SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 26.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[FROM OUR EVENING EDITION.]

INTERESTING FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER ETNA.

Comments of the English Press on the Battles Before Richmond.

MARKETS, TRADE, &c.

CAPE RACE, July 24.—The steamer Etna, with later news from Europe, has passed this point.

The Liverpool dates by the Etna are to the 15th inst., three days later than were furnished by the steamer Asia.

The Etna has also telegraphic advices, via Queenstown, to Thursday, the 17th.

The fighting before Richmond was eagerly canvassed. Some of the journals regard it as a great reverse for the North, and reproach the United States Government for treating it in any other light. Others contend that Gen. McClellan has sustained no serious disaster, and is, indeed, practically nearer to Richmond, and may congratulate himself on the greatest and most successful operation of the war. Hopes are freely expressed, that more pacific counsels will soon prevail at Washington.

The London Times is particularly bitter and sarcastic in its comments. It treats the matter as a decided rebel victory. It thinks there are good evidences in the North that the beginning of the end is not far off.

In another article the Times denounces the insolence of Gen. Butler, in his intercourse with the foreign Consuls, and says that this is not the way to conciliate neutrals and superiors, and he should consider whether he is not doing more harm than good to the Federal cause.

The Morning Post says that affairs are approaching the crisis which will necessitate some decided course on the part of the federals. Neutrals cannot much longer remain passive spectators. The great question is, when shall the South be considered to have vindicated its rights to recognition? It points to the past policy of England in recognizing a successful opposition, and says, if the North will take the initiative, and sail with the current, which it cannot stem, the neutral States might be saved the disagreeable necessity of discharging a most disagreeable duty.

The Daily News points out what would be the feeling of England if it was situated like the North, and argues that secession will be crushed out at all hazards.

The proceedings of Parliament was unimportant.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Forster gave notice that, when Mr. Lindsey's motion for the recognition of the South came up, he would move an amendment, pledging the House to sustain the government in the policy of non-intervention.

There was increasing distress in the manufacturing districts of England, and it had received the attention of Parliament.

It was believed that the Prince of Wales would visit Russia.

Lord Palmerston, in a speech before the volunteers, spoke impressively and some say significantly of the importance of maintaining the efficiency of their movements.

Liverpool Cotton Market.—The sales on Monday and Tuesday amounted to 16,000 bales, of which 11,000 were taken by speculators and exporters. The market is buoyant and prices are ⅛@⅛d higher, owing to the American advices received by the steamers Jura and Ohio.

State of Trade.—The advices from Manchester are favorable. The market for common goods and yarns is firmer, with an advancing tendency in prices.

Liverpool Breadstuffs Market.—The market for Breadstuffs is dull, with a downward tendency. Messrs. Wakefield, Nash & Co., report flour dull and easier. Wheat steady. Corn with a downward tendency, but the market remained quiet and at the last quotations; mixed and yellow 27s 6d@27s 9d.

London Money Market.—Consols for money closed on Wednesday at 92¾@92⅝.

The Liverpool provision market was flat. The various Circulars report beef dull. Pork nominal.

Liverpool Produce Market.—Sugar is quiet, but steady. Coffee inactive. Rice dull. Linseed still advancing. Linseed Oil firmer at 42s. Rosin firm; common 22s 6d. Spirits of Turpentine quiet at 31s 6d.

American Stocks.—The latest sales on Wednesday were as follows: Erie Railroad, 28@29; Illinois Central shares, 49¼@48¾ per cent. discount.

LATEST VIA QUEENSTOWN.—London, Wednesday morning.—The Times appreciates the new American tariff, and predicts that it will result in far greater injury to America herself than to any one else.

London Money Market.—Consols closed at 93@93¼ for money and account. American stocks are generally unchanged.

Liverpool, Thursday afternoon, July 17.—Cotton—The sales of yesterday and to-day reached 20,000 bales, inclusive of 14,000 bales to speculators and exporters. The market is quiet at unchanged quotations.

Breadstuffs are quiet with a downward tendency.

The weather has been favorable for the crops. Provisions are flat.

London, Thursday afternoon.—Consols close at 92¾ for money. American securities are quiet but steady.

Mortality of Wounded Prisoners.

