PITTSBURGH:

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 14, 1861.

THE RESULT OF BUCHANAN'S POLICY.

Though positively denied by some of the Eastern newspapers received yesterday, it seems now past a question that the withdrawal of Major Anderson, and the sixty-four men with him, from the fort with which his name has been so honorably associated for full four months past, has been finally determined upon by the government at Washington, acting under the advice of Gen. Scott. The New York Herald, for reasons sufficiently obvious, is so unwilling to believe the unwelcome fact, that its Washington correspondent is at great pains to give it a most elaborate contradiction—using both statement of testimony and of argument to do so.

Like other journals printed in the North for Southern readers, the Herald has been engaged for years, with malignant persistency in piling falsehood upon falsehood, misrepresenting the motives and aims of the Republican party and its leaders—as so "rabid" and "fanatical" in their hate of the South, its people and institutions, that upon their advent to power less than a crusade need not be counted on—a warfare of aggression and invasion as fierce and reckless as blind zeal could wage against its enemies. This being the picture drawn by these journals, they have hoped that, one way or other, they would be able to boast that their picture was a true one; and this by some possible course of misrepresentation which they could adopt—by some adroit and plausible method of falsification, —in all the arts of which they have such experience and boldness as only long and successful practice ensures.

If the imbecility of the Executive had not stood in the way, we may be sure General Scott would have taken good care not only of Fort Sumter, but also of Fort Moultrie; so that neither one nor the other could have fallen into the hands of the South Carolina traitors. As it is, when that veteran chief is summoned to give counsel to Mr. Lincoln and his cabinet, he has to tell them that it is now too late to send re enforcements, unless they could land enough troops, say to the number of ten or fifteen thousand, to take the batteries, which, under Mr. Buchanan's connivance and protection, the rebels of Charleston have during the past four months been erecting, and which, as exactly as if calculated, were just completed, and ready to open their fire on Sumter, and to enfilade the whole passage up the bay, on the Fourth of March!

It was James Buchanan mingled this bitter and humiliating cup—filled it to the brim with bitterness—and offered it, not only to his successor in the government, but to his country! Betraying the sacred trust reposed in him, he has had the power by the abuse of power, to prepare it and to present it—and so, too, that it must be drunk, yes, to the very dregs thereof But since it is so,—without seeking, accordingly to the beautiful simile of the Italian poet, to sweeten the rim or disguise the nauseous taste, we must drink this once to the ignominious memory of one President of the United States, whose wickedness was only less than his weakness:

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American says:

"Mr. Seward's policy is that secession will die out if left to itself, and all irritating non-essentials avoided by the Government. He thinks that if the people in the Cotton States have no causes to concentrate their animosity against the Government at Washington, it will soon develop itself against the Government at Montgomery."

That policy seems to be neither to fight with the secessionists nor treat with them. Such a line of policy requires more forbearance, however, than most men are possessed of; but perhaps it is the wisest that could be adopted under the extraordinary circumstances in which the country now stands. Like the Irishman of whom we have all heard, secession will soon "spoil for want of a foiling." It is said that the secessionists are very much chagrined at the expected withdrawal of Major Anderson from Fort Sumter.

Little as we like to see even the appearance of giving way before the insolent front of treason, we still feel persuaded that the honor of the country is in good hands, and that the President and his cabinet will be able in a short time to vindicate every act, whether based upon far-seeing policy, or forced upon them by the stern necessity of the case.

The remark that these hot bloods, if they cannot get a conflict with the Government at Washington, will turn upon that at Montgomery, is extremely plausible. They must fight with something.

The Question of the Day.

The papers everywhere throughout the North are discussing with great earnestness the expected early evacuation of Fort Sumter. The able Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American represents the land and naval forces of the nation as being so scattered and demoralized by the late administration, that to reinforce and provision that fort is simply impossible. He says that possession of Fort Pickens will be held at all hazards. None of the difficulties that surround Sumter are encountered in the case of Pickens, while in a strategic point of view the latter is vastly more important than the former. Unless with a view to the coercion of South Carolina, Sumter is of no value. Its retention by the government is only a point of honor—a point, however, that would never have been yielded except to uncontrollable necessity.

A correspondent in this morning's paper expresses some views which will arrest the attention of the reader, but upon which we cannot at present hazard an opinion.

SOUTHERN STORIES.

