Norm .- Since the above was in type, the selegraph brings us word that the flost has entered Bull Bay. This is a sheltered plece of water on the Atlantic coast, about twenty-five miles north of Charleston. An island called Baccon Key, lies to the north, from our Washington correspondent, that our excellent friend, Hon. John Allison, and Spain, for the purpose of compelling Mexsection in politics, who were the original ganisation, and who had something better In view than the mere possession of power, and the emoluments and honors which power brings. John Allison is a man whose principles are not for sale, and who would Our correspondent does not say a whit too and requirements fitting him for any place at the bestowal of the President. His ap-complaints of France and Spain are of a similar pointment, though late, does honor to the Government.

A PREDICTION FULFILLED.—On his memorable journey home from Washington, shortly before his death, Senator Douglas remarked to a distinguished Kestackian whom he chanced to meet at Indianapolis, "I know your man Breckinnings better than you do yourselves. Mark my words, sir; within a year from this time John O. Breckingidge will de a General in the rebel army ?: The result thinks there is no sufficient authority for this. shows how thoroughly Mr. Douglas did know his former friend. The year has but half the Expedition is definitely heard from, on acpassed elace the prediction was made, and tecount of the storm which prevailed in the Aiday Mr. Brecklaridge kolds a commission as

The Memphis Appeal, of October 28th, gives cupy the minds of loyal men, eager for the the following prices for food, at that date:

The rates will soon rise to famine prices.

If the blockade of our ports is not raised within three or four months cotton will be a drug. Prices of breadsums are advancing to most exorbitant prices." The Memphis Appeal, of same date as quoted above, October 26th, comes to the following deleful conclusions: twenty-five miles north of Charleston. An island called Baccon Key, lies to the north, and an island called Bull, lies to the south of the entrance to the Bay. These islands, in fact, form the Bay. Back of this Bay, is "Hall Hole Swamp," running inwardly some twenty miles to the Santee river, which falls into the cocan some distance above the Bay. The smaller vessels, and probably the larger ones, can run down the coast, in sheltered water inside of Bull Island, and thus avoid the swamp, if found necessary to do so, in landing the troops. It is possible that before this the proud city of Charleston has been humbled by a capture by the detested Yanksee. Nothing will give more pleasure to the whole country than to see the National Flag floating over Charleston and Sumter.

How. John Allison.—We rejoice to learn, from our Washington correspondent, that "We may now be said to have fairly enter
