A Philadelphia writer, June 19, says: "The mild treatment which the Tories have mot with, has only encouraged them in disaffection, and, until an example is in disaffection, and, until an example is made of some of them, we shall be exposed to private, domestic dangers. Necessity, when self-preservation is the object, justifies security. We have reasoned, School Superintendent - Jone A. Owens we have pleaded with these men long enough, and all will not do. It signifies nothing meddling with the little and igporant ones-their greatest error is want of knowledge; I would begin with the heads and chiefs of them."

THE 2D LOUISIANA.

In Gen. Banks' assault upon Port Hudson, 25th May, 1863, the Colored Regiment from New Orleans gained great honor. They were most exposed in the charge, and the Rebels threw most of their fire upon them, so that the Colored Regiment lost 600 in killed, wounded and missing. The Rebels hung a black prisoner, when the blacks hung a Rebel prisoner in full sight-which ended that game! The Philad. poet, George H. Boker, has thus honored this heroic band.

Dark as the clouds of even. Ranked in the western heaven, Waiting the breath that lifts All the dread mass, and drifts Tempest and falling brand Over a ruined land-So, still and orderly, Arm to arm, knee to knee, Waiting the great event, Stands the Black Regiment,

Down the long, dusky line, Teeth gleam, and eye-balls shine; And the bright bayonet, Bristling, and firmly set, Flashed with a purpose grand, Long ere the sharp command Of the fierce rolling drum Told them their time had come, Pold them what work was sent For the Black Regiment.

"Now," the flag-sergeant cried, "Though death and hell betide, Let the whole nation see If we are fit to be Free in this land; or bound Down, like the whining hound-Bound with red stripes of pain In our old chains again!" Oh! what a shout there went From the Black Regiment! "Charge!" Trump and drum awoke,

Onward the bondmen broke, Bayonet and sabre-stroke Vainly opposed their rush, Through the wild battle's crush, With but one thought aflush, Driving their lords like chaff, In the guns' mouths they laugh; Or at the slippery brands Leaping with open hands, Down they tear man and horse, Down in their awful course, Trampling with bloody heel Over the crashing steel, All their eyes forward bent, Rushed the Black Regiment.

"Freedom!" their battle-cry-"Freedom-or leave to die!" Ah! and they meant the word, Not as with us 'tis heard, Not a mere party shout; They gave their spirits out; Trusted the end to God. And on the gory sod Rolled in triumphant blood. Glad to strike one free blow, Whether for weal or woe: Glad to breathe one free breath, Though on the lips of death. Praying-alas! in vain-That they might fall again, So they could once more see That burst to liberty! This was what "freedom" lent To the Black Regiment.

Hundreds on hundreds fell; But they are resting well; Scourges and shackles strong Never shall do them wrong. O, to the living few, Soldiers, be just and true! Hail them as comrades tried: Fight with them side by side; Never, in field or tent,

Scorn the Black Regiment! The Obio Unionis's nominated the old Democratic war-horse, John Brough, for Governor. In lows, they have taken up Col. WM. M. STONE, a gallant, good man, lately wounded in service. The Conventions which nominated them-and a late Mass Meeting in New Hampshire-show the spirit of the Union people is rising with the emergency of the times.
