Twelve Thousand Hundred Day Men Called Out.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

Pennsylvania ss. A. G. Curtin. In the Name and by the Authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Andrew G. Curtin, governor of the said commonwealth.—A Proclamation.

Whereas, The President of the United States has, this day, made a call upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for twelve thousand militia volunteer infantry, to serve at Washington and its vicinity, for one hundred days, unless sooner discharged:

I, Andrew G. Curtin, Governor of the said Commonwealth, do make this, my Proclamation, in response thereto, and do hereby call on the freemen of Pennsylvania, of military age, to come promptly forward, as they have heretofore done, and fill the requisition for this important service.

It is apparent that the enemies of our Government, in desperation, are threatening us with an armed force, in the hope that the army of General Grant may be withdrawn from before Richmond, and I call upon the citizens of this Commonwealth, capable of bearing arms, to come forward without delay, and thus aid our heroic brothers in the great Army of the Republic.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-ninth.

By the Governor: ELI SLIFER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

[A subsequent call from Gov. Curtin is for an additional 12,000—TWENTY-FOUR THOUSAND MEN IN ALL,—to serve 100 days. No bounty is offered, nor will the service exempt men from the draft—but the time served under these calls will be credited to those who may hereafter be drafted.

Capt. M'CALL is raising a Company for Union county. The sooner opposing forces meet the enemy—who will push us long and as far as they can—so much the better.

Helps for the Soldiers.

A Lewisburg soldier writes home that few can realize the terrible heat and dust which afflict our great, grand army about Petersburg. But the nights were cold. Thus they suffer—and one result must be much summer sickness. To guard against this, and to keep up the general health, a variety of food and of preparations is needed. Add to these the wants of thousands in our hospitals, and it will be seen that much may and should be done, continually, to sustain and encourage our brave men facing the foes of our country in deadly strife. Thousands of lives have been saved by extra attentions, and thousands of lives may yet be preserved, pains mitigated, and sorrowful hours cheered.

Gov. Curtin has made a special and urgent call for donations for Pennsylvanians, in money or other supplies, to be forwarded either to Col. Francis Jordan, 487, Eleventh St. Washington, or to Col. James Chamberlin, Pa. Agt., Nashville, Tenn. The supplies most needed are—

Shirts, drawers, socks, handkerchiefs, domestic wines, liquors, canned vegetables and fruits, jams and preserves, apple, peach and quince butter, onions, tobacco, arm slings, finger stalls, bed rings and similar articles needed by the sick and wounded.

It is Completed!

On Saturday, the 2d July, 1861, Mr. Morehead, President of the Philad. & Erie Railroad Company, received the following despatch:

"Track just closed, two miles east of Johnsonburg. Philadelphia and Erie at last united with iron bands."

To secure safety, and entire adjustment, two weeks are required for the formal opening and use of the road as completed.

The Rebel Invading Force

Is very differently estimated. Some say it is merely a horse-stealing raid of 1500, under Moseby. Others allege there are 40,000 men, under Lee himself, hoping to capture Washington. It is evident our Government thinks it a somewhat formidable demonstration, and the safest way is to meet—at once—with an overwhelming force.

PRETTY PLAYTHINGS.—On the 4th, in New York, there were thirty, and in Philadelphia twenty, fires—some of them very destructive—caused by fireworks.

The Pirate "Alabama" is Sunk!

GREAT NAVAL VICTORY!

The Rebel pirate ship Alabama has been conquered in fair fight and sent to the bottom of the ocean! This noted piratical pest of our commerce met her end on the 19th June. The Union vessel, Kearsarge, (Capt. Winslow, of Miss.) was the victor. The Kearsarge is the smaller vessel. She had blockaded the Alabama in the harbor of Cherbourg on the north coast of France. It is said Capt. Semmes of the Alabama challenged Capt. Winslow, steaming out of the harbor directly for the Kearsarge, and firing the first shot, at 11, A M, about ten miles from land. Manoeuvering for positions, both vessels made several complete circles. About noon, the Alabama was so riddled that she started to return, but soon sunk, with a few men—but her crew were mostly saved, 68 being taken up by the Kearsarge, and Capt. Semmes and 10 of his men being rescued by an English ship which was looking on.

