The resolutions of the Committee of the Senate of Ohio, in regard to the rebel officers new confined in Columbus, who have some thirty or forty slaves with them to wait upon them, came up for adoption.

The resolutions appeal to the President to the resolutions appeal to the President to some of the same of this passage will excite in the bosoms of the enfranchised not wrath, nor harred, nor revenge, but love, joy and grathard. The resolutions appeal to the President to put a stop to this outrage of thus establishing slavery in Ohio. Several Senators spake very eloquently of the fact that these blacks were regarded and treated as alaves, as chattels, and not as prisoners of war. Then why not bring their other chattels, their horses, to ride, and their cows or goals, to milk? This would be as consistent as to bring their slaves, for their four them by the necessities, the passions, and the pride of slaveholding society.

JUSTICE TO THE OWNER. This bill, to give liberty to the bondman deals justly, ay, gonerously, by the master.

The American people, whose moral sense has been outraged by shavery and the black codes, enacted in the interests of slavery in the District of Columbia, whose fame has ernment confiscates the property of rebes, and applies the proceeds to the prosecution at the solid and dimmed by the deeds of crulty perpetrated in their national capital, would stand justified in forum of and applies the proceeds to the prosecution of the war; he would have the same done with the slaves. He was asked if he would have these blacks sold. "Yes," was the reply, "would sell them as quick as I would a horse, an ox, or a wagon." osed compensation is full, ample equitable. THE MORAL CHARACTER OF THE COLORED PEOPLE—THE KENTUCKY SENATOR TRI-UMPHANTLY ANSWERED.

But the Senator from Kentucky [Mr. Davis] raises his warning voice against the passage of this measure of justice and beneficence. He assumes to speak like one having authority. Ho is positive, dogmatic, emphatic, and prophetic. He repeatedly assured the Senate that he gave utterance to what he know, that his warnings and predictions were infallible prophecies. The Senator predicted in excited, if not angry tones that the passage of this bill giving WHEREAS, To make them continue loyal, tones, that the passage of this bill, giving Union loving citizens, as heretofore, it is necessary and proper to indulgo them in their little luxuries. Therefore, Resolved, That each of our Southern brethren, so unjustly confined in Camp Chase, ought to be furnished with a nigger at the expense of the Union men of the Narth where the company of the Union men of the the company of the Union men of the three company of the triple of the Union men of the three company of the triple of the triple of the triple of the Union men of the Various other Senstors spoke for and against.

The vote resulted—yeas 21, nays 4.
One Democrat, O'Connor, voted with the majority. The nays were all Democrats.

Thus it is always. Democrats are always found on the side of glavery, and therefore on the side of glavery, and therefore on the side of secession. They defend the outrage committed against the whole loval people of the North, by per-

"J. B."—Hon. Emmerson Etheridez, in a speech at Nashville, thus spoke of the $\psi$."

Shakespeare says "What's in a name?" I differ with the immortal bard upon that point, and question whether a Burr in this neighberhood would name a child Benedict. I am not superstitions, gentlemen, but allow me to tell you that I shall always steer clear of the initials "J. B." J. B. indicates John Breckenridge; J. B. stands for James Buchanan; J. B. suggests Judah Benjamin; J. B. stands for John Brows.
