Train Stopped by Fire.

FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

ecial Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette. WASHINGTON, Sept. 25, 1862. THE DESTRUCTION OF THE U. S. ARMY PRO-PERTY AT BRISTOW STATION. The statement recently published and credited, that a large amount of U. S. Army preperty was left by Gen. Banks, when he was compelled to fall back frem Bristow Station te Centreville, prior to the retreat on the Washington fortifications, was in the main incorrect. One hundred and sixty wagon loads of ammunition, and all the sick and On Wednesday morning, a train on the Cleveland and Pittaburgh Railroad, from this city, was detained about one hour and a half between Ravenna and Atwater, by a destructive fire which was consuming the immense piles of railroad fire-wood piled up by the side of the track. The wood probably took fire from some locometive sparks, which the high winds soon fanned into a fame. About six hundred cords were burned, and wen the cars arrived the whole track was covered with fire. The train waited until the fames had lessened somewhat, when the windows were all closed and the train dashed through pletely destroyed as the time and circum-

Surgeon General Hammond has just re turned from the battle field between Manassas and Bull Run. He reports that our people have buried three thousand rebels, who were left dead and unburried on the field by their friends, notwithstanding the fact that the latter held the field after that engagement He adds that there yet remain there six hundred more rebel corpses to be interred. These interments are under the direction of our medical department, and are in addition to those made by the rebel army previous to leaving for its short lived campaign in Maryland, which must have been There would seem to be little doubt therefore that the rebels killed outnumbered ours that battle.

REPORTED OCCUPATION OF LEESBURG BY OUR The story of our occupation of Lessburg appears to have grown out of a reconcissance sent out last Tuesday from Sigel's headquar ters, which approached near the town that evening, and the next morning made a dash into it. They found some military hospitals there with sick and wounded, but no other indications of the enemy.

THE REBELS CONCERTRATING AT WINCHESTER confirm the former supposition that they are concentrating their forces at Winchester, with a view to making a vigorous stand there. As matters now look, if we pursue an aggressive policy and attempt to attach them again, we will have to attack them at Winchester. They are bringing up their supplies, and there is every indication that they are preparing to fortify Winchester and hold it as a base for future operations.

Passengers from Louisville, who left that city yesterday afternoon, report that all apprehensions of an attack by General Bragghad vanished. A large number of the secesh sympathisers were yesterday at work, on compulsion in the trenches. General Buell's advance guard was within twelve miles of Louisville yesterday, at three o'clock, and the army will reach that point if desirable to-day. General Bragg is moving sasward, and the presumption is that he perceives his advance into Kentucky a fallure, and will make the test of his way out of the State. The question is as to whether he can get out.
