Pittsburgh Gazette.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 9.

Rank Treason.

The New York World says that the three hundred thousand men the President has called for will not be forthcoming unless STANTON is removed. This sort of dictation and ferocious assault directly upon the head of a department, and indirectly upon the President, is more traitorous than that for which many a man has been sent to Fort Warren. The Herald, World, and the whole class of papers which idolize M'CLELLAN, are fierce and open-mouthed upon Mr. STANTON, and fling abroad their slanderous attacks upon every General or Cabinet officer who will not bow down and worship their idol, while all criticism in other quarters is viewed as akin to sacrilege. This state of affairs may last, but we rather think it will not. If we are to have an idol and a dictator—a military dictator whose policy is above and beyond criticism—and all men are to be compelled to fall down and worship, it is high time that the furnace should be heated seven times hotter than it is wont to be heated, for there will be plenty of men who will not yield up their principles, their freedom or their common sense.

We ask the earnest attention of our readers to the consideration of the evidence of the renewed activity of a faction, which, at the beginning of the war was cowed into silence and concealment by the glorious enthusiasm of the loyal people of the North, but now venturing forth again, with the audacity of men long used to success, dare to attempt to convert the late military disasters into their long-watched-for opportunity to consummate their most foul and diabolical purposes—to overthrow the Government and reconstruct the Union on the cornerstone of slavery, with a pre-slavery Democracy in the ascendency everywhere, North and South. We think such evidence that this dangerous and formidable conspiracy is now working with renewed activity, through their organs at the press, is presented in an article from the New York Tribune, to, which we give up a considerable portion of our space to-day—and that it should call for the careful and earnest consideration of every lover of his country. Watch well the traitors, whether those who write their treason, or those who, unable to write, only show their sympathy with the sentiments which the Herald and other treasonable sheets promulgate.

NEVER TOO LATE TO MEND.—The following sentences, which we find in the editorial column of the Baltimore American, are of hopeful augury. We trust the editor knows whereof he affirms, for it would be a pity to find out that he was mistaken. Certainly he only promises what ought to be realized, and what, but for the pro-slavery Border-State faction, which has embarrassed everything, would not now remain among the things yet to be done. The comfortable sentences are these:

Meanwhile there are evidences on hand at Washington to show that matters will be managed hereafter with a vigor unheard of in the past, much as has been accomplished. Thoroughly aroused, at length, by the danger of a failure so imminently threatened, there is a quiet earnestness apparent in the various movements of the Government which shows that every resource will be made use of to answer the hopes and the expectations of the nation, if it be possible.

GENERAL HALLECK AT WASHINGTON.—The Baltimore American, of Monday, says:

Gen. Halleck is on a visit to Washington. It is also rumored that Gen. Scott is there.

The Conspiracy to Overthrow the Government.

We have already called attention to the fact that a determined purpose to revolutionize the Federal Government in the interest of Slavery and Secession has been evinced from the hour of Mr. Lincoln's inauguration. The principal organ of this plot has been the New York Herald, though Mayor Wood's proposal that New York City should secede from the State, was one of many independent manifestations of the same spirit. In its earlier development, this conspiracy looked to a "reconstruction" through the secession of State after State from the old Union and their formal adhesion to Jeff. Davis's Confederacy, until Mr. Lincoln should be left President of the New England States alone, as the slaveholding traitors did these the honor to refuse them admission into their private league. Here are some of the reiterated demonstrations of the Herald in favor of deposing President Lincoln, destroying the old Union, and passing under the dominion of Jeff. Davis:

From the N. Y. Herald, March 19, 1861.

"Mr. Lincoln and his advisers have at length an opportunity of throwing off the selfishness, fanaticism, and suicidal imbecility which have so far characterized the course of the present Administration, and of taking measures which cannot fail to secure a reconstruction of the Union within a limited period. The adoption by the Montgomery Congress of a Constitution is equivalent to a manifesto to the rest of the country of the precise wants of the people of the seceding States. It may be regarded as the ultimatum of the South to the North, and as the only basis upon which the former will consent to negotiate with those WHOSE VOKE THEY HAVE RECENTLY RENOUNCED."

From The N. Y. Herald, March 20, 1861.

"There is no point of difference between the Constitution of 1789 and that framed by the Congress at Montgomery in which the provisions of the latter are not in every instance more full and explicit than those of the former."

"It is especially necessary that the conservative masses of this metropolis SHOULD TAKE THE LEAD in informing this Constitution which the Confederate States of the South have adopted, and of signifying their willingness to acquiesce in the same."

"The Southern Confederacy has a MIGHTY DESTINY before it, and the only way the Northern States can share it and be saved from ruin is by adopting the new Constitution."

