TUESDAY, MORNING, NOV. 4. editor says:

"Allegheny county, it is matter of notoristy, obtained credit for all the men she sent into Virginia and New York regiments, and we are assured Washington county was allowed for all the voluntoers she furnished in home and foreign regiments. This was also the case, we presume, in other counties.
Why, than, was not Greene county credited for the men she furnished? Was it because of the unfaltering attachment of her people to the principles and organization of the Damocratic party? We fear it was, and that the facts, when they are developed, as they will be in due season, will confirm this view of the subject." be in que scason, whit counts that Allegheny stubject.

It is a mitter of notoristy that Allegheny county did assignt credit for a single man sent into regiments or organizations outside the facts. When the Commissioner published his official figures, the number in foreign organizations, (some 600, if we remember rightly), was deducted from the quota, and not credited thereon. The order of the Governor was vary pointed and very positive, that no credit should be allowed for men serving in organizations whose officers had not been commissioned by him, and if any county has received should be allowed for men nerving an examination whose officers had not been commissioned by him, and if any county has received such credit (which we do not believe) it has been done in violation of orders. But the draft is doubtless "a sore affliction "for certain gentismen whose "attachment to the principles of the Democratic party" is of a much stronger nature than their attachment to the government which has so summarily to the government which has so summarily to the government which has so summarily in a tracked? them. The "fears" of the editor of the Messayer, that the draft in Greene county was in punishment for voting the Democratic ticket, are as silly as they are groundless.

Rurgiaries in Allegheny. Burgiaries in Allegheny. Allogheny police have been much pusseled of late, in consequence of a series of petsety burglaries, perpetrated in various parts of the city. The police have been keeping a sharp look out for the thieves, but as yet they have been unsuccessful is their afforts to discover them. Other shops will no doubt be visited, and the workman would do well to look up their toels.