The wounds of many of the Union prisoners brought to the city are of a very desperate character, and although they are favored with the skill of their own surgeons, and all the superior appliances which they have at their command, the mortality has been very great. On yesterday twenty deaths occurred among the number provided for at the York River Railroad depot. Many of them complain of their surgeons, but we suppose the best is done for them which their circumstances will allow.

The number of prisoners who had arrived in the city at the time of the publication of the official report in the Examiner, a few days subsequent to the last of the recent series of battles below Richmond, was about 4,000. We stated at the time that several thousand more were on the road and in the hospitals below the city. Nearly all of these have now been brought in, and sum up about 6,000 more, making an aggregate of about 8,000. Three thousand of these are still in Libby prison, and the remainder have been removed to the camp at Belle Island. When the returns shall have been complete, it will be found that our estimate some time ago was very nearly the figure, or upwards of 9,000.

The flag of truce boat, to convey the surgeons and chaplains of the national army, who had been released on parole, will leave this morning at five o'clock. The mail which goes along with them is very large, comprising letters from nearly every prisoner now in and near Richmond, who knows how to write, and also from citizens having friends or relatives in the North. The citizen's package shows that the number of husbands separated from wives by the "blockade," is by no means small.—Richmond Enquirer, July 19.

Major Gen. McCall.

This officer is exhibiting some traits of character, now that he is here in captivity, which might be considered unbecoming even if his rank were lower. After being deprived from the Spotswood Hotel to the Mansion Eighteenth street, he sent back for some articles of clothing which he said he had left behind, but they could be nowhere found. The General subsequently requested the steward of the prison to purchase him some clothing, and wrote his order as follows: "For Gen. McCall—One woolen shirt, collar 15 inches; one pair drawers, two cambric handkerchiefs, one pair socks." The purchases were duly made, and the steward, presuming that a Union Major General would not wear inferior garments, procured the best that could be found, paying prices that have been established through the interference of the Yankee Government in our seaport trade, and which we all are glad to with as good grace as possible. Not so, however, with Gen. McCall. When the articles were carried to him, he rebelled against the transaction altogether, refusing to receive the goods he had ordered and to pay the bill. The consequence was that the steward was compelled to return them to the merchant or keep them himself, either alternative being disagreeable enough. It is impossible to conjecture what expedient the General will next resort to for the replenishment of his wardrobe.—Richmond Dispatch, July 19.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Moravian of the tenth instant contains a timely editorial on Summer Religion, in which it is shown that this species of religion really exists in numerous churches. Among the prominent features of this Summer Religion, it dreads hot weather; it cannot bear the rays of the sun; it is apt to faint; it wants to stay at home and take its ease; it has innate propensity to rest and sleep, to avoid all exertion, and to remain as cool as possible; it shuns the weekly prayer-meeting, and the Sunday evening service; it often has not sufficient strength to attend even the worship of God in the morning of the Lord's holy Day; it is a weak, sickly, lifeless Religion. The following extract shows up the inconsistencies of professing christians when seeking pleasure abroad:

But these are not the only features of Summer Religion. It is far less strict in its principles, and very positive in its Christian duties, than ordinary Religion. Its estimate of consistency, and standard of holiness, are new and different from what they were before. Away from home, in a summer-resort, this Religion allows itself things from which it would shrink under usual circumstances. The Lord whom Christians serve, is not invited to go along to the place of recreation, among the mountains or on the sea-shore; or if He does receive such an invitation, it is by no means cordially given. Church-members prefer to travel incognito.

——The Danville Democrat gives an interesting account of the ceremony of receiving ninety probationers, who had served a probation of at least six months, into full membership, in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Danville, Pa. These persons were interrogated as to their faith and purposes before the whole Church. Those are the fruits of a gracious revival with which that Church was favored last fall and winter, at which time one hundred joined the Church on trial. Three joined another branch of the Christian Church, four removed with certificates, one died in peace, and ninety were received in full membership—showing an aggregate of ninety-eight out of the hundred who have thus far proven faithful to their vows.

