Death of Capt. Leopold Sahl, Jr.

Waragest to learn that Capt. Loopold Sahl, Jr., of the Moorhead Cavalry, who was wounded some ten days ago, near Hancock, Md., in an engagement with a party of rebels tied at Camberland last evening, from the efdied at Gumberland last evening, from the ef-feet of his wounds. It will be recollected that (Capt. Shell was lead into an ambuscade, and attacked by a superior force, during which he was abot in the thigh, two bullets having taken effect in close proximity to each other, anattering the thigh bone in a terrible 'man-ner.' He also lay for some three hours upon the ground, before his removal to a place of safety and comfort. His case had been alter-mating between hope and fear for several days part, but the brave soldier and warm hearted friend now sleeps his last sleep. We learn that; after all the efforts which had been made to any the limb, his physicians were forced to remort to amputation, in which operation he signed. The remains will be forwarded to this sity, by way of Wheeling, with an escort, and are appeted to reach hore at one o'clock this starnoon.

The Military Impostor. In yesterday's paper we gave the particulars of a singular case of imposition, practiced by a soldier upon a worthy family named Showers, in Allegheny, by representing himself as William Showers, a son who has been absent some five years. He was looked up for a hearing last night, and this morning was brought before Mayor Drum, when the following add itional facts were ascertained : David Fisher, alias Wm. Showers, came to Philadelphia several days ago, quite ragged and destitute looking, and applied for a position as cook, at a recruiting station belonging to Col. Lysie's Regiment. The recruiting officer informed him that they had engaged all the cooks they wanted, but he could enlist as a private if he so desired. He did so, and was a private if he so desired. He did so, and was soon after comfertably clothed in the regimen-tal uniform. Finding the officers very anx-ious to recruit one or two hundred mon, he made up a very plauiable story, stating that he lived in Pittaburgh, where there were scores of rolling mill mon idle, and willing to enlist. He stated that he could enlist twenty men himself-and if he failed, he would give his head for a foot-bail. The regimental offi-oers held a meeting, and detormined to send a licutenant out here with Fisher, which was accordingly done. Instead of recruiting men, hwerevs, he found out where the Showers fam-ily resided, and was having a "good time" palming himself off as their son. The licu-tenant was before the Mayor this morning, and admitted that he fad been unable to recruit a single man.
