A Regiment of Blacks. [Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.] WABBINGTON, Aug. 1, 1862.

THE CONDITION OF APPATES IN SOUTHERN OBIO AND RENTUCEY. Gov. Dennison, Representatives Gurley, Lars, Anderson and Gen. Bates, arrived her to day, as a Committee from Gov. Tod to represent to the President the condition Southern Ohio and Kentucky, and to secure what relief may be possible.

They represent as their own belief, as well as the belief of such Union men of Kentucky as Speaker Buckner, that Kentucky is in immi e arms in nent danger-is, in fact, just trembling in the balance between the Union and the Southern Confederacy. The secession party i strengthened by the accession of a large element represented by such men as Gov. Wickliffe. Guerrilla uprisings are taken as indicating a desire to feel the public sentiment of the State, and inflame the young men with the idea of becoming renowned chieftains like Morgan. Fears are expressed of an attempt by the secessionists and guerrillas to seize the polls and control the State election in many portions of the State, on next Monday. The election is not one of special importance. but it is feared that they will seize it as a good opportunity for rising and over-awing the Union voters, committing excesses, and securing the machinery of the county government as aid to their schemes in future.

ment as aid to their schemes in future. Whicher this takes place or not, it is re-garded as certain that the secessionists are more powerful and dangerous than ever in Kentucky now, and it is bolieved that at any rate they will, if not overawed, interfere with the extra session of the Legislature just called by Mageffin. This is understood to have been at the instance of the Union men. This, Mageffin is said to have been forced into. It is understood that the idea is a way to get rid of Mageffin.
