Pittsburgh Gazette.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 22.

THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE will meet at the office of S. SCHOYER, Jr., Esq., No. 139 Fourth st., on Saturday, May 24th, 1862, at ten o'clock, a. m. Punctual and full attendance is requested.

Our National Debt.

It has been generally supposed that our indebtedness was somewhere in the neighborhood of one thousand millions. We learn from undoubted authority, that on the 19th of the present month of May, our national indebtedness was but five hundred and sixty-three million of dollars, with some twenty millions of unsettled floating liabilities. When we consider that Buchanan left the administration with a debt of about one hundred millions, it is really most gratifying that the indebtedness is no greater.

Another fact most gratifying is, that the Government is only paying, on an average, but four and a half per cent. on its loans. Although its loans have been taken at five, six and 7 3 per cent., yet one hundred millions of indebtedness, without interest, composed of Treasury notes, brings the cost to the Government to the low figures above stated.

The wisdom manifested in the management of our financial affairs, by the Secretary of the Treasury, is admitted on all hands. He has quietly attended to his arduous duties—the most arduous required of any member of the Government—and has brought order out of chaos, and given the Government a credit higher than it ever had before, although engaged in a civil war of a magnitude unheard of in the history of any civilized nation. Mr. CHASE stands high in the respect of his countrymen. They have the most thorough trust in his integrity, his wisdom, and his patriotism. It was the most fortunate event conceivable that Mr. LINCOLN yielded to the solicitations of Mr. CHASE's friends, and placed him in the situation he is probably better fitted to fill, than any other public man in the country.

Union Men in Kentucky.

A Kentucky correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes:

At a meeting of the citizens of Nicholas county, held in the Court House in Carlisle on Monday, May 12, 1862, County Court day, the house was full to overflowing. Dr. J. F. McMillan was called to the Chair, and F. Munger, Clerk.

On motion of E. West, Esq., Col. Leonidas Metcalfe, J. W. Campbell and F. Munger were appointed a Committee to prepare resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. Col. Metcalfe returned with the following resolutions, which were unanimously and heartily adopted:

Resolved, That forbearance any longer is absolute cowardice. We are driven to the wall, and must defend; and any game that they start, two can play at. That we will hold the sympathizers in our midst accountable for any and all damage that may be inflicted on our Union men by these robbers, or any other Secessionists. They shall pay for all losses, and if any of our Union men are killed or captured by them, we will retaliate in at least five-fold proportion upon the sympathizing scoundrels in our midst.

Resolved, That we approve of the action of our delegates in the Maysville Convention, and will give a hearty support to the nominee.

Resolved, That we recommend to all Union men to avoid the Cincinnati Enquirer, that we see the effects of that paper. It has done more damage to our Government and Union cause than the Louisville Courier, or any other paper that ever circulated among us, their professions notwithstanding. We therefore respectfully request our fellow-citizens, Samuel Berry, (the stage owner,) that he will not bring or deliver any more of that paper in our county.

J. F. MCMILLAN, Chairman.
F. MUNGER, Clerk.

The above resolutions will be read with interest by loyal people everywhere. They contain the unmistakable words of men that are in earnest; words that are emphatic because they are spoken by men who evidently mean what they say, and will do what they promise. Let the other counties of Kentucky, where the secesh are threatening to give trouble, speak out like Nicholas county—and the rebel element will soon "hide its diminished head." It is a noteworthy fact that the pabulum of the secesh in Kentucky, according to the above, is now supplied by a Northern Democratic journal. Truly some of them have but a thin disguise of loyalty to cover the cloven-foot,—but the Cincinnati Enquirer, and the rest of its kindred, often now-a-days lay aside even their disguise. The public good would require their suppression—but if the Government overlook and disregard their evil influence, the best thing the people can do is to imitate the example of the loyal citizens above named, and discourage their circulation.

The President's Proclamation

Seems to give unalloyed satisfaction to the entire press of the country, of all shades of opinion. It is well that something happens occasionally to cause unanimity of sentiment.