This open advocacy of the Shareholders' Rebellion and denunciation of the Union Government which it was intended to destroy, was continued until after the bombardment and capture of Fort Sumter, when the Herald was compelled to turn a short corner and pretend to abandon the support of the Confederacy and take up that of the Union. Here is the flop-over which it performed between two days:

From the N. Y. Herald of Monday, April 15.	From the N. Y. Herald of Tuesday, April 16.

march upon that city.

—The Bull Run disaster soon followed, and was improved to the utmost by The Herald with intent to heap odium upon all the original and earnest upholders of the Union without condition or compromise, in order to pave the way for a new attempt at revolution. Gen. McClellan was called to Washington and placed at the head of the Army, and soon the restless conspirators began to use his name as the watchword of their treason. Here are two specimens of many articles through which The Herald threatened the overthrow of our Republican Government, and the establishment of a Military Dictatorship instead:

From The N. Y. Herald, Dec. 11, 1861.

"If the factious Abolition leaders do not speedily draw in their horns they may find in McClellan such a Bastar as the Long Parliament found in Cromwell, and the Council of Five Hundred found in Napoleon Bonaparte. Nor will the fear of foreign interference have much weight with a brave and prudent General at the head of an army of 500,000 men, whose numbers can be rapidly swelled to a million."

From The N. Y. Herald, Dec. 23, 1861.

"The Government at Washington would strengthen itself more, develop the Union sentiment at the South more, and inflict a more terrible blow upon the Southern rebellion, by crushing out the Northern Abolition rebellion, than if McClellan won a great battle in front of Washington, and marched on to Richmond, and every city on the Southern seaboard fell into the hands of the Federal army. * * * When civil war broke out in England, in the reign of Charles I., and the Royalists and Republicans contended for the mastery, there was but one man who thoroughly understood the situation and was bold and able enough to act upon his profound knowledge—and that man was Oliver Cromwell. * * * The levelers whom Cromwell found it necessary to squelch were but types of the radical Republicans of the present day."

—Let no one fear that we are about to be drawn into a discussion of the abilities or services of Gen. McClellan. When we understood that the question of intrusting to him the conduct of the advance against Richmond was an open one, we discussed it with entire freedom; when the President decided it against us, we considered that decision the end of controversy. Fully realising that, in times of public peril, the Nation and the Army must have one head, and one only, we have quietly seen Generals placed and displaced in opposition to our convictions of what was best. In this course, we are determined to persevere. It is the use by semi-secessionists of Gen. McClellan's name and position in furtherance of their traitorous schemes that we are reprobating. Thus we find that in the great "Anti-Abolition Meeting" got up by Fernando Wood, James Brooks & Co., and held at Cooper Institute last Tuesday evening, wherein every proposal to cheer the President of the United States was treated with derision, after passing resolutions in favor of McClellan was lauded to the skies, Anti-Slavery men furiously denounced, and the atrocious slaveholders' rebellion pronounced "irregular opposition" to the Federal Government's authority, Mr. Fernando Wood made the great speech of the occasion, wherein he denounced the present Congress as an Abolition concern that must somehow be got rid of. He concluded thus:

"It is to be done as Oliver Cromwell sent home the Rump Parliament, by walking into Parliament and turning it to the winds. [Great Applause.] Let your voice be heard in the capital of the country, and if your armies are not successful at once, I for one raise the standard—a change of measures or a change of men. [Loud and long continued applause.]

—In strict accordance with this programme, an anonymous handbill was placarded over our city on the 4th, calling a meeting in the Park for that evening in the following incendiary language:

TO THE PEOPLE!

DOWN WITH THE ABOLITIONISTS!

Union men of New York, our arms have again met with a reverse in Virginia, and at the door of the

"ONWARD TO RICHMOND" FANATICS

The responsibility belongs to The

GREELEYS, CHEEVERS

AND OTHER ABOLITIONISTS

Have brought this and other misfortunes upon our country, and have done all in their power to CRIPPLE and DEFEAT our brave Generals and soldiers, who are fighting for

THE UNION,

and not for the negro. Citizens of New York, who endorse these sentiments of

"DOWN WITH ABOLITION FANATICS,"

Meet in the City Hall Park, at 5 o'clock p. m., July 4.

By order of MANY UNION MEN.

Following up this call, of which the authorship is doubtless well known to it, the Herald of yesterday fairly boiled over with articles calculated to fan the flames of civil discord and inaugurate a fresh rebellion in the North in aid of that already devastating the South. Here is an extract from what blindly purports to be a letter from a correspondent with Gen. McClellan's army:

"The troops unanimously censure the Radical members of Congress for not sending sufficient force to meet the rebelish time, and many of them declare that if McClellan was removed from the command of the army they would give up all hope of rescuing the Union. All former sectional or party feelings are forgotten by the members of the army, and they are very bitter in their denunciations of Greeley, the Tribune and Congress. It is well for some of these men that our chivalrous army is on the banks of the Potomac river instead of being in New York or Washington."