The Kearsarge put a shot through the boiler of the Alabama, followed by broadsides from larboard to starboard of the Kearsarge, making a breach four yards in length under the Alabama's water line—and that finished her. The Kearsarge received but little damage.

The Alabama lost 8 dead, 17 wounded. The Kearsage, only 3 slightly wounded.

From Co. E., 53d P. V.

NEAR PETERSBURG, June 18.

In the charge on the 16th inst., part of our regiment were taken prisoners. Among them are Lieut. H. F. Mengas, Serg. John Milson, Wm. Alvord, and Geo. Muckhany. Frank Kessler is wounded, not seriously. Wm. Smith, of Laureiton, shot thro' the body, can not live more than a few days. I am in division hospital, with a ball in my left cheek, which the Surgeon thinks best to leave there—but I expect to recover shortly, and live long enough to see this infernal rebellion crushed. There is terrible fighting, every day, but we are steadily gaining ground, and Petersburg must fall. Yours truly,

DAN'L. ARTMAN.

Ch. Cawley, Esq., Wm. Gill

DUNCAN'S BLACK BRIGADE gained Grant the works which command Petersburg. As the colored soldiers moved up to the fortifications, the Rebels stood upon them with a black flag, (signifying no mercy—no quarters asked or given,) and with insulting words and gestures. But the blacks rushed on through the showers of musket and cannon balls—with their bayonets, they cleared their way—and their late masters left the field, whipped. The blacks took no prisoners—they left no wounded: they accepted the challenge of the black flag!

Some "Results."

JULY 1.—Admiral Lee, commanding the North American blockading squadron, states that in the past year forty-two Rebel steamers, blockade runners, were captured by that squadron. At an average of 100 tons, there is a Rebel loss equivalent to that of a train of 12,600 wagons!

Many others have run the blockade—but such losses must discourage the Rebel emissaries and sympathizers abroad.

☞The Harrisburg Journal states that the 184th P. V., in a week after leaving that place, were in the battle of Cold Harbor, and since then in some of the severest engagements around Petersburg. At last accounts, Lt. Col. Charles Kleckner and many of his men were prisoners, so that of the 700 there are about 75 only in service.

DELIGHTFUL.—A mad dog bit the son of Mr. Campbell, chief of Police in Harrisburg; and a bad dog bit completely off the nose of a son of Rev. Mr. Gamble, in Lancaster. Dear, delicious dogs! we "hope it didn't make them sick!"

Yesterday morning, we are informed, seven sheep were killed and three supposed to be fatally wounded, near Biehl's hotel. Others were worried. All the work of worthless dogs, doubtless.

☞The Mifflinburg Telegraph reports, from 51st P. V., Solomon Derr and John Harris, killed; and Oliver Summers, Frank. Bentley, and Henry Houtz, wounded.

Charles Crotzer and J. W. Young, 184th P. V., supposed to be among the prisoners.

WILLIAM PITT FESSENDEN, of Maine, has entered upon duty as Secretary of the Treasury. As a man, as a statesman, and as a financier, he shares largely in public confidence.

☞Capt. Samuel Cuskaden (late Capt. James Chamberlin's company) reports that the Union county boys of 52d P. V. (now in South Carolina) are all well, and have easy times.

☞The 4th was very cool and pleasant—delightful weather for people to go abroad in—and so, many Lewisburgers went to the Milton celebration.

☞On any vacant land, try some of the Turnip Seed advertised in to-day's paper.

In Harrisburg, the Union Cadets and the City Zouaves, are organizing for the 100 days' service.....John Adams Fisher, one of the oldest lawyers in Dauphin County, died recently.

Extra Session of the Legislature.

This is called in pursuance of the following Act of the Legislature, and of nothing else:

"Resolved, That this Legislature will adjourn on Thursday, May 5, at the hour of 12, M. on said day, and will meet again on the 23d day of August next, at 3 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of receiving and counting the votes on the proposed Amendments to the Constitution, and of passing such Laws ONLY as may be necessary to carry the same into effect."

In the face of this plain and most unequivocal language, we see the Harrisburg Telegraph states that a committee on revising the Tax Laws will report at the adjourned session in August!

Further, we find a Board of appraisers for war damages openly advertise, in the public prints, in utter contempt of the very Legislative powers which made them what they are, that a certain bill pending in reference to war losses "will be determined at the adjourned session to be held in August next."

