J. C. AYER & Co.—Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your faraparrilla has done for mallaring inherited a Scrothlous infection, I have suitered from it in various ways for years. Sometines it bursts out in licers on my hands and arma; sometimes it turned inward and distracted me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with ride sore, which was painful and toathsome beyond description. I turted many medicines and ververal physicians, but dispose much relief from any thing. In fact, the dispose much relief from any thing. In fact, the dispose much relief from any thing. HARFYS HOTEL, LINUTE SHOPE, LIN Asthmatic Politiciaus. Messrs. Saulsbury, Kennedy, Carlie, and other members of the Senato, who opposes so petitishly every attempt made to rescue the government from the ascendency of the slave-oligarchy, remind us of a story which is told in a freecott work called "Life among the Colleant" (The author marrates that a certain lady in the manor; coming into the possession of herpeoperty, desired to improve the approaches to the village church; and accordingly she set about it, but the matter had, it seems; to be undertaken: cautiously, for "an old-sodlier lived in a cettinge hard by the gates of the courerhyard, with an asthma so terrible that he had slopt in his chair nightly for nearly twoity years. Of course, 'looking out o', winder was a great recreation for one so afflicted, and something nice to look at was desirable. It object was a 'midden'—a dumphil—and the general opinion was, 'he would die if midden wer moved. Tommy Wilson worn't a man to be meddled wi! Why, he'd threwn eshes and stooff out o' front door all his life, and it wor hard to expect him to gi' oop old ways."

A 'slauge and offensive midden has been gathering about the approaches to our capital, our national church, for many years, which they who have recently come into possession of the 'government desire to remove. But these senetors from the border states, like Tommy. Wilson, are not men to be meddled with: they, have thrown "eshes and stooff' out of their front door all their lives; and now they find it hard to give up their old ways. They insist that the midden shall remain, how offensive scever it may be to the eyes and now they find it hard to give up their old ways. They insist that the midden shall remain, how offensive scever it may be to the eyes and now they find it hard to give up their old ways. Pittsburgh, Jan. 1, 1802.—jaztf THRIDGE'S XX FLINT GLASS Pro-Slavey Intrigues.

The Democrats and border slave State men in Congress have been exceedingly active of late, and an attempt is making to revive the old Democratic, pro-slavery, secession sympathixing party. A caucus or private meeting has been held, under the management of Vallandigham. I have it on the best authority, that, sithough many respectable war Democrats attended the meeting, the leaders were all white-feather Democratis—gentlomen who have always opposed the war againet the rebellion. The gentlemen who called it, who drew up the resolutions, and who were at the head of the meeting, have been known in political circles to be "the friends of the South." The object of the caucus is easily seen, by all but blinded Democrats, to the restoration of the rebels to their old honorable position at the head of the government, and to give slavery guaranties of power and continued egistence. GRAIN FAN AND SEPARATOR, Governor Johnson's Address.—The Governor's address to the people of Teunessee, which your renders have seen, is in excellent taste and spirit. It offers to rebels the clive branch, but I don't believe many of them will accept it. If they will, I shall rejoice. For those who will not, I trust the sword is in reserve. It is impossible for me to believe that a man with Andrew Johnson's knowledge of human nature, and with his knowledge of the spirit which dwells in the bosoms of those who will persist in rebellion, will hold off the rod many more days. And I can promise you, that so soon as the work of putting down rampant conspirators is begun in good earnest, there will be a Union feeling developed here which will astorish your special correspondent, Mr. G.
