FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 25.

George the Third and his Keepers.

It would have been well if the errors of the physicians had been confided to ignorance; but their negligence was still more reprehensible. While the poor maniac was deprived of those tender offices which his wife and daughters might have rendered, he was abandoned to the care of low mercenaries; and so little discrimination was observed in the choice of his attendants, that the charge of his person devolved chiefly on a German page, named Ernst, who was utterly unworthy to be trusted with the charge of the humblest of his fellow creatures. This man, who has been raised by the patronage of his Majesty, repaid the kindness of his royal master with the most brutal ingratitude. He went so far as to strike the helpless king, and on one occasion, when his Majesty wished to go into the gardens of Kew, protract his exercise in the gardens of Kew, Ernst seized him in his arms, carried him into a chamber, and throwing him violently on a sofa, exclaimed in an insolent manner to the attendants, "There is your king for you!"

These outrages were perpetrated in the seclusion of the palace at Kew, to which the King had been removed in the month of October, at which he was much attached, by the promise that he should see his children at Kew. He entered the carriage cheerfully, but on passing through the iron gates of the little park, he put his hands before his face, and burst into tears. Recovering his composure, however, he talked to the equerries who accompanied him to the carriage in his ordinary hurried manner, pointing out the objects in the road, and anticipating the pleasure long denied him, of seeing his wife and daughters. But, on his arrival at Kew, he found himself a prisoner. Proceeding toward the apartments he usually occupied, he was stopped and conducted into a large room, where he found the pages who were to be his keepers waiting to receive him.

The equerries, among whom was his faithful and valued servant, General Harcourt, according to the orders they had received, withdrew. The physicians also who had accompanied the royal patient from Windsor, having consigned him to the charge of the pages, also thought proper to retire, and actually returned to London the same night. The king then impatiently demanded to see his family, and the promise under which he had been induced to leave his palace of Windsor was, in cruel mockery, fulfilled. The princesses were brought before the window; the king, on seeing them, rushed forward to lift the sash, but it was screwed down. A paroxysm was the immediate consequence of this cruel restraint; the princesses were hastily removed, and the king was dragged from the window, entreating to be allowed to speak to his children.—[Massey's History of England.

Coffee Trade of the United States

The principal countries that have failed to furnish the usual supply are Brazil and Java, besides some others of lesser note, beyond the Cape of Good Hope. The receipts at this port from all points, foreign and coastwise, for the year ending December 31, 1860, were 541,845 pkgs., or 78,152,637 lbs., against receipts in 1859 of 772,789 pkgs., or 101,515,786 lbs., while the quantity taken for consumption in 1860 amounted to 66,885,297 lbs., against a consumption in 1859 of 83,200,472 lbs., and in 1858 of 86,106,843 lbs.—showing a decline in the consumption of 1860, as compared with 1859, of over 20 per cent.

The total receipts of Coffee in the United States, (with the exception of the States on the Pacific,) for the year ending Dec. 31, 1860, were 1,259,818 packages, weighing 165,779,689 lbs., against receipts in 1859 of 1,746,587 pkgs., weighing 245,527,366 lbs., while the total consumption in 1860 was 1,230,477 pkgs., weighing 177,630,623 lbs., against a consumption in 1859 of 1,686,503 packages, weighing 225,882,250 lbs.; being a decrease in the consumption of 1860, as compared with 1859, of 336,026 pkgs., or 46,362,326 lbs.—a decline of over 20 per cent. The decrease has been distributed among the ports as follows: New York shows a falling off of 15 per cent.; Boston, 18 45 per cent.; Philadelphia, 49 34 per cent.; Baltimore, 21.44 per cent.; New Orleans, 14.23 per cent.; and other ports, 15 per cent. In the calculation the coastwise receipts are not included, being already counted at the original port of entry. —N. Y. Shipping List.

Poison—Its Antidote.

Farm, stock raising, and cheese-making have been my employ since. I now say to your readers something which I think will be useful for them to know. The subject that I will introduce is poison and its sovereign remedy.

In a now twenty years since I learned that sweet oil would cure the bite of a rattlesnake, not knowing that it would cure any other poison. Practice, observation and experience have taught me that it will cure poison of any kind both in man and beast. I think no farmer should be without a bottle of it in his house. The patient must take a spoonful internally and bathe the wound for a cure. To cure a horse it requires eight times as much as it does a man. Here let me say of one of the most extreme cases of snake bite in this neighborhood, eleven years ago this summer, where the case had been over thirty hours standing, and the patient given up to die by the doctors. I heard of it, carried the oil and gave him one spoonful which created a cure. It is an antidote for arsenic and strychnine. It will cure bleat in cattle, caused by eating too freely of fresh clover; it will cure the sting of bees, spiders, or any insects; and it will also cure persons who have been poisoned by a low running vine growing in meadows, called ivy.

HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation far too well known, and too firmly established to require comment. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is declined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that "Bitters" have a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly sacred that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. In order then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste, as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pure Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

Scrofula and Scrofulous Complaints, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Doloureux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the worst class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many kindling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the outburnance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly discredited, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have good faith believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PROF. WOOD'S

Restorative Cordial
AND BLOOD RENOVATOR

IS PRECISELY WHAT ITS NAME INDICATES—For while pleasant to the taste, it is very effective in toning, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and invigorates the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. Be chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted to its use in perfect accordance with the laws of Nature, and hence reaches the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetable and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. This remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the invalid thoroughly skilled in medical science and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to use this debility fully—all that is necessary is to use it, and enjoy the unbounded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to the whole race from humanity is constantly liable, such, for example, as the following: consumption, bronchitis, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, faintness, nervous irritability, nervous prostration or debility, weak heart, melancholy, hypochondria, night sweats, languor, giddiness, and all kinds of chronic or acute weakness. The fatal if neglected to in time, called men's weakness or irregularities. Also, liver derangements or torpidity, liver complaint, jaundice, fever and ague, scalding or incontinence of the urine, or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back, side and between the shoulders, predisposition to slight colds, hacking and continued cough, consumption, difficulty of breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debilitating infirmities and fevers, but effectually attacks arising from miasmatic influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and powerfully upon the blood, by removing the liver to action, producing, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any one(s) as come(s) in following upon change of climate and water; hence, all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a table spoonful at least before bathing. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits seamen, engineers, &c. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find as agreeable, pleasant and efficient remedy as those ills which rob them of their beauty—for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist when the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect mother's relief. Taken a month or two before the final hour arrives, she will be greatly benefited with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it, this Cordial is all we claim for it. Modest, candid, and truthful as we are, we cannot, we dare not, declare not only of your daughters before it is too late, but of your sons and brothers, for whom we feel so much interest, others go down to premature graves rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are willing to submit to even the excitement of inventions, that if it were not for you, they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to recall the fatal act. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal, for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need.
