THE NEW YORK DAY BOOK says:
"The majority of Hair Washes, Hair Dyes, Hair Tonics, Hair Oils, and the numberless preparations which the public under such extravagant, hyperbolical and fantastic titles as we see paraded in show windows cards, and newspaper headings, as hair preparations are all humbugs of the first water; their real merit, when they possess any, is, that they do no harm. HOOF'S LAIR, WHALE OIL LARD OIL, SWEET OIL, scented and colored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers and white flint glass bottles, the costliest character of tonics; and when these costly, are begrimed with some vegetable sarum, and caught at by verdant young and old of both sexes. Such is not the character of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative. The gentleman comes before the world without any "high falutin" Xilophilorium, or any other astounding and Hairor-ific---that it surpasses gruelly---and as a restorative it acts. Buy Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and see your valise your face, your eye, your very brains, apply nothing else for it may be that you will get some worse substance than perfumed lard oil on your cranium. Remember, Wood's Restorative for the Hair is the best article extant."

It Will, by Nature's own Process,
Restore Gray Hair to the Original Color,
Will make Hair Grow on Bald Heads,
Will restore the Natural Secretions,
Will remove it once all itching,
Will remove all Dandruff,
Will cure all eruptions---even Scald Head,
Will make the Hair Soft and Glossy,
Will make the old appear young again,
Will preserve the Color of Hair to old age,
Will always Fasten it and stop its Falling,
And is one of the best Toilet Articles for the Hair now in use.

Manufactured by O. J. WOOD & CO., and sold Wholesale and Retail, at 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market st., St. Louis, Mo.

VALUABLE IMPROVEMENT
In Steam and Atmospheric Hammers.

LETTERS PATENT were granted on Sept. 4th, 1860, to Thomas Roach, for a very simple and efficient improvement in Steam and Atmospheric Hammers, whereby the full stroke of the hammer is obtained, no matter what is the thickness of the mass of iron to be hammered---thereby affecting a great increase of power where large pieces of metal are to be operated upon, and a corresponding saving of expense.
The subscribers are owners of said patent, and are desirous of selling rights to one said improvement, as well as territory under said patent. A model of said improvement is left at the office of Stewart Bakewell & Chabling, Attorneys at Law, corner of Grant and Diamond streets, where parties interested may call and see it, and learn also the terms of license sale, &c.

PITTSBURGH:
THURSDAY MORNING, FEB. 14.

"PENNSYLVANIA FOR THE UNION."---We take the following complimentary notice of the promptness with which our State has responded to the request of the Secretary of the Treasury, from the New York World. This notice of a commonwealth, so wealthy and powerful as Pennsylvania, is everywhere regarded as a most cheering evidence that the Union is not the "crops of sand" which Mr. Buchanan would make it. In material wealth, and in all the other essentials to a great State, the old Keystone far exceeds the entire Rattlesnake Confederacy, and there is not a mart in the civilized world where her bonds would not possess ten fold---we might indeed say an hundred fold---more value than any emanating from that miserable league of piratical States, whose political head is for the present at Montgomery:

"Pennsylvania is for the Union. The bill, passed unanimously by both branches of her legislature, offering to guarantee $2,800,000 of the new national loan of $20,000,000, is a timely and inspiriting movement. It shows how one of the most powerful States regards the national compact. The circle of States is not---in her view---a ring of wanton children, joining hands for sport, to separate when their song is done. It is, rather, an everlasting bond, to preserve which heroes and patriots pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor.' Pennsylvania thus gives the world the assurance which means most and is worth most in a commercial age. Her example will be followed by other States, and the world will see who love the Union and have confidence in it. Surely New York will not lag behind. The want of cohesive power in our government, indicated by the secession of several of its constituent independencies, tends to make the world distrustful of its pecuniary responsibility. If six States may secede, why not thirty-three? And then who will be responsible for the national debt? The Keystone State comes forward, and says, 'We will be responsible,' and stands ready to indorse her full share of the bills.

"We behold a southern confederacy formed, and we may see its inevitable bonds haunting Thread needle street, like uneasy ghosts by Acheron. What more and worse is in its speedy future, let no seer's hand lift the curtain to show. But in spite of secession and southern confederacies, the bonds of the United States---the old United States---all or less than all---will still be a chosen and trusted investment the world over."

The Slaveowners' Declaration, as Prepared by South Carolina, and Proposed by Herod Pitting to be Adopted by the Slave States.
[From Penn---By repaired Atlantic Telegraph]

We, the States whose representatives have subscribed to the following declaration, do hereby assert and affirm:

That all mankind have a perfect and equal right to freedom, if they can keep it.

That their being unable to keep it is a proof that they have no right to it.

That the presence of any coloring matter in skin, as in water, is a proof, offered by nature, of the inferiority of the article.

That we have heard, with unutterable disgust and contempt, that Professor Owen considers Adam and Eve to have had colored skins, and that we should like to leave the said professor without any skin at all.

That the lawfulness of slavery is clearly and indisputably proved from the Bible, inasmuch as St. Paul, writing to Onesimus, a slave, never told him to run away.

That if there were no other reasons for upholding slavery, the dastardly and sycophantic meanness which would be shown in imitating the cowardly and exploded old mother country in abolishing the institution is brought to make every real American spit upon the proposal and lynch the proposer.

