

Pittsburgh Gazette

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 10, 1861

It is probably best decided in a secret session of the Convention that no more supplies...

The Charleston correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, writing from that city on the 6th inst., gives us the following view from that stand point...

This government of ours is founded upon certain principles which are fixed and sacred...

It is in other words, as it is not true, that all men are created equal...

The doctrine that is now so ground upon our country is this: That the fathers of the Republic were mistaken in the position...
