Our Chicago Excursion

The excursionists from Baltimore and our own cities left Chicago on Monday morning at seven o'clock having secured an invitation to visit Cincinnati, via the Chicago and Cincinnati Air Line Railroad. Bidding adieu to our great-hearted Chicago cousins at the depot, we sped along at a fine rate, over the broad prairie, and long level stretches of land, arriving at Kokomo, Indiana, at ten o'clock, where we were met by a party of gentlemen, who were to accompany us to Cincinnati. We arrived in Cincinnati at eight p. m., and by some strange fatality placed ourselves in the power of a party of gentlemen, who were to accompany us to Cincinnati. FROM YESTERDAY'S EVENING GAZETTE

Democratic County Convention

The Democratic County Convention, to nominate delegates to the State Convention, which meets in Harrisburg on the 4th of July next, assembled at the Court House at eleven o'clock this morning. The attendance of delegates was not large, and many districts failed to send representatives—either owing to the disagreeable state of the weather, or to a lack of interest in the business to be transacted. Perhaps both these causes conspired to render the attendance so small.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—The Washington correspondent of the Inquirer says: Major General Banks has arrived in the city. There is no truth whatever in any of the reports that he is to be superseded. Some important military changes will be made in the army of the Shenandoah, but these will not affect Gen. Banks.
