A number of the above have taken out their papers, and will commence operations immediately. Some few, however, may decline to serve, as quite a number of the appointments were unsolicited.

The deputies are instructed to do their work thoroughly—to find out and return the name of every able-bodied man in the district—together with his age and occupation. Those who are positively known to be over forty-five or under eighteen are not to be returned; neither are those palpably unfit for duty; but where there is any doubt whatever as to the age or the physical ability to serve, the individual must be enrolled, and the questions of age and ability will be decided subsequently, by a Commissioner to be appointed for that purpose.

The deputies are also to make strict and careful inquiry as to the number of men who have enlisted in their several districts, since the war commenced. The names are to be taken down, together with the company and regiment to which the volunteer was attached. This is to be done; whether the party be dead or alive—whether he still be in the service or not. This will serve to show how many men we have already furnished for the war, and parties should be careful to give correct information in this, as in every other particular.

The enrollment must be completed about the 1st of September, as drafting will commence on the 4th of that month.

The enrollment made by our County Commissioners of course goes for nothing—and if half of what we hear be true, it must have been a very lame and deficient enrollment. It is unfortunate that there was so much haste in the matter, but the fault was not with our Commissioners. We hope the present enrollment will be thorough, and that old assessment-lists will not be depended on. Let every house be visited, and let the work be as thorough as possible.

Preparations for a Draft in Western Pennsylvania.

We have already announced the appointment of Alexander Murdoch, Esq., United States Marshal for Western Pennsylvania, as Superintendent for the Enrollment of the Militia, under the late order of the Secretary of War. This appointment was conferred by Governor Curtin, and includes the Western District, but the duties are so extensive, and the time so short, that Mr. Murdoch found it impossible to attend to the sub-appointments in the several counties, and he has appointed a Principal Deputy for each county, (excepting Allegheny,) who will choose the subordinates in the several wards, boroughs and townships of their respective counties. The following is a list of the Principals:

Armstrong—Capt A Craig.	Lawrence—J F Johnston.
Beaver—A G Henry.	Luzerne—Chas Miner.
Bedford—B De C Barclay.	Lycoming—De C L Lyon.
Blair—Capt A M Lloyd.	McKean and Cameron—

The above named Deputies have been notified to report forthwith at the office of the Superintendent in this city, for the purpose of being duly qualified to act, receive power to appoint their subordinates, obtain the necessary blanks, etc. The entire work of enrollment must be completed about the first of September.

Co. B, KIER RIFLES.—This company, which is to be commanded by Capt. Frank Vansgorder, is filling up rapidly, and will probably have the full complement again to-night. Those desiring to enlist in a good company, and receive an extra bounty of $10, would do well to call at the headquarters, Fourth street near Wood, and enroll their names. See advertisement in another column.

J. T. BENGOUGH, Esq., editor of the Fairmount Va. National, announces in the last issue of that paper that he has enlisted in the volunteer service of the United States. Mr. Bengough was connected with the press of this city for a number of years, and is well known by many of our citizens.

FROM YESTERDAY'S EVENING GAZETTE.

Return of Hon. Thomas M. Howe--Highly Important Information--The Quota of Allegheny county--The Question of "Credit" Definately Settled, etc.

Hon. Thomas M. Howe, Chairman of the County Executive Committee, has returned from Harrisburg, where he had a full and satisfactory conference with His Excellency, Governor Curtin, in relation to the number of men which Allegheny county is required to furnish under the late calls for troops. Several very difficult and perplexing questions were to be determined, and we are glad to announce that Mr. Howe's mission has been entirely successful.

Governor Curtin has assured the Committee that Allegheny county shall receive full credit for any excess of men which she may have furnished, not only under the call which immediately followed the reverses before Richmond, but also on the first call succeeding the enlistment of the three months men. In other words, in making up the quota of this county, all the men which we have sent into the field since the enlistment of the three months men, will be credited to us. If there be any excess under the first call, (and there certainly is,) well and good. If not, we must make up the deficiency. This is just as it should be, and just what our people desire.

