FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 11.

St. Hickory's Day.

The Eighth of January stands as one of the monumental columns in American history, and already its hero looms up in the legends of the Republic. The day and its man figure together in the public mind, as the types of American independence and democracy, and their memory is one of the strong links that unite the North, the West and the North in the bonds of fraternal suffering and triumph. Such dates as this, the 4th of July, the 22d of February, the 22d of December, and so forth, are to us what the Fasti were to the ancient Romans—they are inscribed on the tablets of the national memory and handed down to posterity to be preserved forever. Their history, thank God! still quickens the national pulse and strengthens all quickens the national pulse and strengthens its resolves; and as we descend into the present hour, these great deeds of our ancestors fire us with emulation to do yet greater deeds which shall also be written on the Fasti of America.

In Hungary, in Switzerland, in Scotland, and wherever the patriotic fires burn with perennial increase, they are kept alive and fresh by the old war songs of the nation, its historic moun; ments, and the stories of the olden times, which descends from sire to son. So must it be also in this vast American confederation.

And fortunately for us, there are no lack of memorable events even in our as yet brief history. Every month of the year might have its red-letter day, as every section of the land has its gallant victories—achieved at an epoch, too, when the nation's heart beat with a steady pulse, when its arm was traced with a youthful strength, and its eye was still clear and vigorous. The pride in these by-gone deeds of renown should become as universal as their significance, and the calendar of patriots be as catholic as that of saints. Time has canonized Old Hickory in the general heart; the local prejudices of his contemporaries have worn away as he has receded into the distance; and now the impetuous Southron, the unflinching Northroyer, and the great-souled man of the West, find in him their ideal hero. In many respects he is the counterpart of Washington—in others his supplement—but, like him, he was great in war, in council and in character. The electric shock of that victory at New Orleans was felt all over the country, and the spirit of independence seemed to come forth to its second birth. And when long afterwards, at the head of the nation stood that grim old lion of New Orleans, it was felt that this was no phantom Government to be waved into chaos by the wand of the skinny witch Disunion, but that it was then, as it is yet, the strongest Government in all the world. It were well for the nation to-day if it could feel somewhat the spirit of the old chieftain, and swear again his great oath of fealty to the Union.

New York and New Orleans meet upon common and fraternal ground to-day. Their mutual cannon and trumpets belch and bray in honor of a common hero. The proverbially fair women and brave men of the Crescent City, dance in harmony with the equally brave and fair of the Empire City, in commemoration of the same illustrious day. And there is no doubt that the patriotic pulse of both cities and both sections would beat stronger and steadier, would they but devote this day to the wise contemplation of the spirit and character of the stern and Union-loving St. Hickory.—N. Y. Times.

The Philadelphia Union Meeting on Saturday Evening.

The two following paragraphs are from the North American, which designates the meeting as "A majestic demonstration:"

An expression of public sentiment was made at the meeting of Saturday evening quite as decisive and emphatic as our people have ever united in. Such an occasion was never before known, for at no previous time since this government was founded has any general attempt been made to tear it in pieces, and set fire to the ruins, as a madman might destroy and burn the house he had built when sane for his own shelter. In directness, in enthusiasm, and in overwhelming force of numbers as well as opinion, the meeting was, as it should have been, without parallel in this city. No one can hereafter doubt the spirit or the loyalty of our citizens, nor their power to rise above all partisanship when the government is in real danger, and express their firm determination to aid the constituted authorities of the nation to the last extremity.

It was not because men here or elsewhere might doubt the existence of such a spirit that this meeting was held; it was rather because the spontaneous feeling of all men here declared that the occasion demanded such an expression. Self respect required that these threatening days should not go by without something being said for the public as a whole, corresponding in tone with the outbursts of patriotic expression every man made to his neighbor in private intercourse. With no effort at preparation, therefore, and with no special anxiety on the subject of party considerations, a meeting in the highest sense non-partisan and patriotic convened at a few hours' notice, and gave a dignified and overwhelmingly forcible utterance to that which every man earnestly thinks. With less than this every one of us would have felt that our first duty was not done, and whatever may become our duty beyond this is now comparatively easy to do.

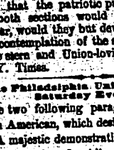
Soyer's Sultana Sauce,

FOR HOT AND COLD DISHES OF ALL KINDS.



This most delicious and appetising Sauce, invented by the renowned "SOYER," for the London Reform Club, is, since his decease, manufactured by the well known house of Chessel & Blatchly, London, from the original recipe. It is the favorite Sauce in England, and on the Continent, with a high and growing reputation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and aid to digestion.

OPINIONS OF THE LONDON PRESS.

"We commend our correspondent to try Mons. Soyer's new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of HOW AND WEAK DIGESTION."—The Lancet.

"Savory, Piquant and Spicy, worthy the genius of Soyer."—Observer.

"A most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh and Fowl, and should have a place on every table."—Atlas.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS; SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ENTHYSICAN, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.

LOWELL, MASS.

Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidences of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we presume its virtues are known to the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price 25 cents per Box; Five boxes for $1.00.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below have AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S, and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

D. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS & IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON particularly adapted for Dyspepsia and Costiveness. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it for the prevention of fever and ague, depression of spirits, loss of appetite, and all other sickly complaints. Indigestion is necessarily in almost every case the cause. Incorporate it with the Pills in which it is given, and you have an absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Sick Headache, Blood Spitting, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the accumulated diseases of nervous and vascular senility from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful in each case which it was given. Its action per written agreement, will cure or refund money. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhood, have suddenly re-appeared in the midst of their friends, after returning from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of its efficacy in cases of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent consumption, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic disorders to which old maidens for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for persons debilitated by medical mercury, for whatever the old cause, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and consequently and gently, regularly but surely corrective of the obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a distressing nausea.

It is the latest discovery, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Salt Rheum, which it also appears to exert a direct and specific agency upon, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, Innumerable as are its forms, it is a remedy of three daily bases Pills taken before a single meal for any length of time daily necessary, including the attendant Costiveness.

In protracted Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera, and its Dysenteric, or consumptive, exhausting, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pain, loss of flesh and great strength, debilitating effects of a remittent hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculous, this medicated iron has had far more than the general effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The astonishment of families cannot be too candidly furnished to this remedy and restoratives, in the same powerful Sterling Form.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, we re-declare—it has been invariably found especial, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In intermittent Fevers (Fever and Ague), as a great remedial and therape