What mean these concurrent declarations that certain measures are to override the solemn intent and declaration of the Legislature? That Harrisburg should desire to have Legislation and "Daily Records" as long as possible—and that the Cumberland Valley losers by the chances of war would like to have their deficiences made good out of the Public Treasury—is nothing strange. But what right have their agents to state that the Senate and House will trample upon their own decision by going outside of the special and "ONLY" business for which they are to meet? Is this confident language of interested parties designed to mislead and take the Legislature unawares, or is it the defiant revelation of a perfectly concocted plan of the majority of each House to stultify themselves, by commencing miscellaneous business, the end of which no one can foresee?

This "Board of Appraisers" say they have "returned" four hundred and fifty claims, arising under the Stuart raid. The Militia claims, and the Anderson cavalry impressment claims of 1862, are not included in the 450—(nor are any of the damages of the Lee invasion of 1863, or of the consternation of 1864.) Now, if that Hon. Board would award damages to 450 persons for horses, or fences, &c., lost by Stuart's raid, only, who would attempt to say how much war damages—from our own men, and from Rebels—all the other incursions and collisions have caused? And if losses in those counties are to be recognized, every county in the State can prove damages and losses to her citizens, caused by the same invasions, and can show just as much equitable title to a recovery.

Will our exchanges bring this matter before their readers? Let the mass of the people, without regard to party or section, give their servants their views as to this bold attempt to sink the State tremendously in debt, by a law passed in the teeth of its own declaration that it would not then touch it, but would leave it for the people at large to consider! Let each Senator and Assemblymen understand that the eyes of the People are upon him, and attend to the Amendments and cognate matters "only."

WILSON'S EXCURSION

War Department Dispatch.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, July 3—9, P.M.

To Major-General Dix:

A dispatch from Gen. Grant's headquarters, dated at 9 o'clock this morning, gives the following results of Gen. Wilson's operations:

Sixty miles of railroad were thoroughly destroyed. The Danville road, Gen. Wilson reports, could not be repaired in less than 40 days, even if all material were on hand. He has destroyed all the blacksmiths' shops the rails might be straightened, and all the mills where scantlings for sleepers could be sawed. Thirty miles of the South Side road were destroyed. Wilson brought in about 400 negroes, and many of the vast number of horses and mules gathered by his force. He reports that the Rebels slaughtered without mercy the negroes they retook.

Wilson's loss of property is a small wagon train used to carry ammunition, his ambulance train, and 12 cannon. The horses of the artillery and wagons were generally brought off. Of the cannon, two were removed from their carriages, the wheels of which were broken, and thrown into the water; and one other gun had been disabled by a rebel shot breaking its trunnions before it was abandoned. He estimates his total loss at from 760 to 1,000 men, including those lost from Kautz's division.

EDWIN M. STANTON.
Secretary of War.

☞A Ladies' Fair received the following very polite note, to wit:

Dear Madams—Enclosed, plez find ten dollars—ef you kin. JOSH. BILLINGS.

The "goak" was, the ladies could n't find any ten! A letter to us from Mottville is in the same fix—the "enclosure" was omitted.

Rev. S. M. Hubbard, of New York, has received and accepted the unanimous call of the Lock Haven Baptist Church, and entered upon his labors.

The trouting season closes on the 30th of September.

An Incident.

As one of the brigades of the Reserve Corps which came up to the rescue of Gen. Thomas, at Chicamauga, was marching through Athens, Alabama, a bright eyed girl of four summers was looking at the sturdy fellows tramping by. When she saw the sun glancing through the stripes of red and on the golden stars of the flag, she exclaimed, clapping her hands, "Oh, pa! pa! God made that flag!—see the stars!" A shout, deep and loud, went up from that column, and many a bronzed veteran lifted his hat as he passed the sunny-haired child, resolving, if his good right arm availed anything, God's flag should conquer.

Sherman Advances again.

The Rebels under Jo. Johnson had a stronghold on Kenesaw mountain. Gen. Sherman made a direct attack upon it, but was said to be "repulsed" (with a loss of 1500,) and yet, immediately afterward, such was the position of forces that the enemy abandoned it, and on the 3d of July Gen. Sherman was in Marietta, only 20 miles from Atlanta. It is not known that any very formidable barrier, except the Chattahoochie river, stands between Sherman and Atlanta—ATLANTA, the most important railway connection and manufacturing point in the South West.

