The Republicans were unanimous for this different time the Secosh sympathizers have hired some strolling vagabonds to try to "sing up" posed to it. Mr. Wilson wanted the M'Clellan. Fitz John Porter divides the thing sure so that our brave boys, who culisted under the law and expectation of not losing the right of suffrage, might vote as the laws "ARE OR shall be." It was said of the laws "ARE OR shall be." It was truly argued, that, unless we could have such an amendment, and the people the said of the laws to the laws "ARE OR shall be." It was truly argued, that, unless we could have such an amendment, and the people the said to the laws to t have such an amendment, and the people should pass it, they would have to wait for Montgomery, introduced a resolution that such laws as "shall be" enacted—and it was generally suspected that the same party which has heretofore kept the soldiers from voting, would still prevent them, by failing to canet laws necessary to earry out the Amendment. The words "are or" were then added as above.

Mr. Wallace (Dem ) next moved a proviso that no officer should hold an election upless a citizen of the Commonwealth. For that (which would exclude hundreds s rving in o her States) the Democrats voted, and the Republicans against. So that the act stands as above, and goes to the Democratic House for concurrence.

-In this as in many other instances the Sham Democrats show how they feel towards the gallant men who are saving our land from the ravages of the Slaveholders' Rebelliou. Let us see if the House do not stave it off, or encumber it with amendments to destroy its worth and vitality.
