CASE OF DANIEL A. BOYD. DR. G. H. Kursku.—I take pleasure in making this voluntary sistement in favor of a medicine pre-pared by you called "Liment's BLOOD Schames." I had suffered for the years with Scrotnia, which broke out on my head and strehead so as to disfigure me very much, and took off the hair when the dis-sease made its appearance; it also broke out on arm above and below the elbow, and est into the akis. and fish se as to expose a fearful sore. The disease on my head went so far that several small pieces o the season has been seed to leave End.

The poisoning and the bear size this poisoning, and the bear size this was size this mental, although a litted the was size this mental, although the was size than the poison was formatly end and and Pittuder plant Temples ald in the poison was placed, nor has the bearing before Mayor Sawyer, on Thursday afternoon, it has troop to the account the poison was placed, nor has the bearing before a way to the drug been determined.

The Secretary of War, in authorising Gen.
Lander to try, sentennee, and assents Col. Annisansel, of the First Virginia Cavalry, for, cowardice in the face of the enemy at Bloomery, a few days ago, testifies to the army that the Government is as ready to punish the poltroon, as in case of Gens. Grant, Smith and others, to reward the brave. It does not appear, however, that Gen. Lander intends inflicting so severe a punishment on Colonel Annisansel. The Wheeling Intelligencer learns from Cumberland that he will simply disgrace the recreant Colonel by depriving him of his sword and commission, and ordering him for thwith out of his military jurisdiction.
