A Hardened Old Sinner.

The whole term of service in the Western Penitentiary of the colored man Brown, arrested on Friday, for larceny, at the fire in Allegheny, has been twenty-one server and three the western that was first committed from Bomer-sectionary, in 1833, under the name of Lewis Brown, for Isroeny, and served one year and six months. In 1836, he was sent back for eight years, from this county, for arson, under the name of John Miller, alias John der the name of John Miller, alias John and the present week, and adjourned until Monday next.

89. Defendant's attorney, moved for a new trial.

It was expected that Judge Hampton would not be in the present to lawre to ill to leave his residence, and notified Judge Williams of the fact. The latter gentleman, being about to change his place of residence impossible to conduct the business of the color during the present week, and adjourned until Monday next. A Hardened Old Sinner. Brown, for larceny, and served one year and six months. In 1838, he was sent back for eight years, from this county, for aron, under the name of John Miller, alias John Martin, John Baldwin, Lewis Brown. In 1847, he was committed from Beaver county, for another year, for breaking into a dwelling house, with intent to kill. He then had two wore names, John Lewis and John Brown. Again we find him, with the added cognomen of, John Smith, sent back from this county, for larceny, for two and a half years, in 1850 in 1833 he came back for a like term from Beafford county, for larceny; and in 1856 he got a term of fire years and nine months, for assault and battery with intent to kill, from our own Court. His time expired in Ottober last, and now he stands a fair chance of going back.

With what success they are likely to meet, may be judged from the following, which we extract from a late Nashville letter:

"A loyal resident informs me that one of the principal resions of the stopping of busiass by many tradesmen, is the apprehension of the appearance of Northern creditors in the wake of the Federal troops. —I understand, also, that various manoeuvers have been reof the appearance of Northern creditors in the wake of the Faderal troops. I understand, also, that various manoeuvers have been resorted to by such as had Northern dunners to fear; after the fall of Fort Donelson, in order to defraud Northern men of their just dues. Some moved their goods and balances in trade. Dthern made flatitious saless of their stocks and other property. But it is not likely that these tricks will prove of any avail before Federal Courts, although they may cause vexation and delay to the creditors."

More Old Horses.

It is not long since the Pittaburgh press were called upon to contradict the unjust imputations cast upon Western Pennsylvania in relation to the "corrible old 'orses" seni west from this city, for the use of some cavalry regiments—the fact being that they were first purchased in the west, shipped here, and then re-shipped west. Now we find the following, in the Wheeling Intelligencer, which is perhaps susceptible of an equally astiffactory explantion:

"Thirty-three herses were received here on Satracky, by Capt. Downing, from the Quartermaster at Pittaburgh, for use in the mount of Virginia. The whole look as if they would even what in the name of old horsefiesh the Gavernment in the heat of spirits, and are eager to get hold of the constidered by all military men who have sate seen such a lot of broken down old crow halts since the commencement of the warning as trangth enough to draw the last breash. The whole lot was shipped over the Raltimore and Ohlo Railroad, yesterday, to Cumberland, where they will be put to work, if the officers in authority there do not consider it the chaspest plan to turn them out to die. We have a good judge of horse fiesh remark, as the horses were leaving the sating for the Golonel to make us so in every breach. The Wood of the Baltimore and Ohlo Railroad, yesterday, to Cumberland, where they will be put to work, if the officers in authority there do not consider it the chaspest plan to turn them out to die. We have a good judge of horse fiesh remark, as the horses were leaving the same and any one of the best of spirits, and are eager to get hold of the long expected games. PLOATED OFF.—The rise in the Allegheny last night rendered it necessary to look after floating property at the wharf. Several parties were caught sapping, and among them Thomas Smith, coal dealer, who lost three flats, partly loaded with coal, which floated from their moorings above the St. Olair street bridge, Allegheny. It was thought they could be recovered without much difficulty.

Ur Agaix. John Shubert, an obsteperous German, was again up before Mayor Dram, this morning, for disorderly conduct on com-plaint of his wife. The opinion is that John's "better half" is the worst of the two, but she has ally bas a sly way of raising a row and essaying the consequences. John was fined one dollar and costs.

The order of arrest was placed in the hands of the Military Governor of the District of Columbia, and the editor of the paper brought before him. The editor stated that the news was handed in at a very late hour, and the paper went to press without his personal supervision. He expressed his regret at the violation of the order, and promised to guard carefully against a recurrence of similar publications; whereupon, at the request of the Military (tovernor, he being antisfied that the offense would not be repeated, the exacution of the order was suspended.
