FOR GOVERNOR,
ANDREW G. CURTIN, of Bellefonte.
JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT,
DANIEL AGNEW, of Beaver county.
DISTRICT AND COUNTY TICKETS.
ASSEMBLY—SAMUEL H. BROWN, of Union county.
Rep. & Sec.—SAMUEL H. BROWN, of Union county.
Commissioner—SAMUEL MARSHALL, of Union county.
Treasurer—WILLIAM E. SHERRILL, of Union county.
Auditor—WILLIAM E. SHERRILL, of Union county.
Election, Tuesday, Oct. 13, 1863.

Mr. Jackson, the speaker for this evening, is in town, and those desiring a seat should go early. We regret that two meetings in the county have been appointed for the same night, as many would be glad to be at New Berlin and Lewisburg both; but it so happened that each was called without knowledge of the other.

Who are Guilty?

In December, 1860, Judge Woodward, now seeking to be Governor of Penna., at a public meeting in Philad., said: "It seems to me that there will be a time when the slaveholders may fall back on their natural rights, and employ, in defence of their slave property, whatever means of protection they possess or can command."

One month afterwards, Alexander H. Stephens, now Vice President of the Rebel Government, uttered these words before a Georgia State Convention: "What right has the North asserted? What interest of the South has been invaded? What justice has been denied? and what claim, founded in justice and right, has been withheld? Can either of you to-day name one Governmental act of wrong, deliberately and purposely done by the Government at Washington, of which the South has a right to complain? I challenge the answer."

The Northern Judge, counseling rebellion—the Southern fire-eater, counseling submission to the law—could anything more clearly indicate who are the true authors of all the calamities that have come upon our people?

Unhappy Mexico! rent by internal feuds, is now really a French province, a plaything of Napoleon. By siding one faction against the Government, a French General (Forey) seized the Capital—then he appointed a "Council," who voted the Republic abolished, and offered the crown of Mexico to an Austrian, a tool of Napoleon! The people were not consulted. It is believed the new dynasty will act with the Rebels, and thus Napoleon will help them secretly, though he dares not openly. As the Rebel leaders intend a Monarchy at last, there must soon be—unless we in the Free States can better unite—TWO KINGDOMS OR EMPIRES along our Southern border!

Cass for his Country.

It is stated on the best authority, that the veteran and venerable American Democrat and statesman, LEWIS CASS, has quietly declared his abhorrence of the course at present pursued by many of his former party associates, and that he now bravely proclaims the sublime necessity of every man at once ranging himself on the side of the Government as it is represented by the National Administration of Abraham Lincoln. Gen. Cass has long viewed in disgust the course pursued by the Buchanan clique in Pennsylvania, the Vallandigham combination in Ohio, and the Seymour conspiracy in New York.

We direct particular attention to Advertisement of CARKEUFF & PAINE'S CUTTER, in another column. Patented only in March last, these ingenious and enterprising mechanics have already, with scarcely an effort, received ample testimonials of the great value of their improvements. It is a very portable, simple, strong machine, and the price puts it within the reach not only of farmers, but of every citizen who keeps a cow or horse and who desires to economize in feeding them.

The Union party in Clinton and Lycoming counties have made strong nominations, and intend to carry them. C. W. Wingard of Lock Haven, and Clinton Lloyd of Williamsport, for Assembly, will make a thorough canvass, and the old members—Beck and Noyes—will have a difficult run from last year's. In Lycoming a portion of the Democracy openly sustain Lloyd.

An officer from Lewisburg, wounded at Gettysburg, says Gen. Meade's forces did not exceed Sixty-Six Thousand—that the Rebels had Ninety Thousand on the same field, after crossing the Potomac with One Hundred and Twenty Thousand men. Thus it seems the Rebels had over Twenty Thousand more men than we in that great, momentous contest.

Prof. Curtis, of Lewisburg, has been "doctored" by the people generally for some time, and, at the last Commencement of Waterville College, in Maine, the degree of D. D. was conferred upon him.