Letters purporting to be written from the North are published in the papers of the secession States, giving the most wondeculous statements of distress and lawlessness prevailing in the northern cities. One writer asserts that an army of half a million men will be needed, in the event of a collision with the Southern Confederacy, to keep the starving poor of the North in order, and all such stuff.

We shall let other cities speak for themselves, but so far as Pittsburgh is concerned, we assert that the winter just passing away has been remarkable for its freedom from distress and destitution among the laboring poor. Quietness, order and contentment have generally prevailed, and this entire community is really prosperous in spite of all the panics and political convulsions that have marked the past four months. Our manufacturing establishments are in active operation, and the people are as busy as ever.

The Dark Spirit of Slavery.

The Atlanta (Georgia) Intelligencer gives the following notice of Judge Harris' charge to the Grand Jury in that town, on Monday, the 4th instant:

"Judge Harris said, among other good things, that our Government was now permanent, stable, and fixed, and that it was the duty of all good citizens to maintain and support it. There must be no looking back, no working for a re-construction, for in the nature of things this could not be. Men who reside among us must work for us, and with us. If they take any part, directly or indirectly, against us, it is plotting treason, and they must suffer the consequences. Incendiarism and incendiarism must be crushed out."

Few more atrocious sentiments were uttered in France during the rule of Robispierre, Murat and Danton than the above. A government sustained by such a spirit must of necessity be short lived, and in a bloody catastrophe. Let them alone—they will do the work themselves.

RESIGNATION OF GEN. CAMERON AS U. S. SENATOR.

—The following is Gen. Cameron's letter of resignation as United States Senator from Pennsylvania. In this connection we may remark that no public officer gave up a position whose duties were more faithfully discharged than was that of the Senatorship of Mr. Cameron:

WASHINGTON, March 11, 1861.

To His Excellency Andrew G. Curtin, Governor of Pennsylvania:

DEAR SIR:—Having accepted the position of Secretary of War, tendered to me by the President, I hereby resign my seat in the Senate of the United States.

I leave that body with feelings of deep regret, as well because it severs my immediate connection with the people of my native State, as because it removes me from the cherished personal associations of that high and dignified body. But I am consoled by the fact that the change in our Tariff Laws, for which I have labored for more than fifteen years, and which I trust will add greatly to the benefit of Pennsylvania, was accomplished at the close of my Senatorial service.

I beg to say to the Legislature, and to the people of Pennsylvania, that in my new position, which a deference to their earnest wishes induced me reluctantly to accept, my best energies shall be exerted for the benefit of the whole country, of which Pennsylvania forms so important a part.

I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Your Obedient Servant,
SIMON CAMERON.

Postmaster at Wheeling.

We are pleased to see it announced that the President has appointed ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL, Esq., editor of that excellent newspaper, the Wheeling Intelligencer, Postmaster at Wheeling, Va. This is a good appointment. Mr. C. did good service to the Republican cause last fall.

[For the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Evacuation of Fort Sumter.

Messrs. Editors: Of one thing the American people may rest perfectly assured, and that is that the Administration would not order the evacuation of this fortress without the weightiest reasons, if indeed that order has really been resolved upon.

Reasons have been given to the public which to some minds are satisfactory, and to others not. It is alleged that the fortifications which the South Carolinans have been suffered by the late weak and traitorous administration to erect around Charleston harbor are so formidable that no attempt to succor that beleaguered fortress could be made with any hope of success with a force of less than fifteen or twenty thousand men, and that it would be attended with an immense loss of life. This may or may not be an exaggerated view of the case. How it is, I do not pretend to say.

Another reason just as futile is, that any attempt to strengthen Fort Sumter would at once bring on a civil war. I shall not dispute that position either, but merely remark that if a threat or an apprehension of that kind can be successfully used to prevent the execution of a plain and manifest duty, our government is already disomfited and broken. It may do to put forth at present as one reason among others for a course of policy which has astonished the country; but rely upon it there is another reason behind than any yet offered, and which must not be divulged. We are left to conjecture what that other reason is; and as the mind runs back over the incidents of the last few weeks, touching Fort Sumter, suspicious, painful and humiliating creep upon it—not of treason or treachery exactly, but of something closely allied to these.

