OFFICIAL.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty-seventh Congress.

[PUBLIC—No. 9.]

AN ACT to authorize the President to appoint two additional Assistant Secretaries of War.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President be and he is hereby authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, two additional Assistant Secretaries of War, whose salary shall each be three thousand dollars per annum, who shall perform all such duties in the office of the Secretary of War belonging to that Department as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of War, or as may be required by law. The offices of these additional Secretaries to continue for one year.

Approved, January 22, 1862.

An Anecdote of Cassius M. Clay—His Quarrel with Tom Marshall.

The following capital story, told of Cassius M. Clay of Kentucky, we believe has never before been in print. It will be remembered that Mr. Clay served as captain of a company of Kentuckians in Mexico until taken prisoner by the enemy, he was compelled to remain an inactive spectator of scenes in which he would gladly have been an actor. Thomas F. Marshall, the fluent orator and illimitable imbiber, was also a captain in the same regiment with Clay. Marshall was in the habit of coming drunk on parade, much to the disgust of all, and greatly to the disorder and breach of all discipline in the regiment. Captain Clay, though the strictest of all captains in obeying the army rules and in requiring obedience, determined to give Captain Marshall a hint of disapproval. So, as soon as he became officer of the day, when his command was second only to that of the Colonel, he put on his military paraphernalia, and, riding up to the guard-house, cried out in a loud voice: "Officer of the guard!" and when the guard officer appeared he said: "I command you to empty the guard-house of all the prisoners, so long as I have command in this regiment no soldiers shall be punished whilst captains are allowed to violate the rules of war with impunity." The guard-house was emptied, and a great expectation was excited to see the issue of this flagrant breach of duty. But no notice was taken by the Colonel of the affair.

At the next encampment the famous quarrel took place between Captains Clay and Marshall, in presence of the whole regiment. Clay proposed to fight Marshall on the spot with broadswords; but Marshall pleaded that it would embroil the regiment. Thereupon Clay most bitterly replied that Marshall, at Lexington, did not fear to embroil, by his inflammatory appeals, the people in an affray where women and children were endangered; but here, where the two met on even terms, where men wore swords, with war as their profession, he feared to embroil others! It was the plea of a ballroom and assassin!" The next day Marshall tried to drown himself and his mortification in the San Juan river. Such was Clay's revenge upon the leader of the mob of 1845.

Religious Views of a British Royal Family.

A London paper says:

We can state, from the best authority, that for some time past the late Prince Consort had expressed, with a special emphasis, his approval of Evangelical preaching in its most experimental and searching form.

At what particular time, or under what particular circumstances, the religious views of the Prince had taken this more decided shape, we are not in a position to say. But it is not improbable that the very decided religious change which the mind of the Princess Royal underwent very shortly before her marriage, may have largely contributed to it. This change of mind on the part of the Princess Royal was the result of reading a small work by the late Rev. Adolphe Monod of Paris, which was put into her hands by a lady whom it would not be right to name. And the change so pronounced was so decided as to be observable by all around her. What her religious views were after the happy transformation had taken place may be inferred from the fact that during the last time she was at Balmoral, just before her marriage, she devoted several hours every day to visiting the sick and the dying, among the poor of the neighborhood, and in distributing the tracts of the Religious Tract Society—tracts, we need not say, which are of the most practical and Evangelical that ever proceeded from uninspired pens.

COLONEL NOAH H SWAYNE, who has been nominated to the Senate by the President for the Bench, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Judge McLean, is a resident of Columbus, Ohio, where for some thirty years or more he has been one of the leading members of the bar. He is a man of great industry and perseverance, and has devoted his life to the duties of his profession. He has an enviable reputation as a lawyer, and is among the best advocates in the state. In politics he was an original Democrat, but has never engaged in active political life. At the time of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise he left his party, and has since acted with the Republicans. Colonel Swayne is nearly sixty years of age, and of strong and vigorous constitution. He is a gentleman of fine personal appearance, of dignified and engaging address, of irreproachable private and professional character, of ample fortune, and will bring to the discharge of his duties industry, experience and integrity.

The Conservative View.

The notion that slavery hinders the forward movements of our armies, or hinders in any way the energetic prosecution of the war is absurd. The forward movement of our armies is of course hindered by military considerations alone. No loyal man can say where that we know of has ever so much as hinted the opinion that the prosecution of the war should be forbid in activity, or slackened in vigor on account of slavery or anything else.

Let the prosecution of the war on every account go forward with all possible activity and with all possible vigor. Slave property like every other species of property, must and will take care of itself under the necessary shock of mere war; nobody asks for discrimination in favor of slave property. Whatever the conservative men of the country condemns as both unconstitutional and suicidal is discrimination, whether direct or indirect, against slave property. We do not insist that the war shall be carried on for the protection of slavery, but that the war shall be carried on virtually or expressly for the destruction of slavery.—Evansville Journal.