We have seen fine specimens of Pipe Peaches this week. The crop perhaps is not as large in this region as last year, but there is a fair supply.

The Moravians will this year celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the introduction of Christianity into Moravia.

DIALOGUE.

Seesh—Stoop down here, Uncle! Uncle Sam—What for, Seesh? Seesh—I want to cut your throat! U. S.—Guess not! It don't want cutting.
Copperhead—Yes, stoop down, Uncle! U. S.—What! do you, too, want to cut my throat?
Copperhead—O, no—never! I wouldn't do such a thing for the world! I only want to hold your arms pinioned behind your back, while Seesh cuts it. That's very different, you see!
U. S.—No, I don't see it.

The above is a capital illustration of the whole controversy. Copperheads don't want the Government destroyed—they only demand the Administration shall do nothing to prevent the Rebels from destroying it—that's all!

TRUE DEMOCRACY.—The Democrat, of Louisville, Ky., is the old organ of that party. It is a true Union paper, tho' it manfully (not factiously) opposes some of the Administration policy, and says truly: "There can be no true democracy, while treason keeps its armies in the field, except War democracy. The office hunters, who, at a time like this, preach Peace! Peace! in the North, may be Democrats in name, but in reality they are Tories and Traitors, who would be in arms against their Government, were they living in the so-called Confederacy."

That is the spirit of all Southern Unionists, Whigs or Democrats. Brownlow and Johnson fairly represent each old wing of loyal men. They despise Copperheads, and say the only way to stop the War is to whip—exterminate, if necessary—the aristocracy who got up the revolt. They will conquer, or must be conquered.

THE TORY PAPERS.—Just now, when the drafted men are called for—publish "Twenty Reasons why I do not want to go to War." These "reasons" are false, fugacious, sly or contemptible. Perhaps none "want" to fight—or to work—if they could well avoid them. But when war is forced upon a good government like ours, men must fight, or be slaves. No man "wants" to be sick, or to have a law suit, or to die; but in the first case he must take medicine; in the next case he must defend himself; and death comes whether he "wants" it or not. The design and aim of such papers, is that Government shall have no soldiers, and the Rebels shall conquer. And yet such papers claim to be patriotic and loyal! They are hypocritical, cowardly, and as traitorous as Judas Iscariot, Benedict Arnold, or John C. Breckinridge! They do not give one "reason" why men should go—not a word to cheer our brave men in the field—men standing between our homes and the spoilers—our brothers, asking for more aid! They are refused for "twenty reasons!"

TWICE DEFEATED.—George W. Woodward once received the nomination of his party for the U. S. Senate, but was defeated (his party failing to unite) on account of his Free Trade views. Polk and Buchanan then had him nominated for a U. S. Judge, but the Democratic Senate refused to confirm his appointment. Thus, twice, Woodward's aristocratic views have caused his rejection by his own party, when it had the majority. His ambition is unceasing, but he is wise enough not to give up the office he has for a chance for another.

A Sound Platform.

The patriotic people of Maine are adopting a series of resolutions, which, with the change of a local name, will do for Pennsylvania. They are short, and to the point, as follows:
1 That this rebellion is unconstitutional.
2 That it is constitutional to put it down.
3 That Pres. Lincoln is putting it down.
4 That we should support him in that duty.
5 That Gov. Curtin aids in the work.
6 That we go for Curtin.

In Millin county, 454 men are drafted. In Lewisburg, of the lucky ones are his Honor, Judge Woods; B. B. Harris, (drafted also in Lewisburg); one Lawyer, M'Kee; the Prothonotary, Wilson; two printers from the Democratic shop, and "nary" from the Republican, we believe; and John Baptist and five other colored gentlemen. Quite a number of non-combatants were drawn in the townships.

Penn'a soldiers who can not vote, do (or should) take special pains to ask their friends to vote against Woodward and Lowrie, who disfranchised them. Attend to this, boys! and vote by proxy, "early and often!" Get all your relations and companions of other days each to drop a vote for you!

