FOR PRESIDENT,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

AMENDMENTS.

For the First Amendment.
For the Second Amendment.
For the Third Amendment.

☞Capt. J. Merrill Linn has been discharged from the service on account of physical disability.

☞Monday last, Rev. C. F. Deininger and family left Lewisburg for the Mission in California for which he volunteered.

☞Gen. Burnside's Corps left Annapolis on Saturday, and marched through Washington this week. Their destination is not published.

☞Pennsylvania's deficiency of men on the late calls is about 18,000. A draft has been ordered immediately, and it will doubtless take place in a week or so.

☞The nett profits of the Sanitary Fair in New York, was over One Million of Dollars! Philadelphia intends to "do better." All thus raised may be needed by the brave men who stand between our homes and the rebel spoiler.

☞The Mifflinburg Telegraph says the Borough Council has passed an ordinance authorizing a tax to be levied for the purpose of raising sufficient bounty to all veterans and volunteers credited to that borough.

☞A post office has been established at Kelly X Roads, in Kelly township, Union county, A. S. Hoch, post master. The mails are served twice a week—Wednesdays and Saturdays—via West Milton.

☞We noticed Chas. Merrill, Esq., in town, this week. He has been discharged from service on account of physical disability. He performed the part of a faithful soldier ever since Capt. Linn's Company was organized.

☞The press and type which were used in printing the Shamokin Herald have been purchased by the heirs of the late deceased Daniel Bower, and will be used to print a paper in Jersey Shore. The Herald has purchased a new outfit.

☞Stahl, the Book-binder, having removed to Altoona, those having work of that kind can be accomodated by sending it to C. Buchmiller, New Berlin. Mr. B. is an experienced, careful workman.

☞Dr. J. D. Strawbridge, now stationed at Harrisburg, paid Lewisburg a visit recently. He has seen some of the hardest service in Western Virginia, at Pea Ridge, on the Mississippi, and elsewhere—and, though greatly reduced in flesh, is as thoroughly devoted to the good cause as ever.

☞We see it stated that all correspondence from the army of the Potomac is ordered to be discontinued for a period of sixty days. This is thought by the commander to be necessary to prevent our movements being communicated to the enemy. In consequence of this, no news need be expected from this army until a battle is fought.

☞The idea of giving G. W. Woodward Five Thousand dollars a year, for sitting a few months a year as Chief Justice, is ridiculous. Those who know the habits of the man, know that his family expenses are not Two Thousand a year—and why, in these hard times, such a rich man should have Three Thousand a year for speculation and swelling his already sufficient wealth, is a mystery to all but the leading Copperheads and a few "liberal" Republicans.

"Drawed on and likewise Sucked in."—A very pretty "sell" was practiced on the Copperheads of New York City, at the recent Fair held there. A most superior, elegant, costly SWORD was on hand, to be given to the General whose friends should contribute the most money for the soldiers—every dollar to count a vote. In such a Secesh-sympathizing hole as New York City, it was supposed M'Clellan might have stood some chance, and accordingly his friends to get him "that" sword, to show to the world his popularity. Thousands of dollars were got in that way, from men and women who nothing else could have reached. Gen. Grant was fixed upon by the Unionists as the other candidate. For some days, the contest was close, and doubtful—some times Grant a few ahead, and some times M'Clellan. But after the time closed, and the votes were counted, it appeared clear that GRANT WAS OVER FIFTEEN THOUSAND AHEAD! So all M'Clellan's "popularity" vanished, as it will the day after the Presidential election, if that "excellent General for a stationary engine" concludes to run.

Harrisburg Correspondence.

TUESDAY, April 26.

Coming down yesterday, I found the peach in Dauphin county in full bloom. The afternoon was quite warm, and pleasant. Quite a thunder storm about ten in the evening, and brilliant lightning visible from the west windows of the Senate chamber, still in session. All sorts of rumors about our Potomac army.

Last Sunday, the colored Wesleyan Methodists of Harrisburg dedicated a commodious well built, brick Chapel, in plain view on the right, from the rear of the Capitol. J. Walker Jackson assisted in the services. The enterprise is a great credit to the colored population, who are quite numerous in that vicinity.

I am told the new Wells Coverley property has been purchased as the Governor's Mansion—the old Governor's Mansion being received in exchange for it. That is, the State gives Mrs. Coverley the old mansion, and the City gives her $20,000, as the price of a temporary abode of whoever happens to be Governor and chooses to occupy it. Now see if there is not an expenditure of "something handsome," every year, to correspond with the "dignity" presumed to be represented by the price of this new mode of depleting the Treasury.

