The Lease of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company—Application for an Injunction to Restrain the Execution of the Contract.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania held a special session this morning, and heard an appeal from the Circuit Court of the City of Philadelphia in the case of Gratz vs. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company, being an application for an injunction to restrain or to nullify the contract about to be executed between the respective corporations mentioned.

A Fatal Mistake—A little boy named Snyder, whose parents reside near Bridge street, died on Friday evening last, of a fever, which was attributed to the child having drunk a quantity of alcohol.

Delegates Elections.

We understand that the ward having two election precincts claim the right to elect five delegates from each precinct to the approaching City Convention. The call of the City Convention is distinctly stated in the Republican paper. It is to be held on the 27th inst. in conformity with the general usage of the party in municipal Conventions, and a notice has been published by the Executive Committee.

Another Lecture from Mr. Gough.

Mr. Gough will deliver another lecture at Concord Hall, this evening. He was greeted on Saturday night by an overflowing audience, and presented such facts, anecdotes and illustrations, in his own plain style of eloquence, as rendered the old story of Temperance novel and interesting.

A Pennsylvania Soldier Shot.

Private Smith, in Capt. Rodier's company, District Volunteer, was shot at Washington, on Friday night last. He was in his camp when, in private, in a quarrel, a real blow-plug was brought to bear upon him in iron. He, however, got his hands through the handle, and commenced pulling it out, and in the process he was shot.

The Relief Fund Exhausted—Extension of the Commissioners Office.

The fund for the relief of the families of soldiers now being collected, and the committee in several of the wards were obliged to send the applicants away empty-handed. As a consequence, a large number of women assembled at the Commissioners office, and demanded leave of absence to buy it. They were sent to the Treasurer's office, being told that the duplicates were there, and that it was the Treasurer's duty to collect the money.

The Philadelphia Ninety-Third.

This regiment, from Lebanon county, reached Philadelphia on Friday last. It was a fine body of men, and was well equipped. The commanding officer, Col. McCarter, is a Methodist Episcopalian. It is worthy of note that the Philadelphia Ninety-Third, (3 months), was the first regiment of the Pennsylvania Volunteers, Col. Geary, and the rebels.

A Heroic Death—A man named Keller, residing near Mansfield, O., left home some three weeks ago, carrying with him a large quantity of wool. His hat and gun found their way on the railroad track, and nothing further was heard of him until Thursday last, when a driver at the Mansfield junction, while enquiring the decaying body of the poor laborer. It presented a most horrible and disgusting sight. Deceased leaves a wife and four children.

The Philadelphia Gentlemen Complication.

The claims of the gentlemen holding certificates from the Return Judges of Philadelphia have been laid before Governor Curtin, and the position of affairs made known to him. The Governor, after considering the matter discussed, pro and con, has decided not to commission the parties until the Courts have passed upon the merits of the certificates filed by the Board of Return Judges.

Marble Escapes from Downing—A lad, about twelve years of age, very narrowly escaped from drowning, at the wharf, yesterday.

In attempting to jump over the side of a small boat on board the Bay City, which was passing just landing, he went down by the mainmast, and in the river. Mr. J. H. Dames, clerk of the Bay City, who happened to be standing near the wharf, saw the lad with great difficulty, in getting hold of the drowning boy, and with the assistance of a party, drew him out of the water. The poor boy, although badly frightened, was uninjured.

Discharged—Isabella Wallace, committed to jail by Justice McGinnis, on Saturday, for the same offense as the one which she committed on the 4th inst. The name of the party making the complaint is not given.

The Horrors of Intemperance—A child, aged five years, who had been found dead in the second story of his father's house, on Liberty street, opposite Wesley Chapel, in the Fifth Ward.

When the Coroner entered the house, he found the father, Patrick McKeon, lying dead drunk, while the mother was sitting in a drunken stupor, over a post of blood, having cut or wounded herself in some way. The little corpse was lying on a bed, and altogether the scene was such as only the darkest hell could present.

The Approaching Thanks.

Secularizing in accordance with the proclamation of Governor Curtin. Special services of the Episcopal Church, and the Right Rev. Alonzo Pratt, Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, has issued an address to the clergy and congregations of the Diocese, in reference to the observance of the day. The Bishop, in his address, says that the church protest, of a special service for such occasions, and the feelings of every pious heart will prompt to aid in the observance of this day.

A Fatal Mistake—A little boy named Snyder, whose parents reside near Bridge street, died on Friday evening last, of a fever, which was attributed to the child having drunk a quantity of alcohol.

Dr. Kern was examined, and testified that the child died of a fever, which was attributed to the child having drunk a quantity of alcohol. There was no evidence that the child had been administered any medicine, and it is probable that the child may have got access to the alcohol through the hands of the mother.