That slavery is the most humane institution in the world; for, inasmuch as half the sorrows of white persons arise from the sorrows of their husbands, wives or children, so forbidding a race to have any husbands, wives or children to call theirs owe, we deprive that race of one half the suffering we undergo.

That England has no right to say a word in the matter, while in Ireland there is a Protestant church, and all persons are hanged who do not attend it; while Welsh is strictly forbidden to be used in the debates of the English Parliament; while Scotchmen are forbidden to keep unicorns; and while, close to London itself, she keeps the natives of a wretched island in such a state of demoralization and misery that it is called the Isle of Dogs.

That having thus proved from Scripture, from philosophy, from philanthropy and from ethnology, that slavery is the noblest institution in existence, and that patriotism and self-respect alike forbid us to bring it into jeopardy,

We hereby declare:

That we shall have great pleasure in handing fifty thousand dollars to any one who will bring us the head of one Abraham Lincoln, and with still greater pleasure will we hand one hundred thousand dollars to any one who will deliver us the said Abraham Lincoln alive. (Signed, &c.)

A Foreigner's Experience of Secession.

We copy from an Irish newspaper the following extract of a letter from Charleston, S. C. The letter was written by a gentleman there to his father in Belfast, and is dated---

"CHARLESTON, January 3, 1861.

"Now that I have the funds to carry out the project which I anticipated, I am at a loss in the present crisis to know how to act, for, as no doubt you are already aware, that South Carolina is already up in arms against the Federal Government; in fact, the State militia has went or is going to occupy some of the forts belonging to the General Government, also taken possession of the arsenal; on Sunday last the Volunteers marched in and demanded possession, and there being only a few United States soldiers in it at the time, they deemed it prudent to retire, which they did after firing a salute of thirty-one guns. The Carolinian then pulled down the 'stars and stripes,' and hoisted instead the flag of South Carolina.

Being present myself at the time, I secured a piece of the halyards on which the flag of the United States floated over South Carolina for the last time (as they say here,) a piece of which I will enclose to Eliza in the first paper which I send.

"I am now placed in a position in which I scarcely know how to act. I cannot tell the moment that I may be called on to do militia duty, in which case I must close up my concern and go to whatever part of the State the Governor sees fit to send me. I thought to escape under the plea of being a British Consul on the subject, but he informed me that he had written to Lord J. Russell on the subject, but the reply was, that persons residing in the State longer than six months could no longer claim the protection of Great Britain, so therefore he could take nothing to do with it; so, if called on, I must shoulder the musket.

"Things assume a more threatening aspect every day, and I would not be at all surprised to see the whole country involved in a civil war before this affair is settled; and I think one of our worst enemies here would be the negroes, as they would be almost certain to set fire to the city the first opportunity that offered.

You must not feel uneasy if you do not hear from me as usual, as we expect a stoppage of the mails every day. Postage stamps can no longer be obtained at the post office. The Government refused to send any more from Washington to the Postmaster here. I have now got to see if I can procure stamps from some of my acquaintances to send this letter. H. G."

The Election in Tennessee.

Tennessee has gone for the Union by fifty thousand. There will be no Convention. One county, Chatham, is a unit for the Union.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11, 1861.

The following dispatches have been received here from Tennessee by Senator Douglas and the Tennessee members of the House named therein. The first one in reply to a message sent to Tennessee by Senators Crittenden and Douglas, saying "Save Tennessee and the Union is safe." This was sent three days before the election:

COLUMBIA, Tenn., Feb. 9, 1861.

TO S. A. DOUGLAS and J. J. CRITTENDEN, Washington:---

Tennessee has gone overwhelmingly for the Union. There will not be twenty secessionists in the Convention. Tennessee is saved! Save the Union!
WM. H. POLK.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 9, 1861.

MESSRS. ETHERIDGE, STOKES, QUARLES and HATTON, Washington:

Union candidates reported elected in Shelby co. No secessionists elected so far as heard from. Convention itself probably defeated.

JOHN TELLYEY.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 9, 1861.

Hon S. A. DOUGLAS, Washington:

Tennessee safe! This county gives over five hundred Union majority. WM. H. CARROLL.

The result in Tennessee produces the greatest rejoicing here, and surprises those who know that the day after the Virginia election, dispatches were poured from the latter into the former State, assuring Tennesseeans that Virginia had gone for secession.

A private dispatch from Greenville, Tenn., says that Green, Senator Johnson's county, gives a majority against a convention of 2,791. Washington and Hawkins counties are strongly for the Union.

A WARNING TO JOE LANE.---In a small ultra Presbyterian town, in Scotland, a school teacher was lately expelled from church because he insisted on writing God with a small "g."

More Horrible Massacres in Carson Valley---Seven Persons Wantonly Murdered, and a Young Girl Outraged.

A correspondent of the Missouri Republican writes from Denver city, on the 29th ult:

A gentleman, who has but recently arrived in this city, called upon me, to day, and gave me an account of a horrible massacre on the Surplus Cut-off, about fifty miles north of Salt Lake City, during the latter part of last August. A party of emigrants, on their way to California, was attacked by a party of men, painted and dressed like Indians, who rushed upon them in the night, took them by surprise, and murdered seven of the party; the others escaped to a train camped back from them, on the road, a distance of ten miles. The assassins did not pursue them, as they probably knew of the other company, and