The Appropriation Bill was again taken up, and the first move was to add $1,000 to the Governor's salary, for his expenses in visiting our sick and wounded soldiers. He is "Commander-in-chief of the army and navy of this Commonwealth, and of the militia." But the Constitution says that for his "services" he shall receive "a compensation which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected." This was too plain and palpable for a majority to resist, as a plain addition to the salary: but it was finally smuggled in among the "military" matters, some way; and the Governor's "services" are now rated as high in cash as Judge Woodward's, with house free to boot. Having done this, as an entering wedge, the other extra appropriations and compensations were readily voted: and the most extravagant personal appropriations seem likely to be made—on an empty Treasury! The Copperhead power is almost a unit on every question of this kind: a few of our men give them the majority: and then the whole will be charged upon us as a party measure!

The Appropriation Bill has elicited considerable debate in the Senate. Messrs LOWRY, JOHNSON and M'CANDLESS, especially, took strong and earnest ground against any increase of salaries during the present unsettled state of the country, and while so many tax payers are oppressed by high prices for necessaries and by the numerous demands upon the people everywhere to sustain Government against the Rebels. National and State Taxes, Relief and Bounty funds—all these are constant drains upon the mass of our people; and very many have their own private expenses and losses to meet. At the same time, large classes of people—laborers, and professional men—have had no addition to their incomes from which to meet these demands upon them. The few who have made money by contracts and otherwise out of the war, could indeed pay for additional taxations—but the mass can not, and should not be asked to. Lawyers' incomes have fallen off one-third to one-half, and why should Judges have an addition to theirs? The poor man's table is taxed extra as much as the rich man's: the tax payers are harmed as well as the office-holder: and therefore the latter should bear the burden equally with all others. As matter of policy, and of duty, therefore, those gentlemen took earnest and decided ground against the raising of compensation of salaried offices, even temporarily. But the solid phalanx of Copperheads, and our easy-living Philad. party friends, were "liberal," and the counsels of our party, as such, failed.

WEDNESDAY, April 27.

This has been a busy day.

The Apportionment Bill was adopted by the House, as it had been in Senate.

An important Militia Bill passed the House, the Cops voting against it.

The Revenue Bill, from the House, was discussed at length in Senate, as its importance deserved.

The day of Adjournment was fixed upon by concurrent vote, as follows:

"That this Legislature will adjourn on Thursday the fifth of May proximo at the hour of 12 o'clock, noon on said day, and will meet again on [Tuesday] the 23d day of August next, at 3 o'clock, P. M. for the purpose of receiving and counting the votes on the proposed Amendments to the Constitution, and of passing such laws only as may be necessary to carry the same into effect."

THURSDAY, April 28.

The Union State Convention met in the Hall of the H. R. this day at noon—132 members present. Senator Johnson, of Lycoming, was temporary Chairman, and Ex-Senator Lawrence, of Washington, President, of the Convention. One County having conceded the Representative Delegate to Snyder county, hoping to get the Senatorial, Center and Clinton counties combined as usual, and deprived Union county of any representation in the State Convention. The case stands thus:

Clinton county, with 1500 Union voters, has TWO Delegates;
Union county, with 2000 Union voters, has NO delegate!

This is the game those upper counties always played upon patient, patriotic Union, which is relied upon to do the voting but which had no voice in the State Convention of 1860, or in that of 1861. Thank the Lord we are released from them, now. Just think of it—Copperhead counties with two delegates, and Union with none, through the juggling and chicanery of "conferences." The single district system is much the best.

The Delegates from our neighborhood are—John F. Johnson of Center; Cha's. W. Wingard and John S. Furst of Clinton; Henry Johnson of Lycoming; Franklin Bound and John Youngman of Northumberland; Samuel Alleman of Snyder; John J. Patterson of Juniata;—Union, no one!

The choice of Delegates at Large to the Baltimore Convention, resulted as follows:

Simon Cameron of Dauphin.
Alex. K. M'Clure of Franklin.
Morrow B. Lowry of Erie, and Winthrop W. Ketchum of Luzerne.

SENATORIAL ELECTORS.

Morton M'Michael, of Philadelphia.
Thomas Cunningham, of Beaver.

Adjourned until evening. W.

The Cause of the War.