Organize, everywhere! The opponents of the Administration defeated us last year simply by superior organization, and they are trying the same thing again, more unwarriorly and desperately than before.

The Lewisburg Gazette says the thermometer fell from 93 on Saturday to 63 on Wednesday. We thought it a few degrees colder in Lewisburg, and had a fire in our office, Thursday.

Rev. J. Anderson Kelly assumes the duties of Financial Agent of the University at Lewisburg, the 1st of October next.

Some of the Yankee boys, fighting for Uncle Sam, went down to Mississippi the other day, and there discovered a few bundles of letters and other "documents" belonging to that arch rebel—now the head rebel—J. F. Davis. Several of these letters are published, and show that rebellion was long planned, and had some friends in the North. One was written by a certain James Buchanan, of Penn'a, and a "free translation" of it is furnished for the CHRONICLE, as follows.

JAMES BUCHANAN TO JEFF. DAVIS.
I wanted to give you, dear David, for Saturday, a copy of the "Liberator." And you'll have California as usual! There you could dig coal with your negroes. And I'll give you the whole of the "Liberator" to read. The paper is a mighty big thing. My letter is all neatly written. You will notice to give you the whole of it, but to give you the whole of my bidding, dear David, it's better than gold.

You know I have always been ready to give the South everything I can. To make the Democracy stand still, for me, is no difficult task. I tell them "the party" requires it. And the largest of slavery's burdens so heavily, so gladly they'll bear it.

So, Cameron, the scoundrel, has yielded it. That I was free-soil in my youth; what of it? You know I was given, then; now, Davis, that's just the whole truth. Why, bless 't! 'twas shortly before this, I traveled in a highland, you may, to see out a sugar-stored olive. And when I was coming back, some scoundrel, like Cameron, who hates me, just gave the old highland a kick, and down the steep hill, in a jiffy, I tumbled in three-fourths of a mile.

Just say what you want, my dear David! You know I am always on hand! I am willing to make your slave empire so strong, so extensive, so grand! You know I'll be present at Oxford, you know I'll be present, or send to give you the island of Cuba. With freedom crushed under your heel. I tell you, Dan, Webster's a humbug! His non-interference is worth a thousand. Your chance isn't worth a green bauble. The compromise line—that's the doctrine! That is the best thing for slavery. There can't be a shadow of doubt. I am slavery's attorney, so faithful! I work, as when you put me down. Then surely I'll nominate him.

IT IS FAIR.—Three Supreme Court Judges—Lowrie, Woodward and Strong—decided that Penn'a volunteers in the field should not vote. This question of soldiers voting, is to be considered this year and next, by the people and the Legislature. But one of those Judges—Woodward—is nominated for Governor, and if elected could veto a law for that object; and another—Lowrie—is re-nominated for Judge, where he can again officially decide against the soldiers. Their party, by omitting to declare in favor, has in effect decided against the soldiers, right to vote. Now, is it right—is it legal—is it in accordance with a delicate sense of honor—for these two men to have a chance to sit in judgment on their own decisions? to desire again to take the power from our brave men suffering in our behalf? to ask positions to nullify the popular will? Is it safe?

Vote! whatever your views of the question itself, certainly those men, pre-committed, are not proper persons to have such great official power in the case again. The fact that they are laboring for reelection, to confirm their own recorded opinions, shows their unfitness.

The New York Riot trials develop the following case. A poor colored woman named Ann Derrickson, was so horribly beaten by three Irishmen, while trying to save the life of her son, that she has added one more corpse to the terrible catalogue. After beating the poor mother senseless, these worse than devils took her little boy into the street, stripped his clothes off, got a can of kerosene and a rope, and were on the point of swinging him up to a lamp-post, pouring the kerosene over him and setting him on fire. Fortunately, some persons who saw the infernal work fired two or three pistol shots, when the "friends" took to their heels. The boy was saved, and lives (though terribly beaten with an ax and clubs) to identify the murderers of his mother—the fiends who tried to roast him alive. It is one of the most heart-sickening chapters in all this history of horrors.