The satisfaction, however, arises from sources as different as the views of the various parties. The pro-slavery papers are gratified because HUNTER's order is revoked, and that is all the comfort they can derive from the President' words. The true Republican press are pleased because the President takes strong anti-slavery ground, and urges the wisdom and the necessity of emancipation upon the slaveholders. We predict that the Republicans will continue pleased, while the mutterings of discontent are already heard from the Border State men, and will soon extend to all those who cling to the effete institution.

Arrest of Major Williams.

A letter from the Peninsula, to the New York Times, says:

"A matter of grave importance occurred last night in the arrest of Major Williams, of the Sixth Cavalry, by order of Gen. Stoneman, upon several charges, the chief of which are said to be, passing over to the enemy's lines, holding verbal and written communication with the enemy, and neglecting his command. It is stated that a strict watch has been kept upon his proceedings since the battle at Williamsburg. He was arrested near the picket line by an officer of the Second Rhode Island Regiment, and taken into camp by a detail from the Sixth Cavalry. His tent was guarded during the night by four men, with orders to shoot him should he attempt to escape. It is said that several papers, containing valuable information in reference to our army, signed by Major Williams and addressed to Gen. Stewart, were found upon the person of a prisoner brought in yesterday. Major Williams was taken to Gen. McClellan's headquarters this morning and his case investigated, but the result of the council has not yet transpired."

Affairs in Italy.

A letter from Paris, by the last arrival, says:

It is accepted to-day as secured fact that Gen. Goyon, who for the past several years has been not only the commander-in-chief of the Roman garrison, but the political partizan of the Antonelli, anti-Italian, papo-Royalty, is recalled. Victor Emanuel's triumphant reception at Naples, the rumored voyage of his imperial son-in-law, Prince Napoleon, to meet him there; the rumored voyage of V. Emanuel to Paris; the certainly proved movement of the lower orders of the Italian clergy in favor of Italian nationality, and against Antonelli's policy; nay, the very rumor—not quite unsubstantial—that the next Pope is to be Cardinal Angelis, a noted Anti-Italian Italian Cardinal, so pre-appointed by poor Pio Nono under advising pressure of Antonelli; the probable Napoleonic contrecoup of such attempt to fill the Papal chair with an Austrian Cardinal. These, and some other considerations, "causes and occasions," help to justify the prevalent persuasion of public opinion that the Roman Question is about to be subject to an advanced movement. Pardon your reporter for this tangled waste of words. It is "in the air" that the Italian Unity is advancing, and Papal Royalty retreating. But it will be long months, not to say years, before the French garrison of Rome practically fulfills the ever retreating prophecy of its final retreat from Rome.

General Schenck.

An extract from a private letter written from Franklin, Virginia, to a friend in Cincinnati, says:

General Fremont pronounces this one of the most brilliant and successful achievements of the war. With a mere handful of men, not over 1,800, all told, with bridges burned and boats destroyed, without adequate transportation, and no forage but what could be gathered on the way, he marched seventy miles to the relief of Milroy, who, with only 4,500 men, was about being defeated by Johnson and Jackson, with an army of 14,000. General Schenck arrived in time, and by making a furious attack upon the approaching column of the enemy, so startled and stunned them, that he was able to fall back in the night, and fetch off Milroy and men. Schenck only needs the accidental accuracy of a rebel bullet to make him a Major-General or immortal.

ORDER RESPECTING OFFICERS AND MEN OF DUTY.—A General Order from the Adjutant General's office contains the following paragraphs:

First: All officers absent on leave will proceed without delay to join their regiments, except those on parole and those recently exchanged. Officers who are too sick to travel will immediately report the length of time they have been absent, and forward to this office a medical description of their cases, by a medical officer of the army, or, where that cannot be obtained, by a competent physician.

Second: The names of officers and men taken prisoners by the enemy must not be dropped from the muster rolls, but will be placed at the foot of the list of names in their respective companies until they are exchanged or discharged.

THE FATE OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION, made for the State of Illinois by the bogus Convention of Democrats lately assembled at Springfield, is foreshadowed by the army vote just taken in Kentucky. A dispatch from Cairo to the Chicago Journal, dated the 20th inst., says:

The Commissioners to receive the votes of Illinois troops on the new Constitution returned from below to-day. They took the votes of the Illinois soldiers stationed at Columbus and Hickman. Nearly twelve hundred votes were polled, of which over nine hundred were against its adoption. It is significant that most of those voting against it are Democrats.

