Yea, well do I remember When I first began to talk, And I also do not forget When first I tried to walk; Firm I grasped old Jowler's collar, But he gave a sudden hop, So into a tub of water Jowler "spilt" this child "kerslop."

Full well do I remember When I used to go to school, How I kept a watchful eye on The schoolmaster's rod and rule; How I cut up "monkey shines" Every time my back was turned-How I sometimes used to catch it When I'd not my lesson learned.

And some times I remember When I went a hooking peaches, How a dog came out and caught me By the surplus of my breeches; How I hung up to the bushes, How the dog hung fast to me, Till my crying brought a man who Flogged me most "erful-LE."

And then do I remember When the girls I used to kiss, Then I thought it rather funny, But it gave no extra bliss; Now it seizes me with rapture, Now it fills my soul with joy-Yet, with Manhood's blossful pleasures, Would that I were still a liny! [Correspondence of the Star & Chroniele.]

Government Hospital for the Iusane, } Washington, June 1, 1863. In my last, I gave you a sight of the huge Grizzly Bear, and other animals, in our Menagerie, which is in front of the main building. Fassing the gardener's dwelling, we find it now used as a Small Pox hospital, where any taking that disease are transferred to prevent the contagion spreading. It is located at the foot Thursen G. Erans and Albert S. Copper. of the eminence upon which Uncle Sam has erected this fine monument of his love and mercy towards his mentally afflicted children in the District of Columbia, and
