TENNESSEE AND ALABAMA COTTON.-The opening up of the Tennessee river, brings us into the heart of the best upland cotton re-gion. If the Government will keep a gun-boat, or so, sailing up and down that river, an immense supply of the staple can be produced in exchange for goods or eash. A large trade will spring up in that region, as soon as the rebels are driven out of Ce-lumbus and Nashville. Memphis will fail a soon as Columbus is taken, and Tennesopening up of the Tennessco river, brings us
