I last wrote to you. Our encampment is the same. We have the same round of camp and plotet duties. On last Thursday we antici-pated an onlivening change, but were disap-pointed. Part of Portor's corps made a tour scross the Potomac. Heavy firing was heard during the day, but no battle was fought. The robals were found in considerable num-bers, but receded before our tropps for some sight or ten milies. This was evidently to draw our men into some trap. In one place ten dead robals were found, and some eight