—What under Heaven the "Radical Members of Congress" had to do with sending or not sending "sufficient force" to Gen. McClellan, no one can imagine. The Tribune has been for weeks urging that such reinforcements be sent him, but we never dreamed of calling on Congress to do anything of the sort. The President is Commander-in-Chief of the army; Mr. Stanton is his head clerk in the War line; but Congress has no power to move a regiment nor a gun, even for the defense of the Capital. It is possible that some of the soldiers, whose choice of newspaper is restricted by their officers, may know no better than to believe that Congress or the Tribune has somehow prevented the sending of reinforcements to the Peninsula; but the Herald knows abundantly better, and prints the above with deliberate intent to deceive and betray.

The Herald, yesterday, has half a dozen editorials, ostensibly aimed at Secretary Stanton, the Abolitionists, &c., but all of them are really intended to foment a Northern rebellion in aid of the Southern. Witness these specimens:

"SECRETARY STANTON AMONG THE PEOPLE.—The people are furious against Secretary Stanton. They denounce him unanimously and hoot his name. Throughout this city on the Fourth of July there was but a single sentiment, which was heard repeated at every turn by every class and condition of men. It was, that if the President trusted McClellan he had no right to harbor Secretary Stanton. "Either McClellan or Stanton must go," said the people, "and McClellan must not be sacrificed."

"THE POPULAR EXCITEMENT.—The excitement among the people is unabated. It has not yet taken the form of enthusiasm in exhilarants, but it is still vindictive against Secretary Stanton and the Abolition traitors of whom he is the tool."

"WILL THE CABINET BE CHANGED?—Yes, if the country demands it in the tones of thunder which the recent disasters of the Abolitionists and our recent reverses in Virginia warrant."

"THE CABINET.—Men of all parties are anxiously inquiring whether there is not a prospect of some change in the present Cabinet. We do not know whether the President has as yet made up his mind as to the necessity of those changes, though unquestionably the public have. The members of the Cabinet who ought to be changed are the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, and the Secretary of the Treasury. No one wants a sec ond Secretary Seward disturbed. By his statesmanlike views, his firmness and equanimity of temper, he has successfully maintained the honor of the country abroad, and given us a position before Europe with which, notwithstanding the difficulties in which we are placed, we have every reason to be satisfied. Had all Mr. Lincoln's advisers done their duty as well by the country, the rebellion would have long since been suppressed."

"THE STORM COMING.—The excitement is now but the mere muttering of the storm. Wait until the long lists of killed and wounded in the recent battles before Richmond are published, and the storm will be at its hight. Already the people of Philadelphia hoot Stanton's name in the streets, and declare that so were men still called while he remains in office. New York city has suffered quite as much as Philadelphia and shares these sentiments. Two New York regiments suffered at Bull Run, and the excitement here was fearful. What will it be when the lists of killed and wounded come in now?"

—The gist of all this is contained in the passages we have placed in Italics. The pretense of assailing Stanton, glorifying McClellan, and demanding an overhauling of the Cabinet, has but one object—to get up a revolutionary movement here, stop enlistments for the Army, and so distract and disorganize the loyal States as to secure an easy triumph to the slaveholding traitors. Whoever lends himself to these intrigues, no matter on what pretext, will have done his utmost to dig the grave of popular Government and secure a victory to red-handed Treason. Beware!—N. Y. Tribune.

Important from Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 7, 1862.

The Herald's statements of yesterday to the effect that McClellan's plans have been interfered with by the government, are pronounced this morning, on the highest authority, to be entirely false.

The Washington Republican of this morning argues that there is no reason to believe that the rebel troops at Richmond greatly outnumber the national forces, but declares that they threw nearly all their force upon our right wing.

The Republican further says that it knows that the government could not safely spare another man to McClellan while Jackson remained with a heavy force at Gordonsville. Count Gurowski, in a communication to the Republican, urges upon the government the importance of a rapid concentration of troops. —Special dispatch to N. Y. Eve. Post.

[Our readers will find one of the articles referred to above in another column. Count Gurowski's is so sound in his views of military affairs that we will also endeavor to lay it before our readers.]

It is estimated that the new tariff bill, which has passed the House, and is expected to pass the Senate to-day or to-morrow, will produce, when all the ports in the United States are opened, not far from $100,000,000. The receipts from the present tariff for the past six months are, we understand, between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000.
