Correspondence of the Star & Chronicle.

MILL DALE, Miss., June 26. It takes many little items to make experience. We have one added to ours. It just takes one flour-barrel to make a bed, and you can make a wash-stand out of the head. An elegant bed it makes too -drive in four stakes with crotches-lay two spokes length-wise-you'll get enough pails out of the barrel to tack every stave on. Then, trees have plenty of Spanish moss-it is the same with which carriages are stuffed. Now it hangs like a great Jewish beard, such as we see in the pietorce of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob-that it is gathered in heaps. Corp. M'Cormick, Dawson, Carey and others of my Company, Serg. Gutelius, and with Clapham, Co. E, and others I can't just recall, have been detailed at head-quarters since before we left Newport News. The other day they were coming down the Muslin, may be sewn to perfection on Mississippi, when, at Cypress Bend, 1 this machine. It will use 200 spool thick about 25 miles below Napoleon, they cotton as well as No. 30 linen thread. were fired into by a Rebel battery from What it can do can only be known the Arkansas shore. No. 8 gunboat was by seeing the muchine tested. ahead, out of sight, followed by the Jacob Strader with ammunition, next a boat they call the "Little Reb." and then the Prima Donna. The levee all along the Mississippi affords a frequent ready-made embankment, behind which they can safely shelter. A few shots reached the stern of the Strader; the Little Reb was damaged in some way and backed, so that the Prima the working parts of the machine. Donna had to back too, leaving it a steady mark. Broadside after broadside was the Letter A in poured into her, until now she shows the SIMPLICITY. marks of forty-three cannon balls, beside being perfectly riddled with musketry. The second or third shot went through her beiler, which made her helpless and she swung around. "Surrender, you d-d Yankees," the Rebels yelled, when the gunboat No. 8 came around the bend, and poured a double round of grape and cannieter into them, and they vanished with the smoke. Twenty one mules and splinters. Yesterday, there was the most continuone and heavy cannonade I ever heard. It is said to have equaled Fredericksburg, if it did not exceed. From early in the morning until late in the evening, the pounding was awful. The main centre fortification, a mile or so in the rear of Vicksburg, was mined, stormed and taken | 6m1001 by the centre under Gen. M'Pherson We have beard but little firing to day. The loss and casualties we do not know

We were on the qui rice for several days-ready to march at a moment's warning. Rifle pits were dug with ravenous baste, and the giant forest trees were thundering into the ravines, and the hill tops and the lighter cloud of under-brush, were swept before the ruthless blast of sharpened steel that is to say, we chopped down the woods that obstructed division or two across the Big Black—has and customers: he has just issued the following Order: our boats-cutting off communication and supplies.

We have pleasant quarters, good water, and healthy as yet. Little to trouble us -occasional details for picket and fatigue duty, and no musquitoes. Snakes as scarce almost as in Ireland, but when found they are whappers.

Good, Timely Advice. Gen. O. B. Wilcox, commander of the district of Indiana and Michigan, issues a general order against secret political societice of all parties. He says: "They are a constant source of dread and mistrust-they divide and provoke hostilities between neighbors, weaken the dignity and power of courts of justice, expose the country to martial law, and discourage the people from culisting in defence of the nation. No matter how bonest or worthy may have been the reason for such societies in the beginning, their very secreey and the oaths they impose do enable wicked men to use them unto unlawful ends, and pervert them into

"I invoke against such secret societies the good influence and active aid of all men who are friendly to the Union, to discontinue and peaceably break up such organizations within the limits of this district; and call upon the members thereof speedily to withdraw from their dark meetings, and openly show their intentions and acts are such as may well country whose freedom and integrity they present year. will maintain against all enemies whatsoever and before the eyes of the world."

The number of paroled prisoners at Vicksburg is over 31 000; they were to be let loose at Talladega, Ala., hundreds of them not desiring to be ever exchanged. Some 2,400 were killed inside, during the piege.

A man living near Suyder's Bluffs, asking subsistence from tien. Washburne, was worth about six millions when he entered into the "Secesh" speculation.

The nearer the Robels are being erushed, the more the Copperheads urge submission to them on the part of the Government.