Let us pass over the first call, and come to the second. Under this, we are to furnish our proportion of 300,000 men, and fill up the old regiments. The number allotted to us, exclusive of the number required for the old regiments, was 1500, and has been raised, of nine months men. (In explanation of the small number assessed upon us under this call, we may state that there was a mistake made, which has been rectified under the subsequent call.) As to the old regiments, Mr. Howe has ascertained that it will take 1500 men to complete them. From this, we deduct 133 men already mustered into the old regiments, which leaves 1,367 yet to furnish. Under present orders, we can recruit for the old regiments until the 1st of September, but no longer.

Now for the third call, or the draft. Under this order we are required to furnish 4,500 men, and but one week remains in which to recruit them, the time being limited to the 22d inst. Supposing our account to be square on the old (or first) call, then we have yet to furnish 5,867 men. To offset this, we have recruited, for three years, a large number of men, so that, by vigorous exertions, we may escape a draft altogether.

In the meantime, the United States Marshal, Mr. Murdoch, is making every preparation for a new enrollment, preparatory to a draft. The Committee inform us that the entire county will be mustered by townships, boroughs and wards, and an enrollment made of all subject to military duty. At the same time, the number of persons who have enlisted will be obtained, so far as it is possible to do so, that the Committee may have some satisfactory data as to the number of men already in the field from this county. And if a draft must come, the Governor is determined that it shall fall upon those wards, boroughs, townships or counties, where the people have not done their duty. This is highly important, and should serve to stimulate every district in Allegheny county to renewed exertions. Those townships, boroughs or wards, which have not furnished as many men as their population requires, will have to prepare for the draft. It will not fall upon those who have done their whole duty.

A word in reference to the bounty. The Committee are doing everything in their power to provide $50 bounty for every man, and will do so, should they receive the co-operation of the county authorities. Although not positively determined, we may say that financial arrangements are now in progress which will accomplish this end, and get rid of the legal difficulty in the way of a county appropriation or loan. At the same time, they appeal earnestly to all who have not yet contributed to the fund, to do so immediately. It is necessary to raise $20,000 more, at a very early period. Thousands of our wealthy citizens have not contributed a dollar. The farmers, many of whom are abundantly able, have not responded as they should. Let all come up to the work, or the draft will be sure to overtake some of them. The Committee are about to issue an appeal on this subject, and we hope they will speak loud enough, as it would seem that nothing but a thunderbolt would open some men's purses.

We cannot close this article without reminding the citizens of Allegheny county that they owe much, very much, to the members of the Committee for their exertions in placing our quota in the field. The Governor expressed himself highly pleased with the action of our people, and remarked that previous to the monster war meeting held here, the military spirit was dead—not only in the western part of the State, but in the eastern also; and he dates its revival from that meeting. This is saying a good deal for Allegheny county, and speaks volumes for the excellent management of our Executive Committee.

Presentations.

The citizens of Tarentum, on Friday night last, presented Capt. Humes and Lieut. Coulter, of the J. M. Porter Infantry, and Capt. Boyd and Lieut. Hemphill, of the Tarentum Infantry, each a handsome sword, as a token of their respect and confidence. The Rev. Simmons made the presentation speech, and the Rev. Ramsey responded in behalf of the officers of the companies. Brief addresses were then made by J. M. Porter, Esq., and the Rev. Bell, after which the meeting adjourned. These companies were both mainly recruited from Tarentum and its immediate vicinity, and compose, now, two hundred and sixteen men.

On Friday evening, Co. B, Clark Infantry, was the recipient of an elegant stand of colors, presented by the Allegheny Greys, (a home guard company, formerly commanded by Capt. Boisel, of the Infantry,) and the ladies who originally gave it to that company. Jas. M. Cooper, Esq., made the presentation address and Capt. Boisel responded in a happy vein. After the last speech, Jas. McCandless, Esq., made one even more effective, presenting Capt. B. with $100 to procure little comforts for his command. Then followed three cheers for the ladies, the Greys and Mr. McCandless.

On Saturday evening the Cass Infantry, Capt. Gast, were presented with a beautiful stand of colors by Messrs. James Reno and William Dill. The presentation speech was made by Rev. Mr. Chapman, and was responded to, very appropriately, by a member of the company. Mr. Dill also made the company a present of a purse of $25, for the purpose of subsisting the company while it remains here.

