The Right Talk for the Hour.

A number of Governors of the New England States were in-Providence, R. I. I last week, at the commencement of Brown University. Of course they were called on for speeches, and were not found wanting in the spirit, intelligent patriotism, ing in the spirit, intelligent patriotism, ng in the spirit, intelligent patriotism, becoming the sons of the noble States of as well as all over the South:

Invasion of Pennsylvania.

We need only refer our readers to our telegraphic columns, this morning, to impress upon them the propriety of urging forward the organization of our citizens into companies, battalions and regiments, for the purpose of military drill. It will be seen that the Governor is prepared to furnish arms, to captains of companies, as soon as organized.

Let our citizens organize and drill. Should the seeming necessity pass, no harm will result from this precaution.
