LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 16, 1862.

COL. CAMERON REMAINS.

The remains of Col. James Cameron, 79th Highlanders, killed at Bull Run, were brought to this city yesterday. The principal reason for the delay of the ex-Secretary of War to depart to his mission in St. Petersburg is now removed. The Colonel's body had been interred with five others unbodied. The recognition by the clothing and other evidences known to his orderly in the battle, John Kane, was indisputable.

AN INDEPENDENT STROKE AND ITS PROBABLE CONSEQUENCES.

Lieutenant Baum, of the Twenty-seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers, acting as ordnance officer on Gen. Hooker's staff, and John C. Gregg, telegraph operator, went to the Virginia side on Tuesday for an independent stroll and exploration of the late rebel camps. They succeeded in passing the Union pickets, and have no doubt been taken, as they have not returned to their camp. The wife of a Union man in the vicinity of Dumfries reports having seen the rebel scouts passing her house with two prisoners.

Contrabands continue to come in daily, and report that every negro who could be, was driven to Fredericksburg; there to be employed in the erection of fortifications, while the white population were being impressed in the ranks.

ENTERTAINMENT OF WENDELL PHILLIPS.

Speaker Grow entertained Wendell Phillips at dinner last night. The other guests were Vice-President and Mrs. Hamlin, and Mrs. Fremont, and Senator Sumner. To-day Mr. Phillips went to Alexandria at the invitation of several officers, and addressed the soldiers. After he leaves Washington he will make his first journey westward, speaking at Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Madison, Toledo, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities.

IRON-CLAD VESSELS.

Gen. Totten has advised the diversion of the $7,000,000 appropriated this session for coast defenses, to the construction of iron-clad vessels of war. Commodore Smith, the head of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, has been authorized by Secretary Welles to build an iron-clad gunboat within sixty days.

MAJ.-GEN. HITCHCOCK CALLED TO WASHINGTON.

General E. A. Hitchcock, who recently declined the appointment of Major General of Volunteers, was summoned here from St. Louis some days ago, and he was visited by Mr. Stanton, the Secretary of War. What transpired at the interview has not been announced; but it was of sufficient importance to the interests of the country to induce General Hitchcock to reconsider this declination of the Major Generalship. Waiving all considerations of a personal nature, he consented to accept the appointment. After this he left for New York, but was almost immediately ordered to report himself to the President. He arrived on Friday, and will now have his permanent place here. Though Secretary Cameron had nearly deprived the country of one of its oldest and ablest military commanders, yet it is now a source of satisfaction to the people that the President and Secretary Stanton have near them one whose military judgment cannot but be of the greatest possible advantage at this time.

THE PROPOSED REMOVAL OF GEN. M'CLELLAN.

The resolution offered in the Senate executive session on Friday, requesting the President to remove Gen. McClellan from his command, and withdrawn by the mover after a debate which showed a unanimous purpose to pass it, will probably be renewed on Monday or Tuesday.

THE CASE OF COMMODORE STRINGHAM.

Messrs. Odell and Baker, members from New York, yesterday called upon Secretary Welles, and urged that Commodore Stringham, who is now in this city, be assigned to active duty. It is understood that the Secretary gave them assurance that this gallant and meritorious officer would soon be assigned to duty.

THE CASES OF POLITICAL PRISONERS.

The Commission of Major General Dix and Judge Pierrepont, appointed by the Government to examine into the cases of political prisoners still held in custody, will meet in Washington to-morrow at 12 o'clock. There are about sixty such prisoners in Fort Warren, twenty-five at Fort Lafayette, as many in Fort McHenry, and perhaps eighty in Washington. Besides, there are a number at Harper's Ferry, Wheeling, Camp Chase, Columbus, and at St. Louis—nearly three hundred altogether. It is understood that the Government will deal magnanimously with these captives. Their friends should get up such evidences of their good character as will help them in the examination about to be held.

THE INTERNAL TAX BILL.

Washington is overrun with committees from every class of manufactures, merchants, and traders, seeking relief from the rates of taxation fixed in the bill before Congress. The Manhattan Gas Company of New York have been at work all day, and a delegation from Lowell, Massachusetts, are now here. Tuesday Mr. Phillips went to Alexandria at the invitation of several officers, and addressed the soldiers. After he leaves Washington he will make his first journey westward, speaking at Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Madison, Toledo, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities.

Gen. Totten has advised the diversion of the $7,000,000 appropriated this session for coast defenses, to the construction of iron-clad vessels of war. Commodore Smith, the head of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, has been authorized by Secretary Welles to build an iron-clad gunboat within sixty days.

THE EXAMINATION OF CONTRACTS.

Messrs. Holt and Owen, commissioned to examine and allow or reject all contracts, orders, and claims on the War Department for ordnance, arms and ammunition, will commence their labors to-morrow. Rooms are taked rooms in the War Department. Their investigations will be of a rigid character. Contractors who do not stand square and clean on the record had better run from under.

THE RIGHT TO PENSIONS.

To correct misapprehensions about the right to pensions, we will say that the Attorney General has decided:

First. Volunteers, called into service under the act of 22d July, 1861, authorizing the President to call out 500,000 men, who may be wounded or otherwise disabled in the service are not within the provisions of the acts of the 20th January, 1813, and 2d August, 1813, but are entitled to the benefits of the act of the 16th March, 1802.

Second. Widows and orphans of volunteers called out under the act of the 22d July, 1861, who die or are killed in service, are not entitled to benefits of the act of the 4th of July, 1836.

Third. No adequate provision seems to be made by existing laws for widows and orphans of volunteers.

Fourth. The militia called out and mustering into service, under the President's proclamation of the 15th April, 1861, who may have been disabled in the service, are entitled to the pensions allowed by the second section of the act of 2d August, 1813.

The Attorney-General earnestly recommends that the whole subject be called to the attention of Congress, to the end that pension laws, comprehensive and easily understood, may be enacted by that body.

THE New Orleans True Delta, since the recent national victories in the West, has contained several articles in favor of a restoration of the Union. It is reported that the state of things in New Orleans threatens open riot.

The difference (according to the Boston Transcript) between a taxidermist and a taxicosseful retreat from Manassas would have been entirely prevented.—N. Y. Tribune.

Senator Cowan.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—As a reader of the Gazette, from my boyhood I may say, that I have received its political teachings, generally, with confidence and approval. With it, at an early day, I was convinced of the necessity of a political organization upon the principles avowed by the Republican party at its organization at Pittsburgh, in February, 1856. The grand idea of the men who assembled on that occasion was to present some effective barrier to the encroachments of the slave power. It had then recently robbed freedom of Kansas, and impudently asserted its determination to rule the country. Timid men stood in the back ground, "conservatives," like wise owls, shook their heads, and clung to their old ideas, but the popular mind had been aroused, and the necessity of meeting the arrogant demands of the slave power, became manifest to a very large majority of the people in the free States, and the result of the election of 1856, showed a wonderful change in political organizations. Timid and reluctant conservatives, men who were ambitious for place and power, speedily joined their fortunes to the triumphant party, after its power with the people became manifest, without really having adopted its principles, but they had the sagacity to see, that the people were for making the principles of liberty predominant in this Government, and many old leaders followed, not from any moral conviction of the righteousness of the cause, but a belief that the party was to be successful. In its infancy and weakness, the party opposed to the further encroachments of the slave power took no man upon trust, and placed no doubtful man in high position. To be trusted, he must have been able to have shown a clean record, and ample evidence of his fidelity to the cause, but after it become strong, it opened its doors wide, and the seeming universality of the prevalence of its doctrines, begat a criminal negligence, which may prove fatal to the final