Hunter's Great Expedition.

On the 1st of July, Gen. David Hunter had reached Charleston, the head of navigation on the Kanawha river, in Western Virginia. He had marched from the Cumberland or Shenandoah Valley, through a mountainous country, mostly in June, with a force, (supposed to be 30 000 in all) five hundred miles, and his total loss, in all ways, was 2,000 men, while the Rebel loss is put at 5,000. Scattering his forces in different directions, he destroyed Rebel property to the amount of Five Millions of Dollars—including railroads, canals, and everything that could aid Lee's army in eating, clothing or fighting. He subsisted mostly on the country, losing not Government property, defeating the enemy in five engagements, and being rarely thwarted in his own efforts.

Of course, his men need rest and supplies, but we have reports that they had gone on to Parkersburg, where they could come east again.

Another Raid in the Valley.

Foiled in their effort to catch Hunter, the Rebel forces sent after that officer seems to have turned Northward, up the Shenandoah and Cumberland Vallies, so often traversed by both armies. Gen. Sigel was first encountered, and finding his force too small to fight and protect the Government property at Martinsburg, he sent the property farther this way for safety, and took up the Potomac as his line of defence. The Rebels failed of gaining Government supplies, but came on—in numbers variously stated—robbing friends and foes of everything they could make any use of whatever.

Alarm was very naturally excited, and from Sunday last contrabands, horses and cattle were swarming up Cumberland Valley.

Gen. Couch was at Chambersburg, sending forward forces, and Gen. Kelly at Cumberland, both on the lookout to ascertain the numbers and thwart the designs of the invaders.

Friday morning's Harrisburg Telegraph says the Rebels, Thursday, had reached Hagerstown, robbed the people of twenty thousand dollars in money, outfits of clothing for fifteen hundred men, and of watches &c. from the persons of those they met. They had also gathered some horses, cattle, &c.

The Rebels then retired toward Frederick City, where cannonading was heard. Gen. Lew. Wallace commands the Union force between Frederick and Washington city, and will do his duty.

It is conjectured that Gen. Hunter's force may come in from the West, and operate in the rear of the Rebels.

The following conversation with a wounded rebel in one of the Washington hospitals is reported: "What are you fighting for?" "Our independence." "Haven't you always had your independence?" "Yes, until this muss broke out." "Who fired first?" "Why, I suppose we did; as long as there was some firing to be done, we thought we might as well commence!"

At a meeting of the Copperheads of Hendricks county, Indiana, Gen. George B. M'Clellan was formally repudiated by the passage of a sarcastic resolution, because of "his war sentiment and tirade against our natural and political brethren of the South," contained "in his recent oration on that point."

He became as quiet as Keitt was after Grow "administered" upon him in like manner.

DENTAL CREAM,

for Cleansing, Whitening and Preserving the TEETH!

THIS article is prepared with the greatest care upon scientific principles and warranted not to contain anything in the slightest degree deleterious to the teeth or gums. Some of our most eminent Dental Surgeons have given their sanction to and cheerfully recommended it as a preparation of superior quality for cleansing, whitening and preserving the TEETH. It cleans readily, rendering them beautifully white and pearly without the slightest injury to the ENAMEL. It is healing to the gums where they are ulcerated and sore, and is an excellent disinfector for old or decayed teeth, which are often exceedingly offensive. It gives a rich and creamy taste to the mouth, cleansing it thoroughly, and imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath.

Prepared only by

A. HAWLEY,

N. W. corner 10th and Lombard Sts. Philadelphia, and sold by all Druggists.

PRICE 25 CENTS.

Testimonials.—The following opinion of Dr. White as to the high esteem in which he holds the Dental Cream, must be sufficient evidence of its value. To quote others in detail is needless, contenting ourselves by simply giving the names and addresses of persons who speak of its excellence for the teeth.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15, 1863.

Having carefully examined A. HAWLEY'S SOLIDIFIED DENTAL CREAM, I cheerfully recommend it to the public generally. It is an excellent preparation for cleansing and preserving the teeth, and can be used by all persons with the utmost confidence, as its properties are perfectly harmless. Besides preserving the teeth, it promotes a healthy action to the gums, and imparts a pleasantness to the breath.