——The Lutheran Observer in an editorial article on "Quiet Revivals and no Excitement," condemns the views of those who cry out against religious excitement and advocate quiet revivals. Such persons from their opposition to excitement apparently would rather see sinners remain in their sins than hear a groan or an amen, or tolerate what others think proper to stigmatize as "disorder." Allusion is then made to the responses according to the printed book, and the select, measured phrases of learned and elegant or synodical dictators, as being preferred by some, over the spontaneous effusions of a heart burdened with a sense of guilt under the powerful workings of the Holy Spirit. The advocates of quiet revivals regard the intense excitement sometimes seen in the work of revival, as being the effervescence of a heated imagination, or the wildfire of blind animal excitement. We quote:

There never was and never will be a revival without strong feeling, and as such feeling always seeks alleviation by expression, why should its laws be violated and its rights be limited only in religious exercises, while, on all other occasions, it is allowed free scope and ample latitude? The only valid reason we can assign is, that there is now, as there ever has been, a mortal contest between formality and experimental piety, and in this death-struggle the advocates of each take part according to their respective character.

——A letter from a Jew's father to his son after his conversion from Judaism to Christianity—

Thou wicked one; may thy name be blotted out, thou hast united thyself with the assembly of the wicked. Thy father and thy grandfather, with all thy relations will go together to the grave of thy sainted mother, and announce to her the sad tidings. Cursed be the day wherein thou wicked one, seed of the serpent, was born. Woe is me, for the Lord has afflicted me. Thy name shall henceforth be blotted out, and no more named by us; and may the hottest judgment of the Almighty fall upon thee, because thou hast forsaken the God of Israel and joined thyself to idols.

——The number of important (Presbyterian) churches in the State of Ohio is quite remarkable. Among them are the Central Church, Cincinnati; First Church, Columbus; First Church, Steubenville; Second Church in Zanesville; the church in Newark, and the church in Senecaville.

——An eminent banker from the West End (Boston) once visited Father Taylor's (Bethel) Church during a warm revival, and, interrupted a prayer meeting by an address setting forth the beneficence of the merchant princes, the goodness of the Port Society, and the duty of all seamen to show their gratitude to the merchants. He was somewhat taken aback when Father Taylor rose at the close of this untimely address, and simply inquired: "Is there any other old sinner from up town that would like to say a word?"

——The Catholic Telegraph announces the death of Rt. Rev. Bishop Byrne of Little Rock, Arkansas.

——The managers of the American Tract Society have caused crackers to be baked, on each of which is stamped a text of Scriptures.

——The Archbishop of Orleans, France, in a pastoral letter to the clergy of his diocese, in which he alludes to the civil war in the United States, says:

"What I do know is, that there are still four millions of slaves in the United States, two millions in the rest of America, together six millions of slaves in Christian countries, eighteen hundred years after the Crucifixion. What I do know is, that the horrors of civil war have been let loose by this fearful question, and that the peace of the world is threatened, and is already disturbed."

——The Rev. C. D. Elliott, who was arrested sometime since by Gov. Andy. Johnston for disloyalty, issued a circular to the patrons of the Nashville Female Academy over which he presides, in which he says in the teachers we employ—in the school books we use—in the principles we teach—in the prayers we utter—in the tears we shed in the hour of defeat—in the songs we sing in the time of victory—in the use of these means and all others at our command—we hope to inspire all our pupils not only with a proper sympathy for their own country, but also with a strong antipathy for the North. We hope thus to render them fit to become the companions of the brave boys who now stand in battle arrayed against Fanaticism and Infidelity, all along our Northern border.

River News.

The river was rising steadily yesterday, and last evening the pier marks indicated six feet six inches. The weather continues cloudy and warm, with indications of more rain.....The levees presented an unusually lively appearance yesterday, and business was tolerably brisk. There is a perceptible improvement in shipments, and receipts will doubtless soon improve.....The Golden Era, from Cincinnati, arrived, as did also the Science, from Wheeling. The former boat re-shipped over 500 bbls. of whisky by rail from Belle Air, in consequence of low water. The Jacob Poe, from Cincinnati, Keston, from Louisville, and Com. Perry, from St. Louis, are due here to-day..... The Exchange, for St. Louis, did not get off until last evening. She had a good freight list and quite a number of passengers.....The Brilliant, Capt. Lacey, and St. Clair, Capt. Cochran, are announced to leave for St. Louis forthwith.

NORTHERN MISSOURI.

