litical friends in Ohio the duty of securing the re-election of Hon: BENJAMIN F. WADE to the United States Senate, as a just return for the magnanimity and confidence displayed on the part of the Republicans in uniting in the election of Hon. David Top, a Douglas Democrat, for Governor. In the same number of the Press, Mr. For-MEY, in his "Occasional" letter, urges a union of Republicans and sound Democrats in this and other Northern States, to resist the disloyal Breckinridge Democratic organization. We give a lengthy extract from Mr. Ponney for the consideration of

The Government Financial Plan. The following plan has been recommend ed to the Government in lieu of the plan of the Bank Committee. It appears to us to be practicable and sensible:

1. Mr. Chase to be authorized to pay all government creditors in Treasury notes, bearing a very small rate of interest, or none at all. none at all.

2. These Treasury notes to be a legal tender, and to be redeemable in coin at the pleasure of government.

3. These Treasury notes to be convertible into funded stock of the United States.

Brownson used to be an oracle in the Catholia Church, but let any man resist the pro-slavery domination, and his learning, ability, and long services go for nothing. We are as wide as the antipodes from Dr. Brownson in most things, but when his tronchant pen is on the side of humanity, freedom, and sound policy, we welcome him to the brilliant array of the friends of freedom. The Post complains because Brownson shanges, and it asserts he was once a pro-slavery man. Well, he was once a Protestant, and became a Catholia, from conviction so doubt. Is that the reason the Post denomnoes him as a "humbug and a demagage." or is, it for venturing to differ with his "Grace the Archbishop," or because he saw Lincoln, in Pennsylvania, in preparing for

5. A revenue to be raised by direct and indirect taxation of not less than $150,-000.000 to wit: enough to pay, first, all the ordinary expenses of the government; secondly the interest on the entire debt; and thirdly, to constitute a sinking fund which shall extinguish the present debt of the United States in twenty-five years.

The foundation on which this issue of government paper would rest, is the taxation of $150,000,000. This would retire the confidence that they will be enabled to cartiom of $150,000,000. This would retire the paper so rapidly that there would be no large accumulations, and as soon as the necessity of such large expenditures ceased, the taxes would soon absorb the whole, when the taxes could be reduced or abolished as the necessities of the case might require.

The only thing in the plan we hesitate about is the making the Treasury notes a legal tender. While the notes kept up at par, or nearly so, no great hardahip would par, or nearly so, no great hardahip would seem that is so, great deproplation of the notes much injustice might be done. One of these men, assuming a prophetic character, declared a few days ago, that the only way to rescue the country was to confide in the Duncaratic party. By such appeals as these they expect to re-elect Biddle in the Second, Cooper in the Seventh, Anoons in the Eighth, Johnson the Thirteenth, Baily in the Sixteenth, The country first been taken by surprise by the unexpected change in the Cabinet. The pro-slavery Union party in Kentucky has been clamorous for Mr. Cameson's removal, and there have been inuendos that there would be no movement there unless Cameson's policy in regard to Slavery was ignored by the Government. We cannot think the President was influenced by demands from such a quarter.
