To DESTROY HOUSE FLIES -- It is perhaps To DESIGOT HOUSE FLIES.—It is pornays not generally known that Black pepper (not red) is a poison for many insects. The following simple mixture is said to be the best desiroyer of the common house fly extant: Take equal proportions of fine black pepper, fresh ground, and sugar, say enough of each the cover of the c fresh ground, and augar, say enough of each to cover a ten cont piece; moisten and mix well with a spoonful of milk (a little cream is better) keep that in your room and it will down the flies. One advantage over other poisons is, that it injures nothing else; and never.

ACCIDENT OF THE BAILBOAD.-Last week, Actual Mr. James Kerr, a rosident of Latrobe, who has been in the amploy of the Pennsylvania Railroad for some time, was very seriously injured while engaged in unloading railroad fron off a track, near Huntingdon. By some mishap, a rail struck him under the left knee, tearing and larcerating his leg down to the foot in a horrible manner, and also injuring his feet.

PITTRIBUEGH REBEL AT WHERLING.—The Wheeling Press says: "One George Scott, hailing from Pitteburgh, and said to have been formerly a resident of Wheeling, was arrested on Friday evening, by order of Major Dirr, Provost Marshal, for hurrahing for Jeff. Davis. The gentleman was quite drank, and when last we heard from him he was patiently awaiting to take the oath to obtain a release.

Mitchel telegraphed to the War Department the substance of Negley's dispatches and reports, while Negley remained silent. Such a silence was injustice to himself—to the men he brought with him from the Keystone State, and to the friends he left there who take a pride in him as a man and officer. Gen. Mitchel got the credit; because he claimed it, and I do not know but what he deserved it for the very reason that he claimed it. You will not dony that these who read his dispatches thought so. Negley is too delicate in such matters—too delicate by half. I learn with regret that he has suffered in reputation by his silence,

Capt. Steels, of the Sturgis rifles, McClellar's body guard, arrived here to-day from the Peninsula. He makes a statement, that notwithstanding the recent orders, rebel property is still guarded in that army, and gives this startling example: Col. Carter, a robel officer, whose plantation is just inside our lines, was wounded in the recent battles. On his plantation are one hundred slaves, and a large quantity of valuable property that could have a statement of the recent battles.
