The citizens of our twin sister across t iver are doing well, but can do better. Meetings have been held in all the wards, and mil ings have been held in all the wards, and military organizations formed in most cases, with fair-prospects of increasing to the maximum military standard.

We observe that, where the old "Home-Guard" organizations have been kept up with most spirit, the present militis hovement has received the best impulse. The old "Allegiany Greys" have re-organized under the militia law, and have 106 members enrolled—the first full company. militis law, and have 100 members enrolled—aroused. A stirring meeting was held last

They were out on drill, last night, and will doubtless, be speedily filled.

It is to be hoped that at least ten full companies will be reported from Allegheny, within the week, when a regimental organization will be effected, and the men placed in a condition ready for instant service—should such be necessary, within the Keystone State.

One of these, the 47th Virginia, has een sent there by the rebel War Department to recruit. It entered the service full, has been once recruited up to the maximum number again, and is now once more down to two undred and sixteen. Sending regiments in this condition back to recruit is precisely what our War Department has persistently refused to do.

The former movement is most probably. The Northern Central Railroad and telegraph are still safe.

A number of appointees under the new Tax Law are here representing that the pay of these officers under the law is so small that they cannot accept, nuless the Department pledges to urge strendously upon Congress at its next session an increase of their pay.