Take into view, in the first place, the universal sentiment of the Union men of the border States against secession. To this add the fact that with them the collection of the revenue in the seceded States, and the strengthening of the forts, would be so construed. To this add the fact that Major Anderson is a Kentuckian, and therefore, may justly be presumed to hold sentiments on this subject in common with the people of that and other border slave States. Call to mind his oft repeated declarations that he had no reinforcements, and his consequent not to send any. Add to this the fact of his popularity with the people of Charleston, who hate with a perfect hatred all real friends of the stars and stripes, and of the mutual civilities that have been exchanged between them. And last of all his announcement of the astounding fact that two weeks more would reduce him and his little garrison to a state of starvation, accompanied with he own strong representation of the fearful difficulty of sending him succor.

Far be it from me to intimate that Major Anderson is a traitor to his flag; for I think he is not; but I do believe that his anxiety to prevent a bloody collision between the General Government and the Southern Confederacy overrides every other sentiment in his mind, and thus renders it hazardous to the last degree to rely upon him in the desperate position in which circumstances have placed him. This seems to be an era of insubordination, and men will only do what their judgments approve.

Major Anderson's last dispatch to his government has not been given to the public. This fact was distinctly stated in the first news we had by telegraph of the contemplated evacuation; and who knows what that honorable soldier may have been constrained by his own feelings to communicate to his superiors in authority?

Let no man say, under our present light, that there has been any backing down on the part of the President. In what he has done he has only yielded to the irresistible force of circumstances, and time will vindicate both his wisdom and his firmness.

The anti-coercion sentiment is carried entirely too far, and is more weakening, more demoralising to the government than all the secession ordinances that have been enacted. It is only a weak puling of the evil day, a precursor of anarchy, and a heaping up of wrath against the day of wrath. C.

Opinions of the Anti-Secession Southern Press on Mr. Lincoln's Inaugural.

The conservative Southern papers, under which head we include all that have not expressed their sympathy with the secession movement, are almost unanimous in approving Mr. Lincoln's Inaugural.

The Memphis "Argus" says:

"The Inaugural is worthy of the most profound attention, and is not to be pronounced upon on a single reading, or thoroughly mastered in a day. It is, in its wonderful condensation, complicated; so are the affairs of these States."

The Memphis "Bulletin," which at first was disappointed in the tone of the Ina ugural, in a subsequent issue says:

"A more thorough examination of his Inaugural Address, as well as priv ate advices from Washington, received through reliable sources, satisfies us that Mr. Lincoln does not mean or contemplate an aggressive policy toward the Southern States that have 'gone out,' and we will not allow ourselves to believe that their Provisional Government will commit the crime—of destroying all hope of an adjustment, by bringing on, now, an unnecessary conflict."

The Bell and Douglas papers of Kentucky express their satisfaction in warm terms. The Danville "Tribune" says:

"We publish in this paper the Inaugural Address of Mr. Lincoln. We have read it, we think, carefully, and must say that it is much more conservative than we had been led to expect it would be, by the sensation telegraphic dispatches sent out in advance of the Inaugural, and we are satisfied its tone and temper is such as should assure all the people of the States, that if its author is sincere, which until he does something to show the contrary, we have no right to doubt, he desires to restore harmony between the sections, and preserve the Union."

The Lexington "Observer," which had before spoken favorably of the Inaug ural, in the number for March 9th, sharply rebukes the clamors of the secession papers against it, and uses this language:

"We repeat now, what we took occasion in our last to remark, that there is nothing in this message to cause Kentucky to change the position she has chosen to assume in reference to the difficulties which have been precipitated upon the country by the rash acts of a few mad-cap politicians in the Cotton States.

The Richmond (Ky.) "Messenger" has no editorial on the Inaugural, but in an article on coercion says:

In regard to the public forts in the seceding States now in possession of the Government, it is the constitutional duty of the President to hold them if he can, and we are in favor of every officer discharging his duty. In regard to the forts now in possession of the seceding States, the President has the legal right to retake them; but it is not his duty to do so, from anything appearing to us; and we do not favor the enforcement of a right which the public interest does not require. Nevertheless, these views do not change our opinion of the legal or moral quality of the acts of those citizens of the seceding States who have seized them.

The Louisville "Journal" republishes the Inaugural, and thus comments upon it:

We this morning lay before the readers of the Journal a correct copy of the inaugural address. The perusal of it has but deepened the impression the telegraphic report produced in our minds. Viewing it in connection with current developments, we cannot honestly doubt the pacific character of the address. We are persuaded that they who look upon it as a declaration of war see not what is really to be seen, but what they wish to see.