The U. S. Senate recently adopted, by a vote of 38 to 6, the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States:

Be it resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, two thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the said Constitution namely:

ART. XIII—Section 1. Neither Slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

The vote was as follows:

YEAS—Messrs Anthony, Brown, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Conness, Cowan, Dixon, Doolittle, Fessenden, Foot, Foster, Grimes, Hale, Harding, Harlem, Harris, Henderson, Howard, Howe, Johnson, Lane (Ind.), Lane (Kansas), Morgan, Morrill, Nesmith, Pomeroy, Ramsey, Sherman, Sprague, Sumner, Ten Eyck, Trumbull, Van Winkle, Wade, Wilkinson, Willey, and Wilson—38.

NAYS—Messrs. Davis, Hendricks, M'Dougal, Powell, Riddle, Saulsbury—6. (Buckalew "dodged!")

We trust the House will take early action on the resolution, and pass it by the requisite two-thirds vote, so that it may be acted upon by the States as promptly as possible. If passed within a few days, the Pennsylvania legislature would formally accept it before the adjournment of the session, and our great State, ever foremost in measures looking to the preservation of our Nationality, would be the first to declare in favor of the fundamental prohibition of Slavery within the limits of the Union.

The Governors of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, with General Heintzelman, met in Indianapolis on Friday, to consult, it is presumed, upon grave matters of state. It is intimated that these distinguished gentlemen are apprehensive of a rebel raid upon that border, and one object of their council is to provide the means of defence by the militia of the States interested, in case of such an attack. It is also rumored that it is the intention of the Federal authorities to call out the militia of the States for sixty days to garrison the defences of Washington while the Army of the Potomac is advancing upon Richmond, so that all the effective troops can be employed in the capture of the rebel capital.

MURDER WILL OUT—A man named Williams was murdered at Locust Gap, this county, in 1861, and all efforts to detect the murderer proved abortive. Recently, however, one Barney M'Goniegal was arrested in Minersville, Schuylkill county, upon the oath of the wife of Williams, as the murderer of her husband. He is now in jail at this place awaiting trial. If the woman sustains her charge, it will furnish another illustration of the truth of the old adage, that "murder will out."—Sunbury American.

If you find yourself inclined to wake up at a regular hour in the night and remain awake, you can break up the habit in three days by getting up as soon as you wake, and not going to sleep again until your usual hour for retiring.

On the morning of the 16th inst., a steam boiler attached to Cornelius & Baker's gas fixture and chandelier factory, in Philadelphia, exploded, killing seven or eight persons and wounding many more.

A number of rebels, professing to be deserters from Jeff Davis' army, arrived in Huntingdon the other day, and were arrested on suspicion of being rebel spies, and imprisoned.

The butchery of Union soldiers at Fort Pillow is fully confirmed.

Surrender of Plymouth, N. C.

Advices received via Fortress Monroe, dated Newberne, April 22, state that on the 20th the Rebels under Gen. Hoke captured Plymouth, N. C., after being repulsed several times with very severe loss. The post was garrisoned by 1500 troops, commanded by Gen. Wessels. Our loss in killed was about 180, and the remainder captured. Two full companies of colored troops were led out and murdered after the surrender. Twenty-five guns and a large quantity of stores were also captured. The Rebels were greatly aided by a formidable ram, which sunk two of our gunboats and disabled another. Capt. Flusser, commander of a Union gunboat, fired a shell at the ram, when a fragment of the missile rebounded, struck him in the breast, and instantly killed him.

A special despatch to the New York Tribune says:

"Twenty-five miles above Grand Ecore, from the left bank of Red River, the rebels opened on the transports Clara Bell and Rob Roy, firing 12 shots into them. A force of 1,000 mounted infantry—said to be to rebel General Green's command—came down in front of the battery and poured volleys of musketry into the steamers, which were getting the worst of it, when a small gunboat opportunely came up and shelled and silenced the battery, and compelled the rebels to fall back. Gen. A. J. Smith's corps (16th) subsequently arrive near the scene of action having crossed over from Grand Ecore, marched up the right bank of the River, and again crossed to punish the enemy. They captured two guns and seventeen wounded prisoners, who say positively that the rebel general was killed by a shell from our fleet. This is another signal victory. The rebels left 160 of their dead on the field, slaughtered by the terrific fire of our gunboats and transports, in their hurried retreat. The slightly wounded were taken off.

The guerrillas along the Mississippi are systematically interfering with the planting of cotton. It is their intention to prevent, as much as possible, the planting of that staple by the Unionists.

A general exchange of prisoners, it is announced in the Richmond Enquirer, has been agreed upon, and all prisoners of war of both sides will be included in the arrangement.

A recent expedition on the Rappahannock disclosed several Rebel ferries, which were promptly broken up.