Capt. Henry Maxwell and First Lieutenant Thomas Maxwell, of the Watt and Butchers' Infantry, were each presented with an excellent and magnificent sword by their friends and the citizens of Allegheny, on Saturday afternoon, on Federal street, near the Diamond. Rev. Chapman presented the sword on behalf of the donors in a neat and patriotic speech, which was replied to by each of the recipients in a few graceful and well timed remarks.

Lieut. George W. Ahl was presented by his friends with a richly chased and finely mounted regulation sword, at the Hayesville Water Cure, about six o'clock on Saturday evening. Rev. W. B. Watkins, of New Brighton, presented the sword on behalf of the donors, which was responded to by Rev. J. J. Marks, for Lieut. Ahl.

Lieut. Robert Woodburn, of Co. A, Clark Infantry, has been presented with a beautiful sword and sash, by Mr. James Caldwell, dry goods merchant, of Allegheny, in whose employ Mr. Woodburn had been for many years.

Letter from Capt. Knap--Gallantry of Our Pittsburgh Boys at Cedar Mountain.

CAMP IN THE FIELD,
NEAR SLAUGHTER'S MOUNTAIN, Aug. 12.

Editors Gazette:—I feel it to be not only my duty, but my pleasure to testify, through your columns, as to the good conduct and gallantry of the Allegheny and Pittsburgh boys engaged with me in the late battle of the 9th. I will not enter into particulars of the engagement, as you have probably heard them.

I never heard of men standing up to their work better than did ours on Saturday. We were exposed for a long time to the concentrated fire of a rebel batteries, and, before leaving the field, to a sharp fire from the enemy's infantry.

My loss is ten killed and wounded, out of eighty-five men engaged. Two were killed, and one very seriously wounded. The remainder will probably recover. J. H. Sullivan, of South Pittsburgh, was badly wounded by a shell, but will probably get well. Corporal Robt. J. Baxter, of Pittsburgh, received a painful wound in the hip, but kept his post throughout the engagement. Lieuts. R. Geary, James D. McGill, and acting Lieut. James A. Dunlevy, all did nobly, and had many narrow escapes. Sergeants, Corporals, and privates all behaved well, and it would be unjust to particularize. Our loss in horses was large, amounting to seventeen shot, twelve of which were disabled and left on the field. Two of our caissons were disabled by the enemy's shell, and were necessarily abandoned, not, however, until all of the ammunition was expended. They were all recaptured the next day, with the exception of one half of a caisson.

We are again ready for action, but are sadly in want of men. We trust that Lieut. Atwell (now recruiting in your city) will be able to fill up the command in a few days.

You will receive a report of the killed, wounded and missing in Gen. Banks' corps soon.

The 46th and 109th Pennsylvania fought very gallantly, and suffered severely.

Yours, &c., J. M. KNAP,
Commanding Pennsylvania Battery.

Sword and Revolver Presentation to Lieuts. Marchand and Dilworth--Interesting Scene.

A large concourse of people gathered at Larimer's Station, Pennsylvania Railroad, on Friday evening, 15th inst., to witness the presentation of a sword, belt and sash, and revolver, to Lieut. S. S. Marchand, of the Keystone Infantry, Captain J. M. Bayne, and sword, belt and sash to F. M. Dilworth, 2d Lieutenant of the same company.

Lieut. Marchand served during the three months' term, and now again has left a large practice as physician to enter the service. He takes with him a large number of most excellent young men. The citizens wishing to show their high regard for him personally, and their interest in the company with which he is connected, made this presentation.

The articles are of the best quality, and have suitable inscriptions.

The presentation speech was made by Rev. A. G. Wallace of the United Presbyterian Church, who has taken an active part in arousing the people and in recruiting companies ever since the war began, and whose congregation has given nearly all its young men to the army. His remarks were truly excellent and appropriate, and in that deep and affecting manner characteristic of the speaker.

Capt. Bayne replied in behalf of the Lieutenants in a very happy speech. His modesty and mildness won the hearts of the people, and his stirring words nerved them for the sacrifice and sufferings which this holy cause demands.

No unpleasant incident occurred, and, altogether, it was one of the most pleasant and interesting scenes it has fallen our lot to witness for a long time.