The Knoxville "Whig," Parson Brownlow's paper, which is one of the ablest and most zealous Union journals of the South, says:

We endorse the entire Address, as one of the best papers of the kind we have seen, and we commend it for its temperance and conservatism. It is peace loving and conservative in its recommendations, and eminently firm in its nationality of sentiment. It is out and out a Union address, worthy of the approbation of every Union and conservative man South, as well as North. Had it been delivered by Jackson, Polk, or Breckinridge even, the C. tton States would have declared it to be the height of political perfection. And we unhesitatingly affirm, that if Lincoln's inaugural is a true indication of the character of his coming administration, all good and true men may congratulate themselves upon his election to the Presidency. If carried out, no other peace measure is necessary. Let us, then, of the Border States, patiently await the developments of the new administration. We may be much better off under it than the late profligate administration of Buchanan—we can't be worsted by four years of Republican misrule. If it shall turn out otherwise we are right ourselves and our wrongs, under the Constitution, and without revolution or civil war. We shall have no war unless it be forced upon the country by the reckless conduct of the South.

For Sore, Weak, Inflamed Eyes and Bye Lids.

A true specific and invaluable remedy has been at last discovered. Dr. Humphreys argues that these affections invariably result from a constitutional disease, of which the local affection is only the outward manifestation. Hence, HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC OPHTHALMY PILLS are only taken internally, and yet cure the worst forms of obstinate Sore Eyes and Eyelids, which have resisted all other treatment. All cases of Sore Eyes, Inflamed Eyes and Eyelids, or Failing, Weak or Defective Sight, will be promptly benefited, and the cure of the worst cases is only a question of time.

Price 50 cents, with directions.

TO RELIEVE SUFFERING has been the object of the humane and philanthropic in all ages. Before the practice of medicine became a sick art, the remedy was publicly exposed in the open streets, and every person who learned the remedy he considered most suitable for the complaint. We possess at the present day, through the agency of the press, a more reliable mode of conveying information to our suffering fellow creatures. Those afflicted with Scrofula, Cutaneous and Eruptive Diseases, will find in the columns of almost every newspaper and periodical published, certificates and testimonials from those who have been specially cured of these dreadful complaints by the justly celebrated and powerfully regenerative qualities of SANDS' SARSAPARILLA

A Card to the Public.

This account of bodily and mental misery arising from a neglect of small complaints is incalculable, and it is therefore of the utmost importance that a strict attention to the first and most trifling bodily ailments should be had; for diseases of the body invariably affect the mind. DR. MOFFAT'S VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES, in every instance where they have been thoroughly used, have TRIUMPHED OVER DISEASE in almost all its diversified forms. The salutary effects of the Life Medicines have, in fact, been so universally experienced, that they have become fully established as the most easy, safe and perfect mode of treatment ever offered to the public.

THESE MEDICINES

Have now been before the public for a period of 30 YEARS and during that time have maintained a HIGH CHARACTER in almost EVERY PART OF THE GLOBE for the extraordinary curative properties which they possess.

IN MANY THOUSANDS of certified instances, they have even RESCUED SUFFERERS from the very VERGE OF AN UNTIMELY GRAVE, after all the deceptive nostrums of the day have invariably FAILED. So great, indeed, has their efficacy invariably and infallibly proved, that it has appeared scarcely less than miraculous to those who were acquainted with the beautifully philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and upon which they consequently act. It was to their manifest and sensible action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and sending them with renewed tone and vigor, that they were indebted for their name.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS!!!

Are composed of VEGETABLE INGREDIENTS EXCLUSIVELY, as can be ascertained by CHEMICAL TESTS. Their prominent qualities are those of an active and searching, though perfectly mild and agreeable detergent aperient; of a gentle aperitive, promoting the insensible perspiration; of a pleasant diuretic, invigorating the kidneys and bladder; and of a delightful tonic cardiac, exciting appetite by the demands of active digestion, and cheering the mind with that genial sense of renovated health which is one of the most felicitous feelings of our nature.

THE PHŒNIX BITTERS!!!

So denominated from their astonishing power of creating new life and strength, as it were from the very ashes of the most dilapidated constitutions—are more strongly tonic and more immediately invigorating than the Pillsr containing the same choice vegetable materials as the latter, but in a different combination. Although really less cathartic than the LIFE PILLS, they nevertheless begin to cleanse the alimentary canal much sooner, generally slightly operating within three or four hours, and producing a decided sense of relief to the Head and Stomach, and exhilerating the Mind, even in less time than this.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS!!!

