ABOVE THE CROWD.

In these days of high discerning,
Growing knowledge, great and grand,
When at last the doors of learning
Open to the people stand,
He must be, indeed, aspiring,
Self-reliant, yet not proud,
Firm, determined and untiring,
Who would rise above the crowd.

His must be a heart unjaded
By life's cruel wrongs and stings,
Making yearnings, wrecked and faded,
Stepping-stones to higher things,
All the warmth of youth's bright season,
Earnest hope, and noble plan,
Joining with the subtle reason
And the patience of the man.

Few such men there be, my brothers!
Look around us, and we see
Petty arts to dazzle others,
Selfishness, and vanity;
Conscience, love, and peace forgetting,
Yearnings, tenderest and best,
In our favored, foolish fretting,
To be greater than the rest.

Ah! that 'mid life's outward splendor,
And its glitter, bright to view,
We had more of yearning tender
For the beautiful and true!
More of earnest striving ever
For true greatness, throned afar,
Less of pitiful endeavor
To seem other than we are!

Little worth our gifts and labors
If we value them alone
For the homage of our neighbors,
And the glitter 'round us thrown:
He alone is truly lifted
O'er the crowd in heart and mind,
Who, with power and patience gifted,
Seeks the good of all mankind.

One or the Other.

An anecdote wegth laughing over is told of a man who had an infirmity, as well as an appetite for fish. While making a bill with his merchant, slid when his back was turned, the honest buyer slipped a codfish up under his coat tail. But the garment was too short to cover up the theft, and the merchant perceived it.

"Now," said the customer, anxious to improve all opportunities to call attention to his virtues, "Mr. ———, I have traded with you a great deal, and have paid you promptly and honestly, haven't I?"

"Oh," answered the merchant, "I make no complaint."

"Well," said the customer, "I always insisted that honesty is the best policy, and the best rule to live and die by."

"That's so," replied the merchant.

And the customer turned to depart.

"Hold on, friend," cried the merchant, "speaking of honesty, I have a bit of advice to give you. Whenever you come to trade again, you had better wear a longer coat or steal a shorter codfish."

We read of a philosopher, who, passing through a mart filled with articles of taste and luxury, made himself quite happy with this simple yet sagacious reflection—"How many things there are here that I do not want!" Now, this is just the reflection with which the earnest believer passes through the world. It is richly furnished with what are called "good things." It has posts of honor and power to tempt the restless aspirings of ambition of every grade. It has gold and gems, houses and lands, for the covetous and unostentatious. It has innumerable bowers of taste and luxury, where self-indulgence may revel. But the Christian, whose piety is deepened, and whose spiritual perceptions are clear, looks over the whole and exclaims, "How much is there here that I want not! I have what is far better—my treasure in heaven."—Dr. Tyng.

A CAREFUL ANSWER.—In one of our courts lately, a man who was called upon to appear as a witness could not be found. On the Judge asking where he was, a gray, elderly gentleman rose up, and with much emphasis said, "Your Honor, he's gone."

"Gone! gone! said the Judge, "where is he gone?"

"That I can't inform you," replied the old gent, "but he's dead."

—This is considered the best guarded answer on record.

The following conversation with a wounded rebel in one of the Washington hospitals is reported: "What are you fighting for?" "Our independence." "Haven't you always had your independence?" "Yes, until this muss broke out." "Who fired first?" "Why, I suppose we did; as long as there was some firing to be done, we thought we might as well commence!"

When MILTON had lost his eyesight, King Charles II. said to him, "Do you not think your blindness is a judgment upon you for having written in defence of my father's murder?" The reply of "the old man eloquent" was cogent: "Sir, it is true I have lost my eyes; but, if all calamitous providences are to be considered as judgments, your majesty should remember that your royal father lost his head."

One of Johnson's, men taken prisoner, on being asked what he thought of our forces and General Sherman, replied in the following rather extravagant, but at the same time truthful style: "Sherman gets on a hill, flops his wings and crows; then yells out, 'Attention, creation! By kingdoms, right wheel! march!' And then we git." (That is, they run!)

The Richmond papers upbraid Cochran, candidate for the Vice Presidency on the Fremont ticket, with so soon forgetting the vow he made, in a speech at Richmond, that if the Federal Government should attempt to coerce the South, he (Cochrane) would be found sword in hand on the side of Old Virginia!

Henry Ward Beecher disposed of Rev. Dr. Lord's Bible argument for slavery, without much reverence, the other day. He said: "When Ham was cursed, he was cursed by a man who had just got over a drunken debauch, had the headache, and was not authorized to curse anybody."

The lady looks oldest who tries to conceal her age. If she refuses to let her age be upon her tongue, it will be all the more in her face.

From the Pastor of the Baptist church, Pemberton, N. J., formerly of the North church, Philada.

* * * I have known Hoofland's German Bitters favorably for a number of years. I have used them in my own family, and have been so pleased with their effects that I was induced to recommend them to many others, and know that they have operated in a strikingly beneficial manner. I take great pleasure in thus publicly proclaiming this fact, and calling the attention of those afflicted with the diseases for which they are recommended, to these Bitters, knowing from experience that my recommendation will be sustained. I do this more cheerfully as Hoofland's Bitters is intended to benefit the afflicted and is not a rum drink.
Yours truly, LEVI G. BECK.

From Rev. Dr. Brown, Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the benefit he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to "Hoofland's German Bitters," prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt on six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.
J. NEWTON BROWN, Philadelphia.

From the Pastor of the Germantown Baptist church.

Dr. C. M. Jackson—Dear Sir: Personal experience enables me to say that I regard the German Bitters prepared by you as a most excellent medicine. In cases of a severe cold and general debility, I have been greatly benefited by the use of the bitters, and doubt not that they will produce similar effects on others.
Yours truly, WARREN RANDOLPH.

From the Pastor of Holding M. E. church, Philada.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: Having used your German Bitters in my family frequently, I am prepared to say that it has been of great service. I believe that in most cases of general debility of the system, it is the safest and most valuable remedy of which I have any knowledge. Yours respectfully, J. H. TURNER.

From the former Pastor of the Columbia (N. J.) and Millerstown (Pa.) Baptist Churches.

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y.

Dr. C. M. Jackson—Dear Sir: I feel it a pleasure that of my own accord, to bear testimony to the excellence of the German Bitters. Some years since, being much afflicted with Dyspepsia, I used them with very beneficial results. I have often recommended them to persons enfeebled by that tormenting disease, and have heard from them the most flattering testimonials as to its great value. In cases of general debility, I believe it is a tonic that can not be surpassed. JOHN M. LYONS.

From Rev. Dr. Winter, Pastor of Roxborough Baptist church.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I feel it due to your excellent preparation, Hoofland's German Bitters, to add my testimony to the deserved reputation it has obtained. I have for years, at times, been troubled with great disorder in my head and nervous system. I was advised, by a friend, to try a bottle of your German Bitters, I did so, and have experienced great and unexpected relief; my health has been materially benefited. I confidently recommend the article where I meet with cases similar to my own, and have been assured by many of their good effects. Respectfully yours,
THOMAS WINTER.

From Rev. J. S. Herman, of the German Reformed church, Kutztown, Berks county.

Dr. C. M. Jackson—Respected Sir: I have been troubled with Dyspepsia nearly twenty years, and never used any medicine that did me as much good as Hoofland's Bitters. I am very much improved in health, after having taken five bottles.
Respectfully yours, J. S. HERMAN.
