Pittsburgh Gazette. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. MONDAY MORNING, FEB. 11, 1861. CITY AFFAIRS. E.... The Late Dr. Eryan. Some days ago we copied a notice of the late amented Dr. Bryan, from a Memphis paper, which expressed the high esteem in which he the Nashville "Bonner of Peace." which we take pleasure in laying before our readers, as a m Tennessee, testifying to the friends of Dr. Bryan that his virtues were appreciated wherever he was known: preciated wherever he was known:

"We are deeply pained this week to isform the rharch of the late sadden death by paralysis of our highly esteemed triend and brother, Rev. Dr. Brysn., paster of the Comberland Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh, Pa. All the details to hand will be found elsewhere in this paper. The whole church will mourn at the sews. Dr. Bryan was innucationably one of our representative men; as not seen as in the series of the paper. caurch will mourn at the sews. Dr. Dran was sunquestionably one of our representative men; a man of whom we felt justly proud; a man of power in the pulpit, and of long and unflagging devotion to the cause of God; a man of eloquence, gospel anction, persuasive appeal, courteous manners, and dignified bearing. A great light has gone out in our church in the North.

Dr. Bryan, we believe, was a native of Kentucky, where he first preached the gospel. More than threatly years ago he went as an evangelist to Pittabergh; and began to Preach. He preached in the streets and market-places: His unction and Holy Ghost power, his voice of sweetness, stopped the heigh; and began to breach. He preached in the streets and market-places: His unction and Holy Ghost power, his voice of sweetness, stopped the wandering sinner on the road to death: he listened, and the truth fastened. He built a chorch, under God, over which he was pastor uniterruptionly, we believe, until his call to Memphis, where he spent a few pleasant years of able ministration, and where he extended his already wide reputation. His old flock at Pittsburgh called him back, and he want to the bosom of a congregation whose effection had never known abstement. They had been scattered but at the sound of his voice the massic spell of the google attracted the wandering magic spell of the gospel attracted the wander sheep cace more to the fold. All looked forwards the long, peaceful, and delightful association with their aid and beloven pastor. But rudden death has cut short their hopes, and spread a desolation incalculable in the bearts of a loving family. We mean with them. The church throughout will mourn a watchmax whose place now it would seem a difficult task to fill. He had done a noble servant had fromby mean fight are a double servant. ce, had fought a good fight, and was, doubtless ready for the crown; but it seems to human eye that the church greatly needed yet his counsel and example. But we humbly rest the matter with the wirdom of the great God. Dr. Brysn lived and died in the gospel barness. See, he litterly went up in the midst of the sounding of the goope of peace. What a noble part! To fall on sleep singing to Christians in the charch militant, to wake singus; the soung of Moses and the Lamb with the church triumphant! The paralytic stroke silenced a touse on whose atterances thousands have hung enraptured; but

"Then in a nobler, sweeter song
I'll sing thy power to awe,