A Model Proclamation.

The present is a war of long winded proclamations. The people would be glad, however, if our generals would borrow some of that terse and direct style which distinguishes Gen. Nathaniel Witness the proclamation of old Ethan Allen to the rebellious town of Guilford, Vt., in 1780:

"PROCLAMATION.—I, Ethan Allen, declare that if the inhabitants of the town of Guilford do not instantly and peaceably submit to the constituted authority of the State of Vermont, said town shall be rendered as the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah—by—!

"ETHAN ALLEN."

History tells us that the Guilfordists read the proclamation and very sensibly acquiesced.

ENGLISH STORM BLOCKADE.—The British press, in their assumed horror of our stone fleet operations, ignore their own past history. In the war of 1812 they attempted to fill up the harbor of Otter Creek, on Lake Champlain, by sinking vessels loaded with stone. They did not consider it barbarous then. In the war with France they also endeavored, but unsuccessfully, to shut up the French harbor of Bologne in the same way.

FROM THE RAPPAHANNOCK.—A Canada paper says that one of their officers on hearing that the militia were to be called out, sent his commission to his Lieut. Colonel, endorsed as follows:

"Dear Cornal, I beg to resine my commishin. Being a dimple of Knirt, I cannot take up the sord."

COMMERCIAL RECORD.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

[Reported especially for the Pittsburgh Daily Gazette.]

TUESDAY, Jan. 28th, 1862.

FLOUR—There is no change to note in the Flour market. The demand continues limited, and the transactions, generally, are in the small way. Sale of 80 bbls Family at $5@5,10; 100 do do at $5; 200 do do at $5@5,10. Extra is steady at $4,50@4,60, and Fancy brands $5,6@5,75.

GROCERIES—Coffee is quiet but unchanged, with a sale of 10 bags prime Rio at 21c. Sugars are dull but firm, with small sales of Cuba at 9¾c. Molasses steady at 48 to 50c per gall for N. O.

SEEDS—dull and lower; sale of 20 bush Cloverseed at $3,75 ⅌ bush; 30 do Flax at $1,60, and 12 do Timothy at $1,65.

POTATOES—firm, with a demand fully equal to the supply; sale of 60 bush Peach Blows at 45c, and 50 do Prince Alberts at 50c.

DRIED FRUIT—Sale of 30 bush Apples at $1,50, and 25 do Peaches at $3.

BROOMS—Sale of 30 doz Extra Fancy at $2,50 per doz, and 20 do Common at $1.

BUTTER—There is an improved request for Butter, with a light supply of prime in market; sale of 2 bbls prime Roll at 18½c, and 200 lbs do at 14c.

OATS—unchanged; sale from store of 134 bush at 28c per bush.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—dull and lower; sale of 4000 lbs in sacks at $1,25 per cwt.

CRUDE OIL—The receipts during the past two or three days have been light, and the consequence is that the supply is considerably in excess of the demand. Prices have declined, and in the absence of sales we quote at 7c per gall, cash, and 8c—4 mos.

EGGS—dull, with small sales at 10c per doz.

HOMINY—Sale of 10 bbls Flint at $4,00 per bbl

CRANBERRIES—Sale of 4 bbls at $5 per bbl.

WHISKY—dull but firm, with small sales of common at 20@21c per gall.

BEANS—Sale of 40 bush small white at $1,25 per bush.

River News.

Business continues very dull at the wharf, the offering of freight for all points being light, while the receipts are limited. The weather yesterday was cloudy and mild, with an almost constant rain falling during the entire day. The river was about at a stand last evening at which time the pier marks indicated full seven feet. There is every prospect at the present writing of another swell. The only transient arrival was the Ohio No. 2 from Cincinnati with an excellent cargo of miscellaneous freights. She reports freights very scarce at Cincinnati, with several boats in port loading for Pittsburgh who she left. There is plenty of Eastern freight there, but it has to be held back in consequence of orders from the officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company not to ship for the present.....The J. W. Hallman was preparing to leave for Louisville last evening. She had an excellent cargo, consisting principally of iron, nails and salt.....The Linden from Louisville will probably be found at the wharf this morning.....The Prima Donna, Capt. Geo. D. Moore, is announced to leave for St. Louis forthwith.....The Comet, Capt. J. H. Lightner, is the first boat for Cincinnati and Louisville. She will be followed by the Clara Poe.....The Citizen from Evansville will arrive to-night or to-morrow. As will be seen by card she returns again on Saturday next.....The Mississippi river was still gorged on Saturday between Cairo and St. Louis. It was thought, however, as the weather had moderated and the river was rising, that the gorge will soon give way.....The steamer Altamont is lying high and dry at Sugar Creek, a short distance above Wheeling. She will have to remain in her present situation until there is another flood.....The Meliotte left Louisville for the Wabash river the other day, for a cargo of flour for Pittsburgh.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 25th, 1862.

