VALUABLE IMPROVEMENT
In Steam and Atmospheric Hammers.
LETTERS PATENT were granted on Sept. 4th, 1860, to Thomas Beach, for a very simple and efficient improvement in Steam and Atmospheric Hammers, whereby the full stroke of the Hammer is obtained, no matter what be the thickness of the mass of iron to be hammered—thereby effecting a great increase of power where large pieces of metal are to be operated upon, and a corresponding saving of expense.

PITTSBURGH:

FRIDAY MORNING, AUG. 23, 1861.

LATEST FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

WASHINGTON, August 20, 1861.

Gray Uniforms Prohibited.

Gen. McClellan forbids the purchase of gray uniforms—the Rebels' color—and it is desired the States should no longer purchase them.

A Cowardly Rebel.

A clerk in one of the Treasury Auditor's offices, named Southard, when requested to take the oath of allegiance, yesterday, said he would take a day to consider of it. In five minutes the deliberate gentleman was out of office.

The Rebel-Detective Committee.

Congressman Potter's Rebel-Detective Committee will report, to-morrow or next day, to the Heads of the Departments over one hundred clerks as disloyal. Evidence before the committee classifies the auxiliary guard of this city, 52 in number, as 36 disloyal, 4 Union, and 12 doubtful. This guard is a part of the police force, and receives a salary of $500 each.

Untrustworthy Employees.

Several slaves are hired at the Navy Yard of men who are in arms against the Government.

Col. McCann Found Guilty.

The court-martial upon the case of Col. McCann, of the New York Thirty-Seventh Regiment, have found the Colonel guilty of the charges, and he is consequently deposed from his Colonelcy and broken of his military rank.

Women Sent Out of Camp.

Upon Gen. McClellan's order, all the women in the camps across the Potomac, married and unmarried, were sent away last night, save two hospital nurses for each regiment.

Reinforcement of the Rebels.

Johnston and Beauregard have been reinforced by some 15,000 or 20,000 since the Bull Run battle, and it is reported to-day that Yorktown, Norfolk and Richmond have been almost denuded of troops, whose ultimate destination is presumed to be Maryland or Washington. In the belief that they design to cross below and above the city, ample precautions are taken.

The Blockade.

The inlets of North Carolina, it is suspected, are not the only ones on the Southern coast to be obstructed by the sinking of old hulks filled with stones. Those who imagine that the Navy Department is not vigorously at work will have occasion to change their opinion, as vast results will soon be apparent.

It is reported that a council of war was recently held in Fortress Monroe at which a plan was proposed and adopted to destroy the city of Norfolk. It was shown that the place could be fired at two different points, which would render the conflagration certain. Gen. Butler, it is said, expressed himself in favor of the plan, and communicated the decision of the council to the War Department in Washington.

Staid up all Night.

You will hardly credit that many of the rebel residents of Washington remained up all last night, waiting for the attack of Johnston and Beauregard. Such was the fact, and they were very much disappointed this morning at the non-appearance of those gentlemen on the opposite side.

For the Lower Potomac.

The steamer Baltimore left the Navy Yard last night for the river below. She took with her two hundred Marines, under command of Major Reynolds, and four cutters, each mounted with one 12 pound howitzer, and manned by fifteen sailors. The cutters, with their crews and the Marines, are to be left with the fleet at Acquia Creek.

More Rebel Prisoners.

Lieut. Tompkins, with a troop of cavalry, left the city, on Sunday evening, and returned this morning, after a scout down the river on the Maryland shore of the Potomac. When the Lieutenant returned, he added thirteen to the assortment of rebels we had before at the jail.

Senator Wilson.

Senator Wilson has received authority to raise a regiment in Massachusetts, with a battery of flying artillery attached, and will leave Washington immediately to organize it.

Troubles in More Regiments.

Some of the men in Colonel Baker's California Regiment, and in the New York Twelfth and Twenty-First regiments, claim the right to return home, and caused some trouble by demanding their discharge.

Released.

Of the Seventy-Ninth who were in custody in the guard house, mostly on charge of mutiny, yesterday, twenty-eight were released, it being satisfactorily shown that there was no ground for suspecting them of being guilty of the charge. Forty-four now remain in custody.