FOREIGN INTERVENTION.—A letter from Paris, to the New York Tribune, sums up a long argument in regard to foreign intervention, as follows:

"I guess that the United Powers do not purpose armed intervention. I guess that they do purpose to press offers of friendly mediation. And in case of blank refusal to entertain such offer, I guess that a Franco-Anglican recognition of the independence of the C. S. A. is remotely possible—let alone probable—let alone imminently probable!

The Excursion of Secretary Seward and Party.

Secretaries Seward and Welles, and Attorney-General Bates and party, who have returned from Fortress Monroe, saw not a little of the new Peninsular War. Beside visiting Norfolk and Yorktown they sailed up the Pamunkey River to Cumberland, where Gen. McClellan's headquarters then were, and inspected the rear division of his army. In the wake of Com. Goldsborough's fleet, consisting of the frigate Susquehanna, the gunboats Whitehall, Marias'wis, and Dacotah, and the tug Zouave, they went up James River in the Baltimore, until they espied the rebel flag still flying over Hardy's Point. The iron-clads and their consorts having passed that fort without stopping to silence it, but a few shots from the advance boats soon proved that the battery had been abandoned. It was a very strong work, mounting twelve heavy guns, which were left in position. The other works below Fort Darling, of which there were a number, all exceedingly strong, were deserted, and in most, if not all, the guns had been left for the Yankees. While the Baltimore was in James River, she was hailed by a boat, manned by thirteen loyal blacks, whom a Cabinet Minister, in disregard of his constitutional obligations, invited on board. They had come, they said, from Surry County, opposite Williamsburg, leaving their master's premises at night, and carrying the ark of their deliverance on their shoulders from a pond to the river, a distance of several miles. Their master had come home on the previous evening, swearing at the Yankees, and had threatened to send them into North Carolina. They knew that the river was safe because some Union boats had gone up. Recent visitors to Norfolk describe it as a city of the dead, almost all the stores being closed, grass growing in the streets, and few residents to be seen. Diligent inquiry discovered four Union men, two of whom were soldiers in the last war with Great Britain. Major Trott, of the Post-Office Department, was treated with rudeness by "reliable Union men," to whom he took letters from the Hon. Joseph Segar, and is still seeking a person willing to serve as Federal Postmaster. Those who call the Hon. J. S. Millson a Union man speak rather from past than present evidence. He has not expressed sentiments of loyalty to the Government to any visitors, although among them have been a number of old acquaintances in Congress, including Representatives from the Border States, who vainly tried to draw him into conversation on politics.

Northern vs. Southern Endurance.

In the medical statistics of the army from 1837 to 1854, transmitted to Hon. J. D. Bright, President of the Senate, by Jefferson Davis, Secretary of War, July 28, 1856, on pages 609 and 621, will be found a statement showing the power of endurance of a South Carolina and a New York regiment, respectively. South Carolina First regiment, 1,034 men, campaign of 1847, 12½ months' service, loss by disease, 509; New York Second, 1,063 men, 17½ months' service, loss by disease, 276. From this comparison of a Northern regiment with a Southern one, in a hot country campaign, it appears that the Southern regiment lost by disease very nearly twice as many as the New York regiment in about the same length of time, and the loss from all other causes was one-third less to the Northern than to the Southern regiment.

Triumph of Free Homes.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
May 16, 1862.

DEAR : I have just signed the enrolled copy of the Homestead Act, which will be a law so soon as the signatures of the President of the Senate, and that of the President of the United States, are attached. The long struggle for Land for the Landless is at last consummated.

Ten years ago the 12th of this month, the first Homestead bill passed the House, and it has been steadily pressed upon the attention of Congress ever since. Its friends are more indebted for success to the unwavering support given it by the Tribune than to aught else.

The bill passed is a complete Homestead Act. The following is a synopsis of its provisions:

All the lands owned by the Government are open to settlement under it in quantities not exceeding 160 acres to each person.