Eds. Gazette: The steamer Citizen, Capt. R. Cathoun, left Shawneetown for Pittsburgh on the evening of the 23d inst., with 400 tons. For Pittsburgh consignees as follows: R. T. Kennedy & Bro., 5000 sks wheat; Clarke & Co., 78 tcs, 424 kgs lard and 16 bbls pork; Springer Harbaugh, 752 sks wheat, 219 bbls flour and 29 green hides; John Grozier, 32 bbls eggs; M. Gormley, 14 bbls dry fruit. We have been contending against a high and rising river until we came to Madison where it was on a stand. Almost all the bottom lands below Louisville are under water, houses in many places to the second story. Most but little property of value adrift. Will arrive at your port on Thursday, and return to Evansville and Mt. Vernon on Saturday the 1st inst. Crew all well.

Yours, truly, E.

ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL, BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BOARD REDUCED TO $2,00 PER DAY.

Since the opening of this vast and commodious Hotel, in 1854, it has been the single endeavor of the proprietors to make it the most sumptuous, convenient and comfortable home for the citizen and stranger on this side of the Atlantic.

And whatever has seemed likely to administer to the comfort of its guests they have endeavored, without regard to cost, to provide, and to combine all the elements of individual and social enjoyment which modern art has invented and modern taste approved; and the patronage which it has commanded during the past six years is a gratifying proof that their efforts have been appreciated.

To meet the exigencies of the times, when all are required to practice the most rigid economy, the undersigned have REDUCED THE PRICE OF BOARD TO TWO DOLLARS PER DAY, at the same time adopting none of the luxuries with which their table has hitherto been supplied.

MISCELLANEOUS.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

WESTERN DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA, ss.

Whereas, by virtue of a certain warrant of arrest issued out of the District Court of the United States for said district, bearing date in Admiralty, I have seized and attached the steamboat or vessel called T. D. BUSKIRK, together with all and singular her tackle, apparel and furniture, and the same do hold for safe keeping, and to abide the final order and decree of the said Court in a certain plea civil and maritime, prosecuted against the said steamboat and T. L. Hyatt, part owner, by Andrew M'Cartney, libellant, for possession and condemnation.

Now, therefore, by pursuance of the monition under the seal of the said Court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming the said vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, or any interest therein, or in them thereon, or in any manner interested in the same, that they be and appear before the said District Court, at the City of Pittsburgh, on the FOURTH DAY OF FEBRUARY next, 1862, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon of that day, if the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise on the next day of jurisdiction thereafter, then and there to interpose their claims and to make their allegations in that behalf.

DITHRIDGE'S XX FLINT GLASS OVAL CARBON OIL

AND

OVAL CHIMNEYS.

Patented October 8th, 1861.

The best that have ever yet been offered to the public. They are the best for the following reasons:

1. Because, being of an oval shape, they are everywhere equally distant from the flame, so that the draft is uniform and not partial.

2. The oval shape is better adapted to resist the effect of sudden expansion, so that it is impossible to crack them.

3. The glass is made largely of Lead and Pearlash, giving a great degree of strength and elasticity. The chimneys are what housekeepers have found to be so brittle as to crack, and are not to be used, so justly made of Lime Glass instead of Flint Glass, of which ours are manufactured.

4. But the greatest advantage of these Chimneys is that when you have one it will last forever, and if any housekeeper breaks one by the heat of the lamp, let her call at the Manufactory and we will replace her cracked chimney by a dozen whole ones. This proffer does not include accidents or those cases of breakage where the chimney has through inexperience, been screwed so closely to the lamp as to prevent its expansion when heated.

Manufacturers and consumers of Carbon Oil, who have felt the magnitude of the obstacle, which has existed in the great expense of chimneys, in the way of the universal use of the oil, have found a remedy in the Oval XX Flint Glass Chimneys, which has materially lessened the cost of Carbon Oil light to those who use them, and increased the consumption of oil consequent upon the lessened expense for chimneys.

For sale by J. C. Kirkpatrick, L. Thumm & Co., Rogers & Nesbit, P. Hayden, Lucesco Oil Co., Weldon & Kolnaka, W. Ogden & Co., W. P. Wooldridge, W. M. Mackey, or at the Manufactory, Washington st., near Pennsylvania avenue.
