

UNION COUNTY STAR AND LEWISBURG CHRONICLE.

BY O. N. WORDEN AND J. R. CORNELIUS. LEWISBURG, UNION CO., PA., TUESDAY, FEB. 9, 1864.

"THE UNION," established in 1814--Whole No., 2,635. "CHRONICLE," established in 1843--Whole No., 1,034.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Part of our last Friday's issue was delayed several hours in consequence of a break in the press.

The remains of our former townsmen, Thomas Graham, (who died at Key West some eighteen months ago) were brought home, and interred in the Lewisburg Cemetery on Sunday last.

The 51st Reg. Pa. Vols., were expected at Harrisburg yesterday (Monday) evening, and Capt. Morris promises to send our three companies home this morning if possible; if not, this evening.

We are requested to state that the citizens of Kelly township offer Two Hundred Dollars Bounty for recruits enough to clear that district of the draft.

Consolidated Quota for Union Co. Our last, we published a list, furnished by Dep. Marshal Ritter, of the number of men required by the coming draft, which, it appears, only included the first call of 300,000, but not having been furnished with the additional 200,000 quota at that time.

This manner of depending from day to day upon distant and uncertain markets, is most wasteful and extravagant, for rates are from 25 to 50 per cent. higher than when articles of food are bought by the quantity and in their season.

Table with columns for Item, Price, and other market data. Includes items like No. 80 Brody, 81 Buffalo, 82 East Buffalo, etc.

Having returned from Harrisburg yesterday after attending to having the new recruits of Co. E. 53 Reg. Vet. Vols. ordered to where they desired, it may be of some interest to the families and friends of the volunteers to know where they stood accredited.

Union township has the credit of Joseph M. M'Brill, Thomas Schell, John M'Pherson, Wm. Ulrich, John Markel, Franklin Kessler, Christian Carr, Jefferson Kaler, George Liley, George Muckelbary.

East Buffalo--Wm. H. Alvert, Wm. Strawner, Henry Stoecker, Chas. W. Yeohner, J. E. Foss, Jefferson Hoyer, John A. Matthews, Z. Gibbons.

Lewisburg--Chas. K. Marsh, Joseph Vackirk.

New Berlin--George H. Himebach, Joseph Getts.

Nineteen were recruited by Lieut. H. F. Manges, two by Lieut. Beasch C. Ammon, two by David Mitchell. I see by your paper of the 29th you have given Lieut. B. C. Ammons credit for the whole number, which is wrong, to detract from the merits of one officer and place to the credit of another.

While at Harrisburg I met, as I did a year ago, at Falmouth, Va., the officers of the 53d, and from your venerable Col. M'Michael, down through all the field and company officers, I found to be gentlemen, sociable, affable, and approachable, and I advise my friends when visiting the 2d Army Corps to remember the 53d Regt., and they will soon find themselves much nearer home than distance indicates.

It is a profound study to stand out of the current in the markets here, and mark the variety of attendants. Opening at such a late hour, workmen (and workwomen) can only attend by a diminution of wages, by overworking, or by a loss of time to employers.

the haunting garb of the street-walkers, and the shabby gent of the affected--the painfully decent apparel of the virtuous, and the rags and tatters of the poor and the squalid, of all ages and colors. The pangs of hunger draw from the darkest dens of poverty all able to move. It is a sad pity to watch poor girls or women, evidently unaccustomed to providing for themselves, making miserable bargains, paying their little sums of money for very unprofitable food, and finding by bitter experience that their ignorance of the first duty of a woman is producing its bitter fruits.

Mr. Joseph Poeth, Lewisburg. Going to Smash Again. The whole host of bears, copperheads, traitors, rebels, and grandpa financiers are again trying hard to make the people believe that "very soon we are all going to smash."

No! we say, most emphatically. So long as we continue to do business for cash and very short credit, as they have done the past three years, they are safe. The man who can, to view of present facts, predict an early smash in that direction is a simpleton.

Are the manufacturers going to smash? Well, the thought of that provokes a smile. As a class they are absolutely beyond the reach of any ordinary financial disaster.

Are the farmers going to smash? We would like to see the man who will venture that prediction. Such a time for paying off notes, mortgages, and old scores, among this class, never was known before.

Gen. Wool has publicly expressed his belief that Buchanan knew the designs of the rebels before he elected, and that he promised, if elected, not to interfere, but to promote their work in every possible manner.

Gen. Brantlett is chosen U. S. Senator from Kentucky, in place of Powell, Opp.

ately postponed. All will be well with us if we are wise in our war movements. If we are afraid to hurt traitors in their pockets, or on the neck; if we want to preserve slavery--the sum of all abominations; if we want our armies offered and controlled by "do-nothings"; if we rush headlong over present duty and go now to President making; if we are more anxious to please Government contractors and curry favor with the copperheads, then to do justly and love mercy; if we want to do all these things--just at that exciting moment--look out for a smash. It will come in just here.

Gen. Grant, of Arkansas, in his recent speech at Harrisburg, made a startling revelation concerning some of the Democratic leaders in the State. He said that after his capture by the Union forces, (he was a General in the Rebel service,) at Island No. 10, he was brought North through this State as a prisoner of war, and he declared that prominent Democrats of Pennsylvania then conferred with him and assured him that if the rebels would hold out a little longer they would be successful, for the Democrats of the North would arrest the war by defeating the administration and otherwise rendering the administration powerless to prosecute it.

The copperheads have already opened their batteries upon Gen. Grant, calling him an "inherent abolition emissary," and such other pet phrases as they glory in. Not a man in the Rebel army can lay down his arms and come over to our side, who will not be denounced in the same style by these copperheads, although not one word do they utter against him while he is fighting in the Rebel ranks.

And here is another man who has committed a heinous sin against the "Democratic" party. He will consequently reap a whirlwind of retribution, unless he recants and advocates the cause of Rebellion as he formerly did. DeBow, the former famous chief of the Census Bureau at Washington, and editor of DeBow's Review, has been imprisoned by Jefferson Davis, and his magazine suppressed, because he decides that the estimates of rebellion, based on cotton, have failed, that northern laborers are happier and more prosperous than any slaveholders, and that it is better for the Confederacy "so to legislate as to increase the cows, and think no more of the negro."

The Southern leaders of the rebellion are already displaying much interest in our next Presidential election. A late copy of the Richmond Examiner has a long article on the subject, in which there is a very manifest desire for the success of the Democracy. It is very anxious that Lincoln should not be re-elected, and frankly says that "it is safe to infer, however, that any change will be beneficial to the South."

The Chambersburg Repository suggests the propriety of paying drafted men who enter the service, the commutation money of those who prefer paying to going to war. This arrangement would be a great advantage to the former class, decidedly so to poor men, who could thus leave a competency to their families during their absence.

Gen. Wool has publicly expressed his belief that Buchanan knew the designs of the rebels before he elected, and that he promised, if elected, not to interfere, but to promote their work in every possible manner.