The Hannibal and St. Joseph R. R. Co. have for sale OVER 500,000 ACRES of the best PRAIRIE AND TIMBER FARMING LAND IN THE WEST, at low prices, on ten years' credit, at five per cent. interest. Twenty per cent. is deducted for full payment in cash, or in the Land Bonds of the Company, taken at par, if payment is made within two years from date of purchase, with interest. At present, the market prices of these bonds is from 50 to 60 per cent. below par, which affords an extraordinary opportunity to buy any of the Company's lands described, very much below real value.

A FREE TRIP TICKET is given to Land Buyers, and they are charged only half freight on all building materials wanted from Hannibal for first improvements on land bought of the Railroad Company.

Inducements to emigrate to Northern Missouri, briefly stated, are as follows:

A mild, healthy climate; rich soil; cheap lands, the productions of which pay for them; expenses and improvements too, much within the limit of credit given; a larger variety of staple productions, embracing all cereals, hemp, tobacco, Chinese sugar cane in perfection, Irish and sweet potatoes, choicer fruit, including grapes for wine, and peaches, than any other region farther south or north; pure water, timber, wood, coal, lime, fine building rock, clay for brick, and sand for mortar, are abundant and conveniently distributed; its prairies are ready for the plow; a spring emigrant can plant "sod corn" in the latter part of June, and gather a valuable crop in the succeeding autumn; for fattening great quantities of beeves and hogs; it is only necessary to buy land enough for buildings, yards, orchards, vineyards and crops to be enclosed, as prairies supply any quantity of excellent hay free of other cost than cutting and stacking, which is done with improved mowers and rakes as less than one dollar per ton, and as fencing is confined to three months and less, but little hay, comparatively, is needed; best of open pasturage, costing nothing, neither interest nor taxes, enabling the stock raiser to keep horses, cattle, sheep and mules by the score, herds of cattle and swine by the hundreds, and flocks of sheep by the thousands, all the markets are accessible by railgraph, fall and winter, and the local cash demand for wool, corn, tobacco, horses, mules, fat hogs, cattle and sheep, to export, is large for the supply. All these advantages are within the reach of every family of any ability, for less than $25 fare. Shall such immense resources remain unimproved?

Missouri is loyal! "Secession is played out!" It is now perfectly safe to emigrate to Northern Missouri, and the hopes are going. It will soon be a free State Opposed to Secession, and the higher controlling interests of the state demand it. Loyal stavebolders unite with Union-loving citizens in boldly advocating emancipation, as advised by the President and approved by Congress.

COLONIZATION.

Emigrants settling in colonies, will contribute greatly to each other's advantage. Large and choice bodies of land offered, furnish them every facility. To colonies successfully, co-operation is necessary, easy and practical by a little concerted action.

Now is the time for multitudes, with prudent forethought and action, to secure, with little money, rich farms and happy homes, which must rapidly increase in value, for themselves and their posterity.

CAPITALISTS AND OTHERS.

Can now, with little money, and perfect security to themselves, assist their more destitute but independent but capable friends to acquire, in a little time, valuable farms, and pleasant households. The land will abundantly secure the requisite advance, and its prolific productions will soon enable the emigrant to cancel the loan and interest.

Pamphlets containing skeleton maps, showing geographical position, railroad connections, and giving full information, are sent gratis. Let all wishing to enlist their friends to emigrate with them, apply for all they want to circulate. Co-operation in this way will be of mutual advantage to all.

DOLLAR SAVINGS BANK, No. 65 FOURTH STREET,
CHARTERED IN 1855.

Open daily from 9 to 3 o'clock, also on Wednesday and Saturday evenings, from May 1st to November 1st, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and from November 1st to May 1st from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Deposits received of all sums not less than One Dollar, and a dividend of the profits declared twice a year, in June and December. Interest has been declared semi-annually, in June and December, since the Bank was organized, at the rate of six per cent. a year.

Interest, if not drawn out, is placed to the credit of the depositor as principal, and bears the same interest from the first days of June and December, compounding twice a year without troubling the depositor to call, or even to present his pass book. At this rate, money will double in less than twelve years, making in the aggregate EIGHT AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. A YEAR.

Books containing the Charter, By-Laws, Rules and Regulations, furnished gratis on application at the office.