Gen. Anderson.

Brig. Gen. Anderson leaves for his department in a day or two. Only Capt. Green, as Assistant Adjutant General, as yet has been appointed on his staff. Brig. Gen. W. T. Sherman, George W. Thomas and H. A. Barnside will hold commands under him.

The New Gun Boats.

The gun-boats building in Maine are to be named Kalahdin, Aroostock, Penobscot and Kinoo; those in Massachusetts—Machigonne, Sagamore, Oneko and Horea; in Connecticut —Osanco, Kenawha and Cayuga; in New York—Usadilla, Ottawa, Pembina, Seneca, Chippewa and Winona; in Pennsylvania—Itasca, Sciota and Wissahyan; in Delaware—Iahoma; at Baltimore—Pinola.

The Privateers.

Spofford, Tileston & Co., who have two steamers running between New York and Key West and Havana, have proposed to subsist one officer and fifteen men on board each vessel, to be furnished with the proper armament and clothed with authority to capture privateers. The Secretary of the Navy has acceded to the proposition.

Lower Maryland.

The rumors of an intended invasion of Lower Maryland by the rebels have turned attention to the state of affairs in that region, and while it is known that a decided majority of the population are traitors at heart, it is believed that they are too fearful of a confiscation of their slave property to take a stand. The National Republican asserts that a rising of the negroes is much more probable than a rising of the secessionists. It is said, however, that many of Marshal Kane's police officers are continually visiting St. Mary's and St. Charles counties, as well as those on the eastern shore, and always seem to have important business with the leading secessionists. They are evidently brewing some mischief, but the vicinity will soon be carefully looked after by the United States troops.

Important Arrest.

We were informed yesterday that a man named Stephen Renau, formerly a citizen of Philadelphia, was arrested on a charge of rendering aid and comfort to the enemy. The circumstances attending his arrest, as we learned them, are as follows: Mr. Renau visited South Carolina immediately before or directly after the Fall of Fort Sumter, and obtained a contract for building bridges on a railroad between Charleston and Columbus, and ordered the iron work to be done at one of the iron foundries in the city of Reading, in this State. After the commencement of hostilities, the proprietors of the foundry refrained from sending their work southward, notwithstanding the repeated demands of Mr. Renau for the same; and the latter accordingly visited that city to ascertain the cause of his detention. While in Reading on Monday last, he was overheard by a distinguished resident of Philadelphia to utter strong secession sentiments, and expressed the opinion that we would be eventually defeated. He was induced to proceed to this point, and on Monday night was confined in one of our station houses. Yesterday he was searched, when a large amount of gold bullion was found secreted in his money-belt; together with several thousand dollars in southern scrip and notes. After a partial examination, he was placed in charge of Marshal Millward and removed to parts unknown; although the presumption is that he was sent to Fort Hamilton or to Washington to await the action of the proper authorities.—Phila Press.

Important from Mexico—Renewal of the War—The Clerical Party Committing Intrigue—Generals Degollado and Valle Killed.

A private letter from the city of Mexico, dated July 29th, brings us intelligence of new disturbances in Mexican politics, characterized by even more than the usual sickening details of atrocious cruelty which mark administrative changes in that unhappy country.

On Sunday, July 24, at Arroyo-Zarco, Cagigas, a desperado in the pay of the clerical party, seized a distinguished citizen of the Puro or Republican side, Don Melchior Ocampo, and carried him to Zelogo. The monster in human shape put him to every possible indignity. After detaining him in a dungeon for two days he handed him over to his soldiers, who kicked him, flogged him, spit in his face, shot him repeatedly until he was half killed, and then hung him up to die by lingering agonies.

The same day that Don Melchior was captured, the clerical troops under General Galvez seized another liberal, Senor Schiafino, but instead of killing him demanded from his friends $30,000 and three hundred rifles for his redemption. Just before the date of our intelligence this ransom had been paid, and Schiafino freed by the priestly brigands.