It is a mistake to suppose that "Friends" to whom Gov. Seymour preached so affectionately during those New York riots, were of the Orthodox persuasion—or do the Hicksites own them—in fact, they don't "belong to any meeting;" they are a new order, known as Copperheads!

Lt. Edwin A. Evans, Dr. Hasson-pling of Millburg, and Wm. R. Cornelius, from Nashville, are among those who have been in town recently. They bring no particular news.

We regret to learn that the Senator of the Millburg Telegraph—with many others "out" in the late "Emergency"—has been quite ill from that effort.

All those in Kentucky elected to Congress, and the Governor also, were assumed as "Abolitionists." So every body that stands up for the Union as every body that stands up for Slavery, is denounced by the Copperheads. Happily, there are becoming fewer and fewer persons who are maddled or terrified by this name. It was used against Harrison, Clay, Scott, Taylor, Fremont, and Lincoln, without scaring any but a few fools.

A wounded man leans his position on re-entering military service.

Senator Rice on the Duty of Democrats.
Hon. H. M. Rice, late Dem. U. S. Senator from Minnesota, says in a recent published letter:

"The whole object of the rebellion is to destroy the principle of Democracy. The party which stands by the Government, is true Democracy. Every man who lifts his head above party trammels is a Democrat, and every man who permits himself to stand in the way of a vigorous prosecution of the war, can not, in my opinion, have any claims on the party. If the city was on fire, would you call on any particular party to extinguish the flames? or would you stop to examine its character or fear that you might violate some of its provisions by taking water from your neighbors' wells?"

Latest News.

Fort Sumter in Ruins.
Monday last, this birthplace of the Rebellion had been so knocked to pieces by the Union guns from sea and shore, that no flag was up, no guns replied, and it was only a mass of rubbish, protected, however, by other forts.

Thursday, Gen. Gilmore demanded the surrender of Charleston or he would commence bombarding it. No attention was paid to the notice. Friday, he threw a 15 inch shell into the city, loaded with Greek fire. Beauregard and the consuls remonstrated that this was "uncivilized" warfare, and asked more time to remove non-combatants (for which they had had ample notice). Gilmore declined any more time, and required an unconditional surrender. Beauregard asked for a truce of 40 hours. Early Monday morning, Gilmore recommenced shelling the city, and also the firing upon the forts which obstruct the passage of the monitors up the bay.

The Lawrence Massacre.—Quartrell's men, at home, pretend to be farmers, and "Constitutional Unionists," but they sneak out in disguise to kill and rob. Their midnight raid of the 15th inst. had no military end in view, and was therefore wholly a wanton, uncivilized butchery of nearly 200 men, and the burning of 182 buildings, most of them valuable. In a few hours, 80 women were made widows, and 245 children, orphans. Gen. James H. Lane happily escaped, and as the murderers (like wolves) withdrew by day, he chased them and killed 41 ere they had completely scattered. So horrible a barbarity will call down vengeance most severe, and this removal of Border Ruffian warfare will perpetuate revenge and misery for another generation. Lane will commence operating on the Rebels in Western Missouri, and will be severely effective in wiping out all known rebellion.

Hope for East Tennessee.—Gen. Rosecrans has commenced the siege of Chattanooga, which commands the southern entrance into East Tennessee, and Gen. Burnside is sending on 20,000 men (the 31st, it is said, not included) to take Knoxville, by way of the Cumberland Gap, on the north of the Valley. The success of one or both of them is anxiously hoped for, as the deliverance of a gullant and long oppressed people.

Several Union expeditions in various quarters of the S. W., have been successful.

The Rebels don't burn all their cotton—they hide a good deal. It is stated that One Hundred Thousand bales were recently recovered by the Unionists on a single expedition on or near the Mississippi river.