Dr. B. R. MARCHAND, Chairman.
JNO. GEORGE, Jr., Secretary.

Interesting Letter from Burnside's Army--The Pennsylvania Reserves.

We have just received an interesting letter, under date of August 12th, from our correspondent, W. W. T., a member of the 45th Pennsylvania regiment, under Gen. Burnside. He states that at Acquia Creek the 45th was ordered to relieve the 95th New York, doing picket duty between that point and Fredericksburg. We quote as follows:

"It is plainly to be seen that the rebels have been checkmated by the moves in this direction, and it does look like the beginning of the end.

"This railroad (from the Potomac to Fredericksburg) is kept very busy just now. Troops and stores are constantly going forward. On Monday, the 11th inst., three splendidly equipped batteries went up. On the following day the Pennsylvania Reserves, who won so bright a name in the battle before Richmond, were moving towards the scene of action. [This is very important information, as it confirms the report that the Reserves had left the Peninsula and joined Burnside's forces.]

"Our camp is delightful. We have plenty of pure water, with a sufficiency of country produce, etc. The inhabitants are Union people, from necessity, but not from choice. Pope's order hits hard but works admirably. Promising to keep you posted of the doings of the grand army, now that I am near the field of action, I remain yours, &c., W. W. T."

Kier Rifles, Company B.

A few days ago we published a call for volunteers to join the S. M. Kier Rifles. The alacrity with which that call was responded to is surprising. The company was filled in a very short time, and filled, too, by the very material that soldiers can be made of—men of intelligence, high character and vigorous constitutions. The great anxiety manifested to join this company has encouraged its projectors to organize a second company, of like character. It is really quite cheering to the cause of the Union to see the kind of men who are enrolling themselves. Such men enter the army from a conscientious conviction of duty, and not from any spirit of adventure, and such men can be relied on in any emergency.

Company B will be commanded by Captain Frank Van Gorder. The First Lieutenant is J. B. Sackett. Both of these officers are well known in this community as men of intelligence, high social and moral character, and true courage and agreeable manners. The character of the officers is always a sure index to the character of the privates. Men will of course prefer being under those who at home are known to have worth and position, and who are certain to see to the well being of all under their charge. We cordially commend this company as offering rare inducements to those wishing to serve their country. It will also be remembered that this company still continues to pay a very liberal Captain's bounty in addition to the other bounties already offered. Capt. Van Gorder, on Second street, Lieut. Sackett or Wm. Vankirk, Esq., at Bradley's stove warehouse, corner Wood and Second streets, will give all information desired.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

WE take great pleasure in recommending the Rev. R. E. Williams, who is engaged as a teacher in the Academy of Science and Languages, Allegheny. Mr. Williams is a graduate of Princeton College, N. J., also of the Western Theological Seminary—is an excellent scholar and a practical and successful instructor. FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18, 1862.

PREPARATIONS FOR A GREAT BATTLE.

Everything from Pope's army indicates preparations for a desperate struggle. Information from the best sources confirms the belief that the rebels are pouring heavy reinforcements into Gordonsville, by railroad, from Richmond. Some estimates place their number, already raised there, at one hundred thousand, and it is generally believed that, having found it impossible to pursue Gen. McClellan for want of transportation, they have resolved to attack Gen. Pope before arrangements to support him by our other armies shall have been completed.

Gen. Pope holds the line of the Rapidan, along the north bank of which his whole army, with the exception of Banks' corps, is massed. His own headquarters are moved to the front, and the general conviction on the ground is that a speedy activity is probable. The enemy throws his pickets up to the south side of the Rapidan, and occasional shots are exchanged across the river.

THURLOW WEED.

Thurlow Weed is understood to have received the renewal of his informal appointment abroad. He is expected to sail for Europe shortly. He has been in town for a day or two.

COL. COROORAN.

The Corcoran fever pervades everywhere. Crowds have been thronging his hotel ever since his arrival, to see the noted Irishman. He has been called for speeches several times as regiments passed by. The President has made him a Brigadier General and dated his commission back to the date of his capture at Bull Run. His old regiment, which he was leading at Bull Run when taken prisoner, is to accompany him to New York and participate in the grand demonstration there. A grand dinner is to be given to him to-night, with a serenade, speeches, etc.

THE CORCORAN DEMONSTRATION.

The Corcoran demonstration to-night was an immense affair. The avenue along the whole front of Willard's hotel, and almost from the corner of the Treasury building down to the lower side of Fourteenth street was filled with one vast mass of humanity. The street cars had to stop, and it was impossible to get through the street at all, even on foot.

When Col. Corcoran's old regiment, the 69th New York, came on the ground the enthusiasm was perfectly uproarious, and when Col. Cocoran himself appeared on the stage the cheering and excitement were beyond all bounds.

Col. Corcoran's declaration, that this war might be made an excellent school, and that he undertook to say there would be no interruption when Europe saw the new six hundred thousand come forward. If there was the voice of such meetings as this it could not fail to be interpreted as meaning that we would take a hand.

Col. Wilcox carried the crowd away with him by declaring that thus far this had been a brainless war; that our coast expeditions had been objectless and had accomplished nothing; that the whole war had been mere blind energy on the part of the people and plundering by the contractors.

Col. Corcoran is to proceed to New York with his old 69th regiment, and he promises soon to be in the field again. His appointment as Brigadier General will, it is thought, be of immense advantage to recruiting among the Irish. His declarations, however, about the readiness the Irishmen would evince to enter in a war with Great Britain, might possibly lead to trouble.

MAYOR HATCH,

of Cincinnati, has been here asking the Administration to except policemen from the operations of the drafting laws. He gets but little encouragement.

Further from Baton Rouge.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A letter from a surgeon reports that he saw the dead bodies of 83 rebel soldiers in one small cornfield at Baton Rouge.

Lieut. Norcross, of the 30th Massachusetts regiment, arose from a sick bed, and joined his company in the thickest of the fight, and with his own hand saved a field piece, about to be taken by the enemy.

The rebel wounded state that Gen. Ruggles was killed. One of the rebels stated their loss at 800.

Nim's battery saved the day, when two-thirds of its members were on the sick list.

The secession residents of Baton Rouge fired on our wounded as they were being brought in. Their houses we e subsequently pulled down by our troops.

Gen. Breckinridge, on the morning of the fight, made a speech, promising the men to have his bands playing in the State House at nine o'clock a. m.

From Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 17.—Two bridges on the Kentucky and Edgefield Railroad were burned to-day by the rebels, and one over the Red river. The track was reported torn up this side of Tullahoma.

Two Federal couriers were captured by the guerrillas, nine miles South of the city, last night. Their dispatches and horses were taken from them, when they were released. They report a large force, under Stearn, north of Murfreesboro. Col. Miller made an armed reconnoissance towards Gallatin, last night, to ascertain whether this information is correct.

Morgan has decamped in the direction of Hartsville.

All railroad communication with Nashville is cut off, but telegraphic communication continues uninterrupted.

From Kansas City.

LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 18.—Owing to the presence of a large body of rebels, in Jackson county, Mo., and neighborhood, and the threatened attack on Kansas City, the Provost Marshal of this city, under orders from headquarters of the Department of Kansas, had ordered the citizens en masse to enroll and arm themselves for military duty. Any one failing to do so will be arrested. All business is mostly suspended, and it is thought there will be a general compliance with the order.

The Federal troops, lately composing the Indian Expedition, with the exception of three Indian regiments, are supposed to be at Fort Scott, or marching north thence.

Defeat of the Rebels in Arkansas--700 Prisoners Taken.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 15.—Reports from White river say that Gen. Hovey's division had a fight on Monday, near Clarendon, Arkansas. The Federal forces consisted of six regiments of infantry, and the rebel force of eight regiments of cavalry and a part of Gen. Hindman's brigade. The battle raged fiercely for some time, with destructive effect on both sides, but resulted in the defeat of the rebels and the capture of 700 prisoners. No further particulars have been received.

Guerrillas in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 18.—Rumors, apperently well founded, indicate the occupation of several new ponts in Kentucky by rebel guerrillas, who exhibit great activity. The names of the places and numbers of forces are withheld, by order of the military authorities. There is considerable excitement in the city from these rumors.
