Holden & Pierce's Improved Screw Wrench. We wish to direct the attention of machinists, engineers, and ot hers, to an improved screw wrench, the invention of Messrs. Hollen & Pierco, of Indiana county, patented February 26th, 1862. This wrench has so many advantages over the ordinary wrenches that it bids fair to supercode them all. It is claimed for it—that it will work where any other kind of wrentch can be used, and is available in many circumstances where other wrenches are useless. It can be used on rods as well assume, and would be valuable to gas fitters. It is self-adjusting, and by this means one wromeh will do the work of many, adapting itself to all sizes of nuts and burrs. It is strong and durable; vary simple in constructions. strong and durable; very simple in construc-tion, and can be sold at a reasonable price Our pressman pronounces it the best wrench he has ever seen. DIAGRAM OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

AND AMERICAN UNION.—This exceedingly ingenious and beautiful device is the invention of N. Mendel Shafor, Esq., of the Cincinnati bar. The idea it works out to a very successful and pleasing result, is, that of presenting the political and judicial relations of the Federal Union—in a word, of the whole system of government of the United States, as a body, politic, by not only delineating the several, States, or members composing the body, but also by connecting all together by a system of lines of the significant and symbolic colors, red and blue, relieving the more numerous black lines which show at a glance the whole representative system, both as respects the representative system, both as respects the separate States and the Congress of the United States. On the whole we regard it as PITTEBURGE HEAVY ARTILLERY Co. Alignet I, 1882.

HEADQUARTERS,

The greatest desire is everywhere manifested to learn whether volunteers under the secand quota of the call for 300,000 men, will be accepted in lieu of a draft, and placed to the credit of the proper county. With the view of having this question definitely settled, Mr. Howe, Chairman of the County Committee, has been in telegraphic communication with the Secretary of War, and the Governor of the State, but while answers have been received from Mr. Stanton and Adjutant General Russell, they are not definite and conclusive, and are consequently withheld from publication for the present, to avoid further complication. We may state, however, where the difficulty lies. The War Department calls for troops from the several States, without regard to districts or counties, leaving that matter to the State authorities, while or the other hand to Governor seems unable to give positive assurances touching the matter to the State authorities, while or the other hand the Governor seems unable to give positive assurances touching the matter in controversy until full regulations are received from the War Department relative to the draft.

It is now certain that Allegheny County can fill her second quota easily, and will do so, if the many are received in lieu of the draft.

The many are received from the War Department. The thought of special mention. The typic praphy, paper, binding—all combine to make a most attractive volume.

Run. There are two companies from this city, and in that regiment—one under command of Capt. Morgan, and the other under Command of Capt. Morgan, and the other under death in reference to the part taken by these companies, but as the regiment was under a most galling and destructive fire, we may expect to see a painful list of casualties when the facts are made known.

Capt. Morgan has telegraphed to his mother, Mrs. S. Morgan, (corer of Smithfield street and Diamond alley) as follows:

"I am well. Lieutenant Craig was wounded Lieut. Mathews was killed, or taken prisoner: Several of my men were killed, wounded and taken prisoners. B. W. Morgan, Capt. Co. F. 48th Pa. Vol."

Lieut. Mathews resided in this city, and his friends are exceedingly auxious to ascertain his fate.

Nothing has been heard from Capt. Foulk, but it is presumed he escaped unburt, as Capt. Morgan would have probably stated the fact if he had been injured.

The funct of the family of Pittsburghers, and great anxiety is exhibited among their friends here to learn the details, which will doubtless be received in a day or two.

Will the Federals be too late in taking possession of Kentucky?

The Southern Confederacy is a failure without Kentucky; they must have her to winter in; their crops are short, Kontucky's abundant; they will fight with the inspiration of thousand Federal trougs to prevent the rebels' from taking the State. If the Federals will hold the State, the rebels will be almost, or quite, in a state of starvation before spring. The Union men of Kentucky cannot, united, do what the Euderal Government has thus far failed to do, viz: Whip the South.
And mark my prediction, it will take one hundred thousand men, speedily thrown into the State, to prevent the rebels getting possession.