The Rebel money is almost down to nothing in value, while Greenbacks command a premium over good bank currency in some cases in the Free States. Gold is steadily though slowly falling. Signs of this sort are significant all over the world.

If the Copperheads can find places where more Democrats than Republicans are drafted, they try to make capital out of it. But they never tell the fact that 3 out of 4 in the Army—as the votes show—are Republicans. And where there are most Republicans drafted, they keep mum!

MURDER.—Last week, Daniel Eckerly, a German who kept a beer shop in Ashland, was killed by James Burke, aged 18 years. Eckerly was stabbed twice, an artery being severed. It is said there was no provocation or difficulty previously.

A barn of Danlap and More, in Old Lycoming township, was struck by lightning, Sunday week, and consumed. A soap and candle factory in Williamsport, was destroyed by fire, Sunday evening.

Six or eight Copperheads in Moreland have been fined $10 each and costs for an assault upon a Union man at a barn-raising. One of them is under arrest for drawing a pistol on the officer who arrested him.

Wm. Reider, of Franklin Tp., while hunting, shot himself through the head (accidentally, it is supposed), on the 15th Sept., and his body was found on the 17th.

The Rebel General Pemberton died at Selma, Ala. A native of Philad., he died a traitor in every respect, and an ingrate to the country which educated and fed him.

Lieut. D. L. Montgomery, of Clinton Tp., after being twice wounded, has received an appointment on Heintzelman's staff.

James Peacock, Esq., died in Philad. on Sunday, at the age of seventy six years. He was born in Paxton, Danphin county, in 1778. About 1803, he learned the printing business in Lewistown. In 1811 he established the Pennsylvania Republican in Harrisburg, and edited it for a number of years. He was afterwards appointed postmaster in Harrisburg, and held that position during the administrations of seven Presidents.

For some months past, illegal combinations of miners in Schuylkill county have defied the law. A detachment of military has been ordered there, whose commander, Gen. Whipple, while riding out, was fired at three times by some concealed assassin. It seems evident that these lawless persons are determined to call down the vengeance of insulted power upon their heads.

To while away their time, the legal voters from Penn'a in a Philad. U. S. Military Hospital took an expression of their choice for Governor, which resulted as follows: Andrew G. Curtin 201 G. W. Woodward 10

The World Challenged!
HAY, STRAW & FODDER CUTTER.
(Patented March 31, 1863.)
MESSRS. CARKEUFF & PAINE, of Lewisburg, Union Co., Penn'a.—would respectfully solicit the attention of all who have stock to feed, and Manufacturers and Salesmen of Agricultural Implements, to their Improvement in Straw Cutters. Its price brings it within the reach of all who may have use for a Fodder Cutter. It cuts Hay, Straw, Cornstalks, Paper or Cloth, as smoothly as a razor can be made to cut a beard, and that too without regard to the length of time the machine may have been in use. The machine is worked by a lever, and can be made to cut steadily. The length of the cut can be regulated by use of a thumb screw. The position of the knife to the cutting bar can at any moment be changed to bring and keep their edges together as perfectly when old as when first manufactured. The annexed Certificate, and the names attached, will show the estimation in which this Cutter is held at home.

The following letter refers to the Cutter made and sold by us, and as may be seen appended cuttily upon its metallic base.

MESSRS. CARKEUFF & PAINE.—I received your Fodder Cutter by Express, and delivered it to the person for whom I ordered it. It gave good satisfaction. I received the money for it, and enclose, according to your request, by Express. Respectfully,
W. L. COOPER.

MESSRS. CARKEUFF & PAINE.—The undersigned, having used your Improvement in Fodder Cutters, patented March 31st, 1863, cheerfully testify, that as a hand machine, we have never seen its equal. Its simplicity, durability, power and the ease and accuracy with which the knife can be adjusted to the cutting bar and length of cut regulated, are points which recommend it to all.
