rrected daily : IN SUN. IN SHADE.

29 7-20 The Oil Trade. From the Oil City Register we take the following review of the oil trade for the past lowing review of the oil trade for the past two weeks.

There is not much change to note in the oil market at this point for the past two weeks. A considerable degree of activity has prevailed, and the exports have been moderately heavy. The shipments rule in favor of the Rastern markets. But a limited supply has been shipped to Pittsburgh. Holders are firm at 50 to 62% at the well. It is about as well that consumers should be advised of the fact that our present oil producing wells are rapidity decreasing. After charful examination we feel justified in stating that since December last the wells on Oil Creek have decreased fully thirty per cent. This, in fact, is below the average. The Burding well, on the Tarr Farm, which was producing at the rate of 300 harrels per day, suddenly stopped on Sunday last. Whether this stoppage will be permanent or not, we are unable to say. It will be remembered that at the time this well took fire last fall, the drilling rope and tools were left in the well. These may have chatructed the pipe, and caused the flow to cease. We also hear of other wells decreasing in the amount of their daily flow.

Some forty or fifty wells are now in process of boring, on the different farms. A well was struck on Friday last, on the Plumer tract of Clapp Farm, and is supposed to flow about 50 bbls, per day. Prices of teaming from 12 to 20 cents, according to distance. Freights to Fittsburgh 40 cents, and very little lading at that. Freights to Irvine 60 cents. To Corry Station 90 cents; to Erie 51 05. Price of barrels from $1.20 to $1.25. We give the following shipments:

From the Tarr Farm for three weeks, reis from $1 20 to $1 25. We give the following shipments:
