After a time he went to Washington, where he continued as porter in one of the hotels, till his unvarying politeness and industry brought him under the notice of Mr. Holt. Pleased with his appearance, and determined to see whether he would rise if he had a chance, Mr. Holt gave him a situation in the Patent Office. At first his duties were very humble—carrying bundles, arranging models, and the like; but he was gradually tried on more important labors, and it was still found that whatever he did was well done. A pesition was then arranged for him more suitable to his newly discovered abilities

Mr. Holt continued to take great interest in him and missed no opportunity for promothing his advancement. When he was transferred to the War Department he took Schoepff with him. Let us End the War.

It is time that this war were brought to a close. We cannot go on spending money at the present enormous rate for even six months longer. The season is favorable for Millitary operations in the South; in the Bummer, much of Jeffdom is unhealthy for our Northern troops. Foreign Powers are not merely uneasy at the dearth of Cotton and the failure of markets for their fabrics caused by the War and the Blockade, read the news from England this morning and judge whether the British Government desires to see the Union broken up. Now is the time to end the war, and the means are at hand. By the light of burning Charleston, the dullest may read the handwriting on the wall. Slavery has conspired to divide and destroy the Republic; let is meet the fate of Haman! Let us bury Treason and Slavery in a common grave, and thus get rid of Abolition, "sectionalism."

THE BURNING OF CHARLESTON—PROPERCY OF A Distinguished Militan of origina.

The intelligence of the burning of Charlestos, probably by the incendiarism of negroes, and the attendant rumors of a lave insurrection, have reminded parties here of a prophecy of a distinguished military officer, that the war would be virtually ended by ageneral insurrection of the shares in the South before the middle of January. During his command of a Bouthern part he was induced to examine the history of slays insurrections, and deduced from it the conclusion that there would be a terrible one in the Southern States, either during or immediately subsequent to the Christians, holidays. The existing circumstances attack great probability to this prediction. In an extensive belt of country, reaching from the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi river; the always largely outnumber the while population. This whole district has been nearly depopulated of alse bodied white men to furnish soliders for the rebel armies in the border Richards. By the organization of some of the aggrees in regiments for the rebel army, the mish solidors for the robel armies in the border States. By the organization of some of the markets have been regiment for the robel army, the markets have, with astounding shortalghtedhesis, laught their slaves that with arms in their hands they are equal to white men, and by their violent denunclations of the federal army as abolitionists, they have infused the idea that it would hid the negroes to assert their freedom. They have also misdly given them the impression that may can fight with place and bowie knives that may be made by siny common blacksmith, and, above all, they says set an example of innubordination and laisurection by their own rebellion against the government. Under these circumstances there is much probability in this fearful pre-there is much probability for this fearful pre-fiction. The madness of the rabels may bring apon them a punishment more terrible than that about to be influited by the armise of the Union.—Washington Dosputch to the Herald. Schoopff on Currency, w the way, speaking of their currency incireating to supply some particulars in the career of the General who is leading our forces there, and on whose skillful generalship alone we can rely for success against overwhelming odds.

It is one of the mortifying humiliations, of which the war is bringing so many to the rebels, that the aristocratic Tennessee Congressman, who commands the rebel army, has been once, ignominously defeated by, and is now again opposed to a late New York hotel porter!

When Gen. Schoepfi came to this country he was without means. Nothing better offering, he asked and procured the situation of porter in one of the leading New York hotels; and many a lady who reads the Galarite this morning has had a trunk carried up and down stairs by the present Brigadier General, whose second victory we are hourly expecting the wires to flash over the country. After a time he went to Washington, where he continued as porter in one of the let, it is unwavire activated of the carried and fington, where he continued as porter in one of the let, it is unwavire activated to the let, and in the continued as porter in one of the let, it is in the letter of the letter

DITHRIDGE'S XX FLINT GLASS OVAL CARBON OIL LAMP CHIMNETS.

The best that have ever yet been offered to whe ublic. They are the best for the following reasons: 1. Because, being of an oval shape, the glass is verywhere equally distant from the flame, so that the draft is stronger and more regular.

2. The oval shape is better adapted to resist the facet of sudden expansion, so that it is impossible to cruck them.

3. The glass is made layedy of Lead and Pearland, giving a great degree of atrength and elasticity. The chimneys which houselessens have found to be so brittle as to crack, even when house for marginary and the second of Lime Glass instead of Finnt Glass, or which ours are manufactured.
