries might, and probably would to-day stand the most important town on the Banks of the Potomac, instead of the miserable wreck of its former importance which it now presents. Washington was educated here, and Patrick Henry is said to have made his maiden law speech in the old Court House, the walls of which are still standing.

DANIEL BOWER,
1st Lieut. Co. H, 147th P. V.

COURTING MARTYRDOM.—The Aaronsburg Bereichter published an article two weeks ago, as strongly disloyal as its editor is capable of producing. But he wasted his ink and mental effort for nothing; nobody noticed it. This week the same article appears; and yet the Government is so ungrateful, that it will not knock the chip off the editor's hat, and thus give him the notoriety he appears to covet. Shouldn't wonder if he would take offence, and turn loyal, through spite.

BLOOMSBURG, Feb. 3, 1863.—Intelligence has just reached here that a horrible murder was committed early on Monday morning, in the Northern part of Columbia county. A step-mother, named Sault, murdered three of her step-children—aged respectively 9, 13 and 14 years, by severing their heads from their bodies with an axe. She afterwards threw them into the fire. She is now in jail.

Tuesday Morning's News.

The Harriet Lane is reported escaped, and has doubtless turned pirate.——It is confidently believed that the pirate Oreta, (or Florida,) was totally destroyed by the U. S. gunboat Cuyler, in the vicinity of Cardenas.——The U. S. gunboat I. P. Smith, with about 200 men, was captured in the Stono river, near Charleston, on the 30th ult.——The British steamer Princess Royal was captured by our blockading fleet, while attempting to run into Charleston. She contained a valuable cargo of cannon, steam engines, rifles, powder, &c.——A spirited engagement took place on the Blackwater, on the 25th ult., between Gens. Corcoran and Pryor, in which the rebels were whipped.

Latest News

Rebel reports claim a great victory won in a naval engagement with our blockading fleet off Charleston. They say that their two iron-clads (which have long been building in the harbor) ran out on the morning of the 31st of January, attacked our fleet, sunk the Mercedita and another gunboat, crippled the Quaker City, and scattered the remainder of the vessels. They then declared the blockade raised. However, shortly afterwards, they stated that a largely increased fleet had gathered in front of the harbor, to resume the blockade with more efficiency than ever. As this report is entirely from rebel sources, it is to be taken with some allowance.

CAIRO, Feb. 4.—General Luttle received dispatches this afternoon stating that the rebels were repulsed at Fort Donelson with considerable slaughter. The Federal loss was from 40 to 50. But few particulars are given. One battery of four guns was taken by the rebels in an overwhelming charge, but our men retook it. The rebel loss is reported at 135 killed, and 50 wounded and taken prisoners. Forrest, the rebel guerilla chief, is reported to have been wounded. Colonel M'Neill was killed. The number of the rebel force was estimated at from 3,000 to 4,000. From below we have information that all our divisions had arrived in front of Vicksburg, except Logan's, which was expected to arrive soon.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 4.—Col. Stokes' regiment of Tennessee Cavalry, and a regiment of Kentucky volunteers, dashed upon a camp of rebels at Middletown, fifteen miles west of Murfreesboro, on the 2nd instant, capturing 100 prisoners, all their camp equipage, horses, wagons, &c. Major Douglass, of Douglass' rebel battalion, and all his officers were taken prisoners.

LATEST NEWS!

JUST as we go to press, we received a dispatch stating that there would be a large lot of

Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Evergreens, Grape Vines,

&c. &c., for sale at this place, in the Spring, in a Nursery each side of the River.

They will be brought from the old Laurel Ridge Nursery, formerly belonging to Lewis O. Hummer, but now to Stratton, Lewis & Hummer, who have entered into a co-partnership for the purpose of establishing a regular Nursery at this place. The old Laurel Ridge Nursery is situated in Adams Co., Pa., is a well-established nursery, and contains as good a variety of trees as any in the State of Penn'a or New York. Mr. Hummer has had considerable experience in the business from his youth. The public can expect large and assorted Trees, of the best and latest varieties. Persons wishing to purchase of this firm, had better send in their orders soon, as their accounting the limited time, they would be more likely to get the trees brought from the Nursery than will be necessary to fill orders sent in after the Spring Trade has opened. We annex a list of trees which we have on hand; but we can not conveniently enumerate the different varieties; but the public will find a catalogue at the Dime Saving Institution.

Apple trees, 6 to 8 feet high, from 12 to 25 cts. each
Peach, from 4 to 6 feet high, 12 to 18 cts. each
Standard Pear, 5 to 6 feet high, 25 to 31 cts. each
Dwarf Pear, 4 to 5 feet high, 25 to 31 cts. each
Cherry, 5 to 6 feet high, 25 to 31 cts. each
Plums, on plum stocks, 4 to 6 feet high, 25 cts. each.
Nectarine Quinces, and Apricots, 25 to 31 cts. each
Grape Vines, 12 to 18 cts. each
Currants, 10 to 12 cts. Gooseberries, 10 cts. each
Blackberries, 10 cts. each, or 75 cts. per dozen.
Raspberries, 10 cts. each, or 81 per dozen.
Strawberries, 50 cts. per dozen, or $3 per hundred
Shrubs, 10 cts. each, or $1 per dozen.
