Pittsburgh Female College. The Fall Term of the College will commend this morning at 9 o'clock. Having so fre quently presented the claims of the College, we will not now dwell upon them; nor does i seed any special recommendations from us. As it regards building, equipment, and fac ulty, it will certainly be difficult to find a better. So far as these are concerned, there are but few institutions which have claims upon the communities where they are located, equal to those possessed by the College.

to those possessed by the College.

Our main design is to urge upon all the daty, sye the imperative duty, of educating their daughters. Many, and possibly some who have the least occasion to urge it, will plead the stringency of the times; but a few months may bring about a vast change. Should this not be the case, the very pressure of the times is a strong reason for the course indicated. It is neither true economy, nor true patriotism, to doom the child to a life of ignorance, to heard up for it wealth, which one of these fearful crisis may sweep away in a day. Far better for the child to give it an aducation and no wealth; than wealth and no education. And there is no one even in moderate circumstances who may-net, with a little economy, give his daughter an education, and thus leave here reliance for future life, and fit her for its duties.

We trust that all who have daughters to educate will give the College a trial, feeling assured that every reasonable expectation will be met.

The Boye Walker, Mr. W. H. Donaldson, the daring rope walker, performed a feat yesterday afternoon in walking a rope stretched from the Theatre to the reof of the Daily Post building, which was at once daring and perilous. He appeared on the roof of the latter building at 5 p. m., and, with pole in hand, commenced his dangerous journey in sight of thousands of upturned faces, both on Wood and Fifth streets. At first he appeared to tread slow and cautiousity, but as he progressed he seemed to gain courage, and when he reached the middle of the rope he was perfectly at ease, and performed some trapero business that fairly astonished the frightened spectators. This finished, he placed himself in pesition on the rope again and proceeded to the end of his journey with safety. In the svening, at the Theatre, he walked a tight wire from the back of the stage to the third tier. This seemed equally as dangerous as his afternoon walk, from the fact that he was blindfelded and enveloped in a sack before he got on the wire. Mr. Donaldson is the same gentleman who walked a rope over the Schuyl-kill river at Philadelphia the past sumner, and startled the spectators by purposely falling into the water below on several occasions. We understand he will walk the rope again on Wednesday afternoon, and will appear in pantonime basiness Mr. Donaldson is ably assisted by Mr. Harry Gibert.

THE COMIC ESCLISH GRANNAR .- This amusing little volume, (which we believe is a reprint of an English work with the same title, which appeared several years ago,) will quite agreeably diversify the usual seriousness that besets the study of Grammar, when the ordinary text-books alone are put into the hands of the student. Whether it will facilitate his progress, may be matter of doubtful disputation among grave professors. Still, as physically as the student, whether it will facilitate his progress, may be matter of doubtful disputation among grave professors. Still, as physically as the student, whether it will facilitate his progress, may be matter of doubtful disputation among grave professors. Still, as physically as the stumbling-blocks of orthography, stymology, syntax and procody are found to be of exceedingly difficult digestion to most young folks. Certainly we should expect the Comic Grammar to be immensely more popular with these, at least, than the other once. It is published by Dick & Fittgerald, New York, and is for sale at H. The city is in a blaze of excitement tonight. The citisens are enrolling themselves and making great preparations. A correspondent of the Journal writes that the robel
o'clock on Saturday. Whilst there they destroyed all the indictments for treason returned by the grand jury at the last term of o'clock on Saturday. Whilst there they destroyed all the indiciments for treason returned by the grand jury at the last term of the Court, over a hundred in number. They are mutilated records of the Court, so that no traces of such indictments are left in the State. The horses and muies and other property of Union men have been stolen.

CASE OF DANIEL A. BOYD. Dr. G. H. KETEER.—I take pleasure in making this voluntary statement in favor of a medic no pre-pared by you called "Likdeer's Blood Searcher." I had suffered for five years with Scrofula, which roke out on my head and forehead so as to disfigure and flosh se as to expose a fearful sore. The disease on my head went so far that several small pieces of and had given up all hope of ever getting well, I had tried reveral skillful physicians and they did me no good. In September last, 1261, I was induced to try "Lindser's Impac to Blood Seaschen" ! very had in my arms and legs. The Blood Searcher also cured the rheumatism. I am now a well men, over forty years of age, and I feel as suple and years as I did when I was twenty, and have increased in me I un whom I was twenty, and have increased in weight twenty pounds. I would also state that the disease in my forehead was so had that whom he stooped and lifted anything heavy, the blood rim out of the sore. Dr. Keyser had a photograph taken of me by Mr. Caroo. the artist, forey beauty. me by Mr. Carge, the artist, after I began to get well. It does not show my appearance as bad as it was before I commenced taking the medicine. You can see the photograph, our of which is now in me which was made before Dr. Keyser comm ing it. Although it helped mesome, I did not re-cover fast until I got the kind made by Dr. Keyser himself. One bottle of his did me more good than two of the old. I believe it is a great deal stronger and better. I have recommended the Blood Searchand I believe it has helped the whole of them.
