Death of Rev. Joshua Wells. Rev. Joshus Wells, the oldest clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died on Saturday last, at the residence of Mr. Wm. Fite, in Baltimore county, Md., in the 98th year of his age. Mr. W. was a native of Maryland, born in 1764, and in early life connected himself with the Methodist Church. He was cotamporary with Wesley, Asbury, Whitefield, Coke and other pioneers of that denomnation, having become an itinerant preacher in 1788, when he was 24 years of age. In the early days of his ministry the hardships of travel were very great, and in many instances he was required to travel beyond the Alleghetravel were very great, and in many instances he was required to travel beyond the Alleghenies to fill his appointments. His ministerial career began with the Baltimore annual conference, where he remained in active service until the infirmities of age compelled his retirsment; though he still held as superanuated relation with the body. He was a man of robust constitution, and though not possessed of a brilliant scholastic education was estimated with the service of the property of the pr teemed an able expounder of the scriptures.
Until within two or three years past he regularly attended the sessions of the conference.
His remains were interred at Con-

Revival of Religion at Tarentum We understand that a very spirited and unusual revival of religion is now in progress in the borough of Tarentum. The pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Horner, has been conducting religious exercises in his congregation since the first of January, and ever one hundred have been added to the roli of membership. This is not so strange; but the same gentleman informs us that Rev. Mr. Ramey, of the United Presbyterian church, has also a revival in progress in his congregation, and that an "anxious soat," or "mourner's bench," has been crected, where persons intending to unite with the church are invited to kneel for prayer and spiritual solvies and consolation. Between thirty and forty, have professed conversion within the last few weeks, and the meetings still continue. This is certainly a novel feature in Presbyterianism, and which will startle not a few of the adherents to that faith.

MocLetlan's Deram is the name of a new drams which will be performed at the theatre to-night for the first time in this city. As it is founded on events which have taken place in recently in Virginia and Maryland, between the Union forces and the rebels, it is fair to presume it will not only prove interesting but continue to draw good houses for nights to come. The "Flying. Dutahman," with Maffit in one of the principal characters, concludes the entertainment.

A singular case of attempted wife murder occurred on Sunday, the 19thinst, near Doylestow. A man named Thomas Dilworth, whose wife was very deairous of joining the Baptist Church, at Point Pleasant, forbade her to do so, and threatened to shoot her if she disobeyed his wishes. She started from home to go to church, on Sunday, when took down the gun and discharged its contents at her. The load was lodged in her thigh below the groin. Chief Justice is already pretty sick of that case himself.

By the way, one of the Philadelphia members, named Donnis, intends to demolish Mr. Williams one of these days. You must not, however, prepare to elect his successor until you get notice of his actual decease. The lovers of fun are on the look out for this encounter of wits, which will probably take place very shortly.

The two Houses, to-day, mot in joint convention to open the bids for btate printing for the first three years. For some years part, these bids have rundown to 60 and even 75 per cent. below the prices fixed in the act of 1841—the contractor relying upon the oxtrast for his profits. The Anditor General, an old printer, has been enforcing the law upon. Mr. Hamilton, the present State printer. This has not only taken away all his profits, but even inflicted a loes upon him of $8,000, as he alleges; hence Hamilton, who has here tofore bid 75 per cent below the prices fixed in the act of 1841, only to-day bid 1642 below; the silit there were bids at 61, 62 and 65 per cent. below that act. When, however, the bonds and scourities of these bidders were, and so surface of the bidders were called for, they appeared to be men of straw. At least the Speakers of the two Houses related to approve them.

A suspicion got abryand in the Convention that the Harrisburg printers were acting in concert to give the State printing to one of the Harrisburg printers were acting in concert to give the State printing to one of the Harrisburg printers were acting in concert to give the State printing to one of the third were a state that the dease to approve them.