In Affections of the Head, Sick Headache or Nervous Headache, these Pills will be found to possess the most sanitary efficacy.

MOFFAT'S PHŒNIX BITTERS!!!

Have been happily used for the cure of FEVER AND AGUE, with INVARIABLE SUCCESS!

BILIOUS COMPLAINTS, AND A SOUR STOMACH!

A well-regulated and proportionate quantity of bile upon the stomach is always requisite for the promotion of sound health—it stimulates digestion and keeps the intestinal canal free from all obstructions. Hence the high efficacy of bile, the body is constantly costive. On the other hand, in several cases of bile cause frequent nausea in the stomach, and often promotes very severe attacks of disease, which sometimes end in death

Dr. Moffat's Life Medicines!!!

Should be taken in the EARLY STAGES of Bilious complaints and if persevered in strictly according to directions will POSITIVELY EFFECT A CURE!

PILES! PILES! PILES!

As a remedy for this most distressing and obstinate malady, the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES deserve a distinct and emphatic recommendation. It is well-known to thousands in this city that the inventor and proprietor of these Vegetable Medicines was himself afflicted with this complaint for upwards of thirty-five years; and that he tried in vain every remedy prescribed within the whole compass of the Materia Medica. He however at length tried the Medicine which is now offered to the public, and he was cured in a very short time, after his recovery had been pronounced as nearly improbable, but absolutely impossible, by any human means.

MOFFAT'S

Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters!!!

Cure DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind. FLATULENCY, Loss of APPETITE HEADACHE, BILIOUS ATTACKS, LIVER COMPLAINT, LANGUOR, and MELANCHOLY, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

THE LIFE MEDICINES!

For BILIOUS and LIVER COMPLAINTS, with their many well-known attendants. Bilious and Sick Headache, Pain and Oppression after Meals, Coldness, Dizziness, Giddiness, Loss of Appetite, are acknowledged to be vastly superior to anything ever before offered to the public

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

For, can whose constitutions have become imprinted by the injudicious use of MR. CUT, will find these medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparations of Sarsaparilla.

SCROFULA!

The most horrible cases of Scrofula, in which the Face, Bones and Limbs of the victim had been eaten upon by the insatiable disease, are proved by undeniable authority of the sufferers themselves, to have been completely cured by these purely Vegetable Medicines, after all others had been found more than useless.

Acute or Inflammatory Rheumatism!

ASTHENIA CHRONICA, OR CHRONIC RHEUMATISM!!

These diseases, which are among the most painful, and, by ignorant treatment, the most inveterate to which suffering humanity is liable, are CURED, speedily and permanently cured, by a proper course of the LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS!

MOFFAT'S PILLS AND BITTERS!!!

But it is unnecessary to enumerate the many cases in which these purely vegetable medicines have been successful, let let an inquire, Why are they so UNIVERSAL in their happy effects?

Because they PURIFY THE BLOOD, and thus removal all causes of disease in the system.

Because they act powerfully upon the secretions of the body, and remove all impurities at once.

Because they do not reduce the system, but invigorate it—thus requiring no restraint from pleasure or business during their operation.

BELLINGHAM'S

CELEBRATED

STIMULATING ONGUENT,

For the Whiskers and Hair.

The subscribers take pleasure in announcing to the Citizens of the United States, that they have obtained the Agency for, and are now enabled to offer to the American public, the above justly celebrated and world renowned article.

THE STIMULATING ONGUENT

is prepared by Dr. C. F. BELLINGHAM, a regular physician of London, and is warranted to bring out a thick set of in from three to six weeks. This article is the only one of the kind used by the French, and in London and Paris it is in universal use.

It is a beautiful, economical, soothing, yet stimulating compound, acting as if by magic upon the roots, causing a beautiful growth of luxuriant hair. If applied in the early, it will cure baldness, and cause to spring up in place of the bald spots a fine growth of new hair. Applied according to directions, it will turn red or rusty hair dark, and restore hair to its original color, leaving it soft, smooth and flexible. The "ONGUENT" is an indispensable article in every gentleman's toilet, and after one week's use they would not be any consideration be without it

The subscribers are the only Agents for the article in the United States, to whom all orders must be addressed.

Price One Dollar a box—for sale by all Druggists and Dealers; or a box of the "Ongnent," (warranted to have the desired effect,) will be sent to any who desire it, by mail (direct,) securely packed, on receipt of price and postage, 21 18. Apply to or address
