itary organization that now remains in our vicinity—the Home Guards—was this: Let the proper officers call a meeting of those who shall represent the various companies—say those of Allegheny and vicinity in Excelsior Hall, and those on this side the river at City Hall—and let them re-organize the Guards into two divisions; then the proper officer, commanding, could call out, at a few hours' notice; a suitable detachment for a funeral casoort, or for any other purpose, at short notice.

coort, or for any other purpose, at short notice.

By this means a military-spirit would be engendered, which would do much to research the control of the Home Guards; and the duty of paying the last sad rites to the departed heroes whose bodies are returned for interment, would be guaranteed. We have expended time and monsy in equipping, arming and drilling our Home Guards. The expenditure was not in vain, since almost the entire organisation has been broken up at home by the number of enlistments for the more active service in the field. But now that our armies have attained the maximum required in the field, jet us gather up the fragments that remain, and effect a reorganisation at home, and so meet whatever duty may devolve upon us, and make what organisation at nome, and so ment whether duty may devolve upon us, and make what use we may of the time and money already expended upon the organization:

Will the officers and members of the Home
Guards take this subject into consideration,
and speedily effect some organization that may meet the apparent need.

Police Appointments in Allegheny The Pelice Committee of Allegheny Councils held a meeting last evening, and in conjunction with Mayor Drum made the followpolice appointments for the ensuing year :

police appointments for the ensuing year:

High Constable—Samuel Long.

Day Police—Wm. Bowden, Robert Jamison, Sylvester Tyler, Henry Herman.

Might Police—Wm. McKean, Wash. Swain, Oharles McCheeney, and Thomas Smith.

It will be seen that no change has been made in the present constabulary force, with the single exception of Thomas Smith, who has been chosen to fill a vacancy in the Night Police. It may be worthy to remark that Capt. Smith was High Constable under Mayor. Foster, upwards of twenty years ago, and although far advanced in life retains much of his youthful spirit and vigor.

The day and night police organizations will be continued as last year, the Committee and the Mayor being satisfied that such a disposition of the police force will bent conduce to the interests of the citizens. The night police, it is true, is quite limited coasidering the extent of territory and the number of inhabitants, but by strict attention to their duties they can do much towards suppressing row.

The city during the past year has been comparatively free from roughs, robbers and incondiaries, and if the present year shall prove as exempt, the Mayor and police may congratulate themselves upon a very successful administration.

Birladay of Robert Burns.

To-day is the 103d anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns,

"The simple bard, rough as the metic plough, Learning his tuneful trade at every bough,"

"Whose poetic genius is admired wherever the English language is spoken, and who has painted the rougher scenes of Scottish life in the most pleasing and gorgeons hues.

Robert Burns was born on the 25th of January 1759, on the banks of the Doon, near the ruined walls of "Kirk Alloway," the scene of Tam O'Shanter's midnight ride. His tendermess, pathos and droll humor; his faults and misfortunes; his conscious folly, culminating in premature death, have surrounded his character with a melancholy interest; yet he stands before us, SHOCKING.—The Ebensburg Alleghanian, last week, noticed the sudden death of the Cambria county peolestrian, William Singer. Starting from Loretto one evening, very much intoxicated, with a party in a sled for Cresson, he foll off his seat and was allowed to lay in the bottom of the sled. On arriving at Cresson he was found cold and stiff and dead.

Accident on the Railboad.—An elderly woman named Manen, while walking on the railroad between Johnstown and Conemaugh or Wednesday afternoon, was knocked down by a passing train and had both her legs so badly injured that it supposed amputation of both feet will be necessary.

A Substitute for color, is the carrot. A gentleman who has tried the experiment, gives the following directions:

Out raw carrots in thin silors, and brown slowly in the oven; then grind or pound them, and mix with collies in equal portions; or the silices may be put to boil with the collee without being broken. He says that the carrots cannot be detected by the tasts of the beverage, and that several gentlemen, at a dinner party where he was, drank each two or three cups of this coffee, who seldom indulgs in but one, ignorant of the ingredients, attributing the superior flavor to the excellent quality of the cream.

been returned by their friends for interment—those of Smith, Sahl and Harper. In each case, detachments from two of our companies of Home Guards attended the funerals, and gave token of their respect for the memory of the brave departed, and their sympathy with the bereaved friends, by such military honors
as are customary in the army.

This is right and-proper; and we are glad to see so many of our citisens—merchants, manufacturers and professional men—marching through the middlest of streets, in the most disagreeable of weather, to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of those who had so gallantly gone forth in the service of our beleved country, and offered up their lives, in defense of our liberties. No doubt the fediands who mourn the loss of a husband, brother of father feel gratified by this recognition of the duty we all owe to these who have lost their lives while in our armies.

What we desired to suggest to the only military organization that now remains in our
