Washington, August 26, 1863. Hon. James C. Conkling-My Dear Sir: Your letter inviting me to attend a mass meeting of unconditional Union men, to be held at the capital of Illinois, on the 3rd day of September, has been received. It would be very agreeable to me thus to meet my old friends at my own home; but I can not just now be absent from here so long as a visit there would require.

The meeting is to be of all those who maintain unconditional devotion to the Union; and I am sure that my old political friends will thank me for tendering, as I do, the nation's gratitude to those other noble men whom no partizan malice or partizan hope can make false to the

There are those who are dissatisfied with me. To such I would say: You desire peace, and you blame me that we do not have it. But how can we attain it? There are but three conceivable ways: Finst, to suppress the Rebellion by force of arms. This I am trying to do.

Are you for it? If you are, so far we are agreed. If you are not for it, a second way is to give up the Union. I am against this. Are you for it? If you are, you should say so plainly.

you are not for force, nor yet for dissolution, there only remains some imaginable compromise. I do not believe that any compromise, embracing the maintenance of the Union, is now possible. All that I learn, leads to a directly oppo-site belief. The strength of the Rebellion is its military, its army. That army dominates all the country and all the people within its range. Any offer of terms made by any man or men within that range, in opposition to that army, is simply nothing for the present, because such ian or men have no power whatever to were made with them.

the South, and peace men of the North, get together in convention, and frame and proclaim a compromise embracing a restoration of the Union. In what way can that compromise be used to keep Lee's army out of Pennsylvania? Meade's army can keep Lee's army out of Penneylvania, and, I think, can ultimately drive it out of existence. But no paper compromise, to which the controllers of Lee's army are not agreed, can at all affect that army. In an effort at such compro mise, we would waste time, which the enemy would improve to our disadvantage, and that would be all.

A compromise, to be effective, must be made either with those who control the Rebel army, or with the people, first libcrated from the domination of that army, by the success of our own army. Now, dlow me to assure you that No WORD OR INTIMATION from the Rebel army, or from any of the men controlling it, in relation to any peace compromise, HAS EVER COME TO MY KNOWLEDGE OR BELIEF. All charges and insinuations to the contrary, are deceptive, and groundless. And I promise you, that, if any such proposition shall hereafter come, it shall not be rejected and kept a secret from you. I freely acknowledge myself to be the servant of the people, according to the bond of service, the United States Constitution; and that, as such, I am responsible to them. But to be plain. You are dissatisfied with me about the negro. Quite likely there is a difference of opinion between you and myself upon that subject. I certainly wish that all men could be free, while you, I suppose, do not. Yet, I have neither adopted nor proposed any measure which is not consistent with even your view, provided that you are for the Union. I suggested compensated emancipation; to which you replied, you wished not to be taxed to buy negroes. But I had not asked you to be taxed to buy negroes, except in such a way as to save you from greater taxation to save the Union exclusively by other means. You dislike the Emancipation Proclamation, and perhaps would have it retracted. You say it is unconstitutional. I think differently. I think the Constitu-tion invests its Commander-in-Chief with the law of war in time of war. The most that can be said, if so much, is, that slaves are property. Is there, has there the law of war, property, both of enemies and friends, may be taken when needed? And is it not needed whenever it helps us and hurts the enemy? Armies, the world over, destroy enemies' property when they can not use it; and the enemy. Civilized belligerents do all in their power to help themselves or hurt the enemy, except a few things age to corn in some parts, also to vines regarded as barbarous and cruel. Among and all tender vegetation.

the exceptions, are the massacre of van-Tuesday Morning & Friday Afternoon, quished foes and non-combatants, male and female.

But the Proclamation, as law, either is valid, or is not valid. If it is not valid, it needs no retraction. If it is valid, it Since his Inauguration, Mr. Lincoln can not be retracted, any more than the dead can be brought to life. Some of you profess to think its retraction would sperate favorably for the Union. Why Illinois. Such a weight of duties as better, after the retraction, than before the issue? There was more than a year and open enemies abroad, and secret foes a half of trial to suppress the Rebellion last one hundred days of which passed of government. Whenever are trying, and they can be flogged 4 to 1. you shall have conquered all resistance to the Union, if I shall urge you to continue fighting, it will be an apt time then for you to declare you will not fight to free negroes. I thought, that, in your struggle for the Union, to whatever extent the negroes should cease helping the enemy, to that extent it weakened the enemy in his resistance to you. Do you think differently? I thought, that, whatever negroes can be got to do as soldiers, leaves just so much less for white soldiers to do in saving the Union. Does it appear otherwise to you? But negroes, like other nothing for THEM? If they stake their lives for us, they must be prompted by the strongest motive, even the promise of Freedom. And the promise being made, MUST BE KEPT.

The signs look better. The Father of Waters again goes unvexed to the sea: thanks to the great Northwest for it. Nor yet wholly to them.
