[If any think the tone of the annexed spirited stanzas too severe, we will state that they are written by the widow M. F. TECKER, of Macon, Mich., whose husband (Lleut. E. L. TUCKER, 4th Mich. Cav.) is one of the noble sons of the sires of '76 who has laid down his life for the Union.]

Forth in the early morn he rode, His spirit scorning fear, The sunlight on his armor glowed-My noble cavalier! But, see! from hidden covert dim.

(God curse the dastard foe!) A deadly bullet, aimed at him, Has laid my darling low ... Ob, men! my woman arm is weak, Avenge my dead for me! Nor stay your hands till Rebel blood Floys like a crimson sea!

The golden sunshine of the South (Dim be its glory, now!) Had never kissed so sweet a mouth, Nor crowned so fair a brow.

But, ah! the look of tender trust, The loving smile, have fled, His dear form moulders in the dust ... Up, men! avenge my dead! Bear on the standard that he bore! Wave high the banner free!

Nor stay your hands till Rebel blood Flows like a crimson sea! Atoid the hell of shot and shell, And bullets raining fast, And flame and flash, and roar and crash

Ring out your bugle blast. Lift up your sabres in the sun! Nor sheath the trusty steel, E'en though the victory is wen, And traitor minions reel-But charge upon their broken line,

O, follow where they flee! Nor stay your hands till Rebel blood Flows like a crimson sea! Would Mercy with her syren tongue

Beguile thee from the trust? Disdaining to be merciful, Oh, men! be only Just! I charge you by the widow's wail, And by the orphan's wee -I charge you by the hopes that fail,

And by the tears that flow-Ob, pierce Rebellion's cursed heart! Strike deep for mine and me! Nor stay your hands till Rebel blood Flows like a crimson sea!

The Best Food.

The high prices of provisions naturally lead sensible persons to reflect how they may economize-to experiment-to learn what is most wholesome and profitable. Hall's Journal of Health conclusively shows that beans, wheat flour, corn mesl, and rice contain twice the nutriment of snimal food, and are digested in balf the time. Of four, 5 pounds at 5 ets (.25c) contain as much nearisbment as 5 pounds in the most approved and satisfactory manner. of roast beef at 25 ets. ($2.25.) A pint | She keeps on hand an assortment of choice | JEWELRY, for Ladies and Gentlemen, which of white beans, costing 7 cts, has as much putriment as 31 pounds meat at 25 cts. Cabbages, potatoes, turnips, and similar vegetables have but a small proportion of very nutritous matter, but they are quite useful in combination with highly onncentrated food, and also perform a very important office in the daily distension of the bowels needed. Ripe fruits are also desirable when properly used. Eggs and batter are highly nu ritious, but are too much indulged in. Food highly seasoned and rich often tends to corrupt the humors piles, &c. Proverbially, p'ain livers con beast of better health, appetites relishing their food, and longer lives, than those who pamper their palate.

People differ in entitution and in habits, yet here doubtless is much to be considered, both on the score of economy and of bealth.

About Rations.

The Robel rations are now sixteen oz. corn meal, and four oz bacon, per dayfow or no extras. This is very plain but wholesome diet, and enables Lee's men to perform labor and accomplish marches worthy of a better cause. Our men get more, and a greater variety-but it is very doubtful whether it makes as hardy and es museplar soldiers.

Raw soldiers are great exters. At first they bad rather cat their rations than to corry them, and wasted much-but they grew wiser by degrees. The black soldiers est tremendonely, and never having been eccustomed to provide for themselves are improvident. Speaking of rations-Col. Groesbeck, of the 39th Ohio, once became very popular with his Dutchmen. They had put up three days' rations for an expedition, which was countermanded. and Groesbeck's stupid messenger went around at midnight with an order to "get and Carpentering business in all their various up and eat their three days' rations." course, the boys "obeyed orders," and by daylight were all hard it! Messes soon began to report at headquarters. One was making satisfactory progress-some had got to second day's dinner, third day's breakfast-one begged extension of time, another a renewal of the order-one was full to the throat, and had a day and a

DR. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL

TS the vital principle of the Pine Treedistillation of the Tar by which its highest medicinal properties are retained. It is the medicine that cures when all others fail.

Have you a Cough? Have you Sove Throat? Have you any of the premonitory symptoms of that most fatal disease—tensuspiton?

Those who should be warned by these symptoms generally think lightly of them until it is too late. From this fact, perhaps more than any other, arises the sad prevalence and fatality of disease which areups to the grave at least one such of death's victims.

grave at least one sigh of death's victims.

What are its symptons?

It usually begins with ashort, dry cough, which soon becomes habitual, but for some time nothing is raised except a frelly signar. The breathing is somewhat difficult, and upon slight exercise much harried. A sense of tightness and opportunes at the chest is often felt. As the disease advances, the patient becomes thin in fieth, is afflicted with loss of appetite, great langer, indolance, and dejection of spirits: may continue in this state for a considerable length of time: and is very readily affected by slight exposure or fatigue. If these occur, the cough becomes more troublesome, and is attended with expectoration, which is most copious and free early in the morning. It is sometimes streaked with blood. At this stage, night-weats usually set in and in some cases a profuse bleeding of the lungs may also eccur. Pain in some part of the chest is felt, and often a difficulty of lying upon one or the other side without severe fits of coughing by a sense of fullness or sufficiation. The putse becomes full, hard, and frequent, the hectic flush tings the checks, and the dire malady is fast has length of the close.

You means to the cough!

Insing to its close.

You now sek, Lethers a cure?

Consumption has been and cut be excel by the use of my TAR CURDIAL, even in apparently hopeless cases. This assertion I make with the ability to present the most complete evidence of the truth. Space will not admit of my giving the contents of the many thousands of testimonials to its value, which I have been and an receiving from use and women of unquestionable worth and reputation. I have had a number of these certificates printed in circular form which I will send you free on application. Whether you now determine to try the medicine or not, send for the circular. After years of study and experiment, I offer this medicine, believing it to be the best remedy for all pulmonary and broatchial diseases. If you can not be benefited by the use of the TAR CORDIAL, I believe you are beyond all earthly and. Yet if there are better curate agents, I earnestly solvies their use. The best remedies, the best care, are needed by those afflicted with this disease. Because I believe this to be the best, I ask you to try it.

Many, not only of the people, but physicians of every this to be the best, I ask you to try it.

Many, not only of the people, but physicians of every school and practice, are daily asking me, What is the principle or cause of your success in the treatment of Poissonory Charamption! My answer is this:

The invigoration of the digestive organs—the strengthening of the debilitated system—the purification and excidence of the blood, must expel from the system the corruption which service to break. While this is effected by the recently alternative (changing from disease to corruption which scrofuls breeds. While this is effected by the powerful alterative (changing from disease to health) properties of the Tar Cordial, its healing and renovating principle is also setting upon the irritated surfaces of the lungs and throat, penetrating each diseased part, relieving pain, subduing inflamation, and restoring a healthful tendency. Let this twe-fold power, the healing and the strengthening, continue to act in conjunction with Nature's constant resuperative lendency, and the patient is saved, if he has not too long delayed a resort to the means of curs.

The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL will cure Coughs, Sore Throat and Breest, Bronehitis, Asthma, Croup. Hopping Cough, Highterias, and is also an carellent remedy for disease of the kidneys, and female complaints.