When the news of these outrages reached the city of Mexico, the whole public was aroused to frenzy. The printing office of one of the clerical newspapers was mobbed and destroyed, and the people went en masse to President Juarez, clamoring for an immediate attack upon the clericals. Generals Degollado, Ortega, Arteaga and Valle were immediately sent in pursuit of Marquez and Galvez, the leaders of the clerical forces. While the former was reconnoitering with a small party near the Lemos de Salaz, his party was cowardly cut to pieces by Galvez, and Degollado killed. Gen. Valle followed in the same road, and after the utter demolition of his force was likewise slain.

Ortega and Arteaga were still hotly pressing Marquez, who, with four thousand men, had retired on San Cristobal.

The city of Mexico had been put under martial law, Gen. Parrodi being first commander of the city, Uruega second, and Juan Jose Baz Governor.—N. Y. Post.

A French Citizen Sent to Fort Lafayette

This morning, Albert Sandford, United States Marshal of Rhode Island, arrived here from Newport, Rhode Island, having in his custody a gentleman named Louis de Babian, who claims to be a French citizen, but a resident of Wilmington, North Carolina.

This gentleman is charged with some kind of political offense, or else appears to be suspected of going to Europe in the service of the Confederate States, or for purposes inimical to the United States. His story, which does not differ much from that of the Marshal who has brought him here as a prisoner, is as follows:

He has been a resident and carrying on business as a merchant in Wilmington for several years, and being desirous to go to Europe on business and to see his family, he took passage on board a British vessel called the Adelso, bound to Halifax, N. S., in order to meet one of the Cunard steamers.

This vessel sailed from Wilmington without hindrance. During the storm of the 12th inst. the vessel became disabled, and the captain, rather than let her go down with all hands on board, bore up for a friendly port, as he supposed, in distress.

Having got safely into Newport, R. I., under the British flag, the Adelso was boarded by the revenue yacht Henrietta, Lieut. Bennett, who, ascertaining that the Adelso was last from Wilmington, N. C., took possession of her and put a prize crew of one officer and five men on board, sailed up the trunks and papers of the master and passengers, and made them all prisoners, and processes for libel and condemnation were issued in the courts of that district by the captors.

Mr. Babian wished to go ashore and see the French consul, or be permitted to go to some part of the British dominions, but was refused. After being kept in custody and subjected, as he complains, to a number of personal indignities, he was sent on here in custody, and will be transferred to one of the military prisons in the harbor until further orders as to his ultimate destination.

Among the papers taken from the prisoners were letters of credit to the amount of $40,000, with which he was to purchase clothing, arms and iron for shipment to Wilmington, N. C., and other places south.

The prisoner was sent under escort of a deputy marshal to Fort Lafayette.—N. Y. Com. Advertiser.

MR. SECRETARY CAMERON and General Scott are not on good terms—at least there is no entente cordiale between them. Is any controversy before the public, Mr. Cameron knows that his military rival would carry the day, and he does not desire such an issue. He is an able man, but armis cedant toga, and General Scott is now master of the situation.—Mr. Russell's Letter to London Times.

The statement to which Mr. Russell gives such wide currency, that General Scott and Secretary Cameron are not on good terms, evoked by those who have the slightest knowledge of Washington affairs and persons is competent to pronounce untrue. Secretary Cameron adds to a cordial personal esteem the most implicit reliance upon the wisdom and the skill of the General upon whom devolves the main conduct of the war, and the veteran, reciprocating this friendly confidence, finds in the energy of the Secretary as efficient aid.

Mr. Russell made poor use of the privileges accorded to him if he failed to learn the facts in this case—his perversion of which would indicate that there are divided counsels where cordial unanimity is most desirable and actually exists.—N. Y. World.

A NEW ROUTE TO NORTH CAROLINA.—A New York merchant was applied to a few days since, by a resident of North Carolina, to ship goods, which he had purchased, through a South street house, who would send them to Bermuda, and thence run them into the ports of North Carolina. The merchant patriotically refused. Nevertheless it is true that the route is selected by some shippers, and considerable success has attended the transportation of goods via the Bermudas British and West India Islands. The game will be "played out" ere long.—New York Com. Adv.