Any person who is a citizen of the United States, or has declared intention to become such, who is 21 years old, or the head of a family, or has served in the military or naval service of the country during this Rebellion, can make the entry on payment of ten dollars, and the fees of the Register and Receiver of the Land Office. That is all the settler has to pay at any time.

The act takes effect the 1st of January next, and requires a residence and cultivation of five years to perfect the title.

Any person can enter, under this act, land on which he has a pre-emption claim.

This Congress is redeeming in good faith all its pledges to the people. What you said of it a few days ago was eminently just. It may seem to the country to move slowly, but no Congress before it has, in the same time, accomplished so much for the future greatness and glory of the Republic.

The National Capital free forever.

Slavery forever prohibited in all Territories.

The Public Domain set apart and consecrated in Free Homes and Free Men.

The Pacific Railroad authorized.

The Policy of gradual emancipation inaugurated; beside war measures.

Yours truly,
G. A. GROW.

Health of New Orleans.

For the satisfaction of the thousands, who have loved ones in the Federal army in Louisiana and other Gulf States; it is well to state that old citizens of New Orleans, now in Washington, state positively that, notwithstanding the report that two or three cases of yellow fever have occurred in that city, there is no danger of the prevalence of that disease in May, and, indeed, not until the latter part of July or August. They say also that experience has shown that immigrants from the North are not so liable to be attacked by the climatic diseases during the first as during the second year of their residence in the South, and that as far as New Orleans is concerned the people from the rural districts of Louisiana and Mississippi are quite as liable as Northern men to the diseases incident to the immediate locality of New Orleans. They believe that with judicious sanitary regulations the Union soldiers will be even more healthy than the rebel troops in that climate.

THE GREAT EASTERN is again in trouble. Mr. Hamilton E. Towle, the young American civil engineer, who invented the temporary steering gear after the breaking of the rudder on the last voyage out, has libeled the great ship to have justice done him for his services. It seems the engineer of the vessel has persuaded the company owning her that the steering apparatus used was really his and not Mr. Towle's; hence, when the latter called upon them, not for compensation—though he really deserved a handsome gratuity, for he actually saved the Great Eastern and her precious freight of lives and property—but for a simple acknowledgment of his services as a matter of personal and professional pride, he was met by a curt denial that he had rendered any services worthy even a complimentary letter. To test the matter Mr. Towle has libeled the ship, and a jury is to determine, after a fair trial, whether he did or did not invent the steering apparatus used, and if he did what his services were worth. The shape this matter has taken seems to be anything but creditable to the great ship company.—N. Y. World.

THE CAPTURE OF RICHMOND.—It is known that the General commanding the army before Richmond expects to fight a great battle before occupying the place. Fugitive blacks from the rebel Capital, however, assert that all the indications are of a purpose to evacuate. There is panic in the city, and families living eight or ten miles out of town are packing up and moving South. The general opinion in Richmond is that the rear guard of Johnson's army will protect the retreat, delay our advance as long as possible, and do what mischief they may incidentally.

THE GALENA CONSIDERED A FAILURE.—The concurrent testimony of gentlemen who have just arrived in the city from the Peninsula is that the Galena is a failure. The fact that 18 out of the 28 shots from Fort Darling which struck her penetrated her armor, is evidence at least of the necessity of material alterations and improvements before she can be considered safe.

THE Nashville Union says Daniel S. Donelson, Brigadier General in the Confederate service, while ordering his troops to burn other people's cotton and rice, in the Southern States, recently sold his own in Sumner county, Tennessee, for Yankee gold and "green backs." What a self-sacrificing Southern patriot is Gen. Donelson.

TO PURCHASERS AND USERS OF SEWING MACHINES.—Many circulars having been issued purporting to emanate from the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Co., E. Howe, Jr., and others, containing gross misstatements and threats, we therefore feel called upon, in justice to the public and to ourselves, to make the following statement of facts:

During the four years that we have been manufacturing and selling sewing Machines, these parties have never obtained, in the many suits at law and equity they have instituted, a single decision against us, not even a preliminary injunction.

All our Machines bear the maker's name and date of patent, and are never sold by any other title.
