That glows with the red, white and blue. The blossoms that gem the broad prairies Are brightest and bost to my sight. Those dainty checks mantle with crimson, Or pale with the purest of white; Or smile with the azure of June skies, All diamoned over with dew;

I love every lawn in the wildwood That glows with the red, white and blue But there is a sweeter mosaic

Of colors, and brighter by far, Than woodlands can boast, or you banner Emblazoned with many a star. Art never has painted a picture, delicate, lovely and true, And nature worked hard at her easel, Perfecting the red, white and blue.

A maiden that sings in my bower, Has cheeks of the resiest red, And bosom as white as the snow drift, And eves blue as skies everhead. Her lips are the deepest of crimson, whitest of pearls shining through.

And the blue veins that stray down her white neck Make up my sweet red, white and blue. The Southrons may prate of Secession, But I have no wish to secede,

And fly from the presence of beauty, I never could do such a dood. Hurrah ! then, burrah for the Union, Hurrah! for the colors so true; In the battle of life ever faithful, Fil cling to my red, white and blue.

their Imprevement in Steam Cutters.
Its price brings it within the reach of all who may have use for a Fodder Cutter. It cuts Hay, Straw, Cornstalks, Paper or Cloth, as smoothly as a razor can be made to cut a beard, and that too without regard to the length of time the machine may have been in use. The machine is worked by a lever, and can be made to cut rapidly. The length of the cut can be regulated by use of a thumb screw. The position of the knife to the cutting bar can at any moment be changed to bring and keep their edges together as per feetly when old as when first manufactured. The annexed Certificates, and the names attached, will show the estimation in which this Cutter is held at home: (The following better refers to the first Cutter made and sold by us, and as may be seen depended entirely upon its murits for success.)
